COOLIDGE HOLDS LEAD

Fargo, Nov. 5.—Returns from 551 precincts out of 2,160 in North Dakota, for president, give Coolidge 58,302; LaFollette 38,810; Davis 8,608; Foster 101.

Returns from 838 precincts for governor, give Halvorson 52,168; Sorlie 42,477.

Returns from 250 precincts out of 749 in the second congressional district, for congressman, give Hall 14,346; Nye 9,653; Freerks 102.

Returns from 75 precincts out of 749 precincts in the second congressional district for short term congressmen give Hall 2,911; Nye 2,665.

Returns from 188 precincts out of 2,160 in North Dakota for supreme court judge give Burk 10,003; Fisk 5,997.

Fargo, Nov. 5.—Returns from 583 precincts out of 2,160 in North Dakota, for Governor, give Halvorson 41,717. Sorlie 31,820.

Burke has a two to one lead over Fisk in the race for supreme court judgeship, 66 precincts showing 4,069 votes for Burke and 2,021 for Fisk.

Initiated measure, the Gunderson Tax Bill which advocates a 25 per cent reduction of all state taxes based on the 1923 revenues, stands a fair chance of becoming law according to early returns from 106 precincts out of 2,160. These precincts, scattered over the state, show 5,337 votes for the measure and 6,849 against with a heavy rural vote yet to be heard from. The passage of the bill is in sight as the vote so far received is largely from the urban cities.

COOLIDGE VOTE

Returns from 577 precincts out of 2,160 in North Dakota for president, give Coolidge 46,450; LaFollette 26,271; Davis 7,396; Foster 50.

Holds Lead

Halvor Halvorson, Democratic candidate for Governor, who also received the support of Republicans opposed to the Nonpartisan League, has a lead over Arthur G. Sorlie, league candidate, when 472 precincts out of the state 2,160 gave him 34,721, Sorlie 24,138. Sorlie, however, was expected to gain throughout the day as returns from the Third Congressional District, western North Dakota, his stronghold came in.

President Coolidge continued to hold his lead over Senator LaFollette in North Dakota at noon today, when returns from 577 of the State's 2,160 precincts gave him 46,450 votes as against 26,271 for the Wisconsin Senator. These returns were almost wholly from the Coolidge strongholds. A heavy snow in the northwest and western parts of the state, LaFollette territory, slowing up returns.

The tax law lost ground when additional precincts from Cass county were reported. Returns from 134 precincts out of the State 2,160 gave, For 6726, Against 7964.

Returns from 94 precincts out of 586 in the first congressional district for Congressman; give Burtness 6,439; Welford, 2,177. Returns from 176 precincts out of 749 in the second congressional district for Congressman give Hall 9848; Nye 6388.

Returns from 26 precincts out of 825 in the third congressional district for Congressman give Sinclair 1,184; Johnson 967.

Returns from 52 precincts out of 749 precincts in the second congressional district for short term Congressman give Hall 2,245; Nye 1,184.

However in returns from 98 precincts out of 825 of avowed LaFollette territory the President also secured a majority, receiving 7,472, LaFollette 5,185. These reports were from cities and towns in the third congressional district.

Fargo, Nov. 5.—Sixty-six precincts of the State's 2,160, give for: SUPREME COURT JUDGE Burke 4,069; Fisk 2,021.

TAX LAW—For 5,337; Against 6,849.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR—Maddock 10,946; Paulsen 2,248.

SECRETARY OF STATE—Byrnes 2,058; Shipley 2,027.

Forty-five precincts give: ATTORNEY GENERAL—Shafer 3,508; Thoresen 2,421.

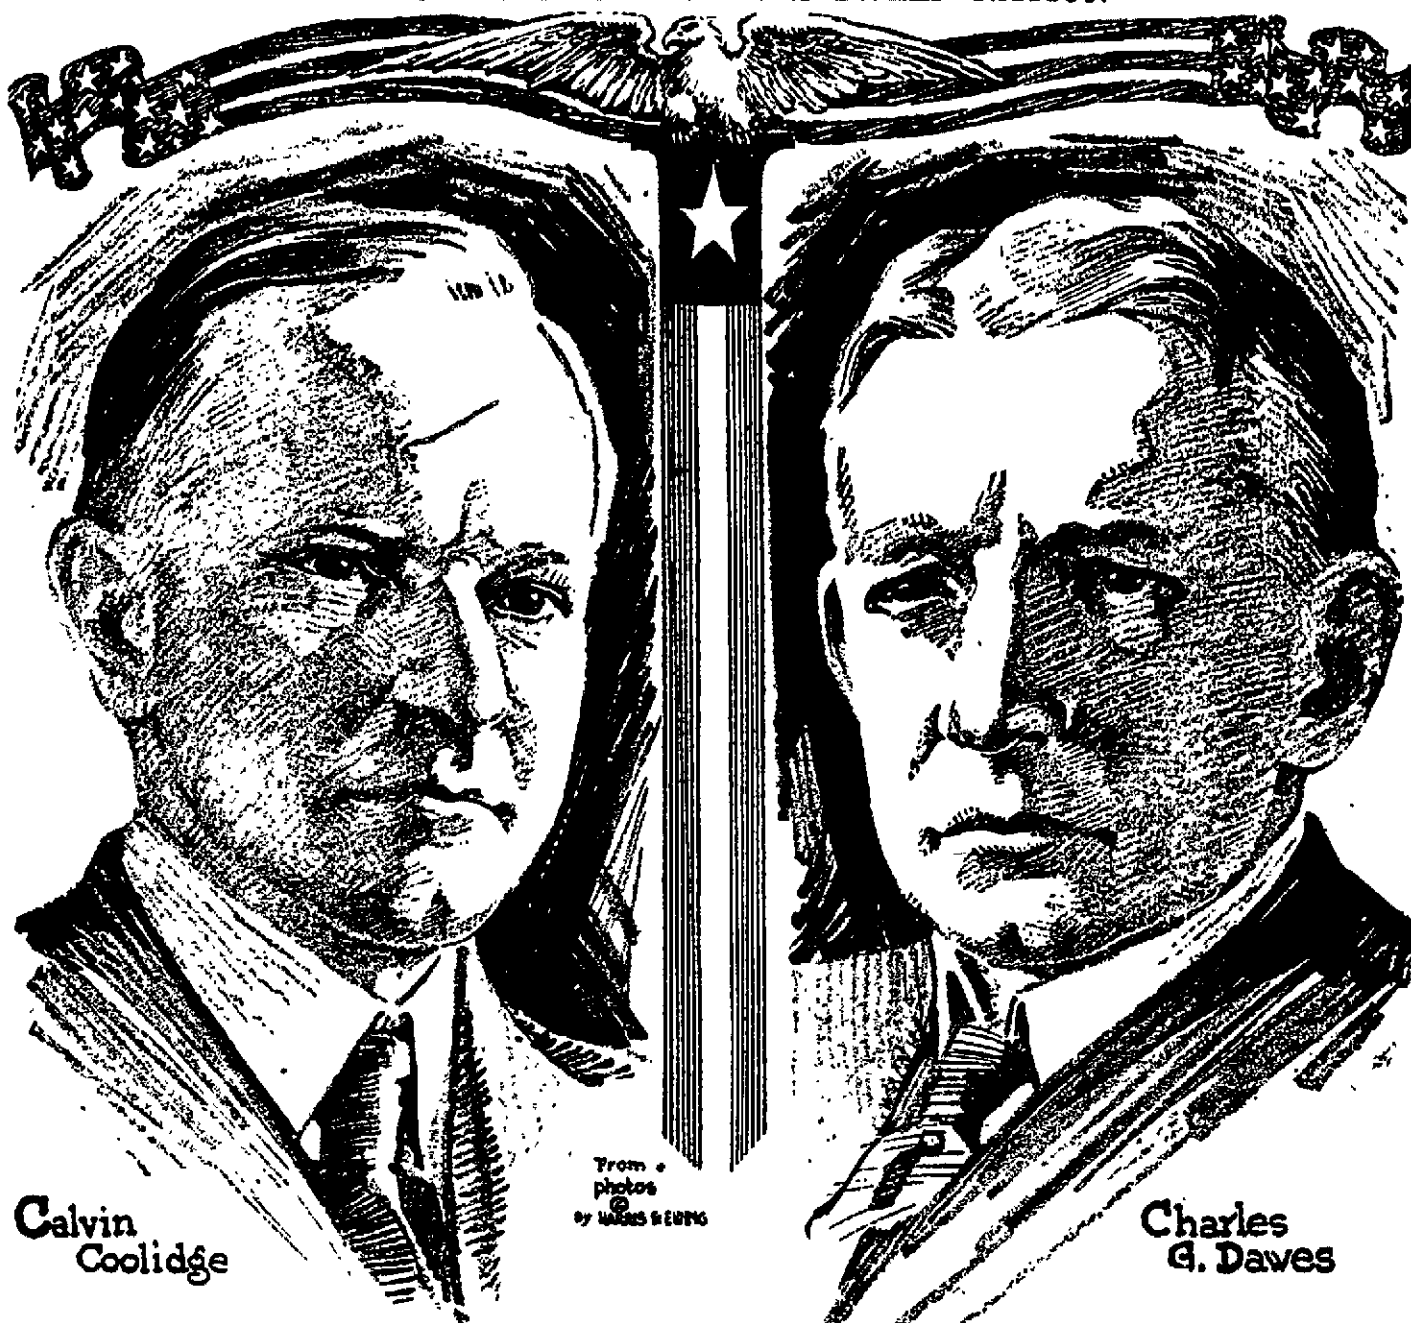

Forty-five precincts give: INSURANCE COMMISSIONER—Olness 1,799; Hooper 2,094.

Forty-five precincts give: COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE AND LABOR—Kitchen 3,500; Church 2,636.

Fifteen precincts give: RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS—Harding 788; McDonnell 786; Milhollan 679; Byrne 968; Hadley 843; Kibler 854.

With slightly more than one third of the state's, 2160 precincts unofficially this afternoon President Coolidge increased his lead over Bobt. (Continued on page 8)

RETURNS FROM STATES PILE UP LEAD FOR PRESIDENT; HOLDING HARDING LEAD

Vote in Not Sufficient to Fix Complexion of Next House — Republicans Make Some Gains

New York, Nov. 5.—With returns from many states still incomplete, President Coolidge appears to have been elected over his two opponents by a rolling tide of ballots mounting up toward the Harding landslide of 1920. But the returns still were insufficient early today to show whether he will have a working majority of republicans in congress.

Little more than half the senate and house contests had been finally recorded with the results so far showing a net republican gain of a dozen representatives and probably three or four senators. The bugaboo of throwing the presidential election into congress was chased away by the rapidity of the Coolidge lead, state after state either fell into the Coolidge column or gave seemingly unmistakable evidence of doing their best to swell his lead as returns continued to come in.

Davis lost Kentucky on the face of incomplete returns, although Cox had carried it against Harding in 1920. The same returns indicated he had brought into the democratic fold two of the states taken away by Harding.

SMITH WINS IN NEW YORK FOR GOVERNOR

Coolidge - Dawes Have State
By More Than 820,000
Majority

New York, Nov. 5.—(By the A. P.)—Coolidge and Dawes swept the empire state in the election yesterday on the basis of incomplete returns by a plurality of approximately 820,000 but Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democrat, demonstrated personal popularity by winning the gubernatorial nomination over Theo. Roosevelt, Republican, by a plurality of approximately 112,000. President Coolidge total vote in state with 401 districts out of 7,563 missing was 1,750,281 as compared with 990,954 for John Davis and 440,730 for Senator LaFollette. The vote outside of New York City, with 200 districts missing was Coolidge 1,134,331; Davis 447,922; LaFollette 169,193.

The vote in New York City with 93 districts missing was Coolidge 615,940; Davis 482,597; LaFollette 277,537. Governor Smith, total vote with 304 districts out of 7,663 missing, was 1,548,696 as compared with 1,435,123 for Roosevelt the vote outside of New York City with 354 districts missing was Smith 670,984; Roosevelt 1,082,313; the vote in New York City, the Governor's home town was Smith 877,622; Roosevelt 406,110 with 150 districts missing, on the face of incomplete returns Seymour Lowman of Chemung, Republican was leading Lieutenant Governor George R. Lunn of Schenectady, by approximately 40,000 scattered returns showed that Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp of Syracuse, Republican candidate for secretary of state, was leading Secretary James A. Hamilton of New York.

Without Regret
New York, Nov. 5.—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the Presidency, in a statement issued today, accepted the outcome of the election without any regret or bitterness, and said it was his highest hope that the administration of President Coolidge may prove successful and beneficial to the country.

Wires Mrs. Coolidge
New York, Nov. 5.—Ellen B. Davis, wife of John W. Davis, telegraphed Mrs. Calvin Coolidge today a message of congratulation on her husband's victory. Mrs. Davis said: "Please let me congratulate you on your husband's victory."

Missouri, Nov. 5.—(By the A. P.)—The St. Louis Post Dispatch which supported Davis today conceded that President Coolidge had carried Missouri and would have a total plurality of approximately 55,000.

Expresses Simple Thanks
Washington, Nov. 5.—President Coolidge, having received a vote of confidence from American voters, today expressed his simple thanks as one of his acts after his election was assured.

Concedes McMaster Election
Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 5.—U. S. G. Sherr, Democratic candidate for United States Senator from South Dakota, conceded the election of Governor W. R. McMaster, his Republican opponent, shortly after noon today. At that time McMaster was leading by 15,000 with more than half the state heard from.

Davis' Statement
New York, Nov. 5.—The text of the Davis statement follows, the results of the election and the decisive character renders explanation unnecessary, without any vain regrets or bitterness and it is my earnest hope that the administration of President Coolidge may prove successful and beneficial to the country.

"So far as I am personally concerned, I am unshaken in my faith in the principles and ideals professed by the Democratic party. They will never lack defenders, to those who supported me so loyally throughout the campaign I am more grateful than I can say, and I am glad (Continued on page 8)

FRAZIER'S CLAIMS

Fargo, Nov. 5.—"Bob LaFollette will carry North Dakota by 10,000" Roy Frazier, acting campaign manager for the Wisconsin Senator declared reading unofficial returns this morning which gave President Coolidge a lead of approximately 20,000 with about one fourth of the state reported.

Fargo, Nov. 5.—President Coolidge will without question carry North Dakota, L. B. Hanna, state Coolidge manager told the Associated Press early this morning when informed that the President has a lead of 17,757 over LaFollette, when 498 of the state's 2,160 precincts had been counted.

"Returns that have come in so far," said Mr. Hanna, show that Coolidge and Dawes will receive North Dakota's five electoral votes. True the returns from the west, the LaFollette stronghold, are not in, but I am reasonably sure that they will not give the Wisconsin senator a large enough majority to overcome this lead. The help of the earnest people of North Dakota in both the towns and farms have made the wonderful victory possible.

HALL LEADS

Thomas Hall, Republican, continued to lead the way in the second North Dakota Congressional race over Gerald P. Nye, Progressive, when 100 precincts from the district, 749 had reported the vote stood Hall 6,339; Nye 4,686. M. C. Freerks, Nonpartisan, was a very poor third, receiving only 33 votes.

Hall also led in the short term contest to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Republican George Young, Republican. The vote 49 precincts, Hall 2,012; Nye 1,516.

Bartness Safe
O. B. Bartness, Republican whose election was conceded by Walter Welford, Democratic early today, continued to pile up a large majority. Returns from 67 precincts out of 585, gave Bartness 5,883; Welford 1,368. James H. Sinclair, Progressive, who also was granted victory this morning by his opponent R. A. Johnson, Democrat in the third district was leading by a comfortable margin. (Continued on page 8)

HOW TRIBUNE GETS RETURNS

The Tribune, in obtaining election returns, is cooperating with other Associated Press papers in North Dakota. Bismarck is a strategic center for the receipt of returns from 12 counties. Daily papers in other sections of the state gather returns for their "strategic" centers. Compilations are made from returns given by these centers.

Effort is made to obtain election returns as quickly as possible. North Dakota being covered completely by the system. There is no politics in it, the newspapers endeavoring to ascertain the results as quickly as possible regardless of who wins.

The Tribune has installed a special lease wire of the Associated Press for the purpose of facilitating its collection of election returns, both state and national.

BAND NETTED ABOUT $500

Juvenile Band Is Benefitted
By the Election Party

A big crowd of Bismarck people enjoyed the election party and vaudeville show staged at the city auditorium last night by the Association of Commerce for the benefit of the Juvenile Band fund. A. F. Bradley, secretary, estimated that $500 was cleared by the show.

The crowd which attended was estimated at from 750 or more. Many remained throughout the two vaudeville shows and heard the returns which were furnished by The Tribune and the Western Union. The Tribune did not display returns, as usual, desiring to help the Association of Commerce in its effort for the Juvenile Band. The crowd seemed also to appreciate having the opportunity to see the returns while comfortably seated in a warm building.

Coolidge's Friend Is Defeated

Boston, Mass., Nov. 5.—James Lucy, of Northampton, the shoe-maker friend of President Coolidge was defeated for State Representative in the first Hampshire district, the vote being Lucy, Republican $2,316, O'Shea Democratic 3,509.

President Coolidge carried his home city of Northampton by a vote of 3,428 to 1,860 for Davis and 713 for LaFollette. In Ward 2, his home ward, the vote was Coolidge 928, Davis 385, LaFollette 90.

FINDS BOARD MAY REJECT AN ABSENT BALLOT

Judge Jansonius Hands Down
Decision in Case Raised
Here Yesterday

CANNOT INTERFERE

Court Holds Aggrieved Parties Have an Opportunity
To Contest Election

Fifteen absent voters' ballots were rejected in the Fifth Ward, Bismarck, by the election board, on the grounds that they were not legally entitled to vote.

The election board made its decision after an appeal had been made to District Judge Fred Jansonius by E. S. Allen, candidate for states attorney, to restrain the board from refusing to count absent voters' ballots, the court holding he could not interfere with the discretionary power of the board. Most of those rejected were ballots of people alleged to have moved away from Bismarck, and to have abandoned this city as their residence.

The atmosphere was tense around this polling place when ballots were counted, with deputy sheriffs and policeman present, there was no opportunity for a fight to grow out of the bitterness.

Discretion was placed by the legislature first of all with election boards, to determine whether or not absent voters' ballots offered are legal, and the action of the election boards may be brought to issue in an election contest, Judge Fred Jansonius of district court held in the last-minute law suit brought during the voting here yesterday.

The court quashed a writ issued early yesterday afternoon forbidding the election boards from rejecting absent voters' ballots, after a hearing which lasted from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. The suit was brought by E. S. Allen, candidate for states attorney, against election boards of the Fourth and Fifth wards. Defendants named were: Fourth ward board, John Sundquist, E. K. Leonard, N. F. Johanna; Fifth ward, Norman Flow, Michael O'Connor, E. G. Ribbel.

Allen, in his petition, an affidavit by E. G. Patterson and arguments by William Langer and S. L. Nuchols alleged the board intended to refuse to count absent voters' ballots, including those of Frank Allen, brother of (Continued on page 8)

BURLEIGH COUNTY AGAIN GOES TO INDEPENDENTS, BISMARCK REGISTERING BIG MAJORITY

County Race Settled Early in the Listing of Returns, Except For States Attorney, For Which Post F. E. McCurdy
Is Leading E. S. Allen By a Big Majority

Burleigh county has gone again into the Independent column in the election, it appeared likely with returns tabulated this afternoon from 30 of the county's 60 precincts, including all of the city of Bismarck. Halvor Halvorson, coalition candidate for Governor, rolled up a big majority in the city of Bismarck. He got 2,124 votes to 1,164 for A. G. Sorlie, Nonpartisan, a lead of 960 in the city. When 30 of the precincts of the county had reported Halvorson had 2,485 votes to 1,747 for Sorlie.

President Coolidge carried the county by a good majority. In the city of Bismarck the President got a big majority, and he was running better than Halvorson in most of the rural precincts.

SOUTH DAKOTA REPUBLICAN BY OVER 10,000

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 5.—(By the A. P.)—President Coolidge passed the 50,000 mark at ten a. m. today in returns from almost half of South Dakota 1843 precincts polling a majority over LaFollette and Davis combined. Governor McMaster, Republican led U. S. G. Cherry, Democrat, by more than 12,000 in the state race and had approximately as many votes as his six opponents. Reports from 775 precincts gave Coolidge 51,110; LaFollette 34,248 and Davis 12,747.

Eight hundred and eight precincts gave McMaster 44,001; Cherry 21,619; Ayres 5,876; Egan 4,588; Dillon 941 and Loureus 160. LaFollette leaders refused to concede the state. They expressed the belief that belated returns would overcome the president's lead. Gunderson, Republican gubernatorial candidate, had an apparently safe lead over Bulow who conceded his election soon after midnight this morning. All three Republican congressional candidates for reelection piled up large pluralities over their opponents.

JAP PLAYERS FIGHT

Yokohama, Nov. 5.—Two Yokohama baseball teams were to decide which would beat first by a duel between the two captains. The battle between the two men was so fierce and prolonged that darkness fell before the game could be started. The fans who had gathered at the field seemed satisfied with the fight, however.

The closest race in the county fight was between E. S. Allen, incumbent, and F. E. McCurdy, for state attorney. When half the vote of the county had been tabulated this afternoon, the face of the returns favored McCurdy's election. He got a big vote in the city of Bismarck, receiving 1,933 votes to 1,041 for Allen. When half the county vote was reported McCurdy had 2,311 votes to 1,507 for Allen. In the first 20 precincts outside the city of Bismarck he received 558 votes to 166 for Allen.

County Ticket Chosen

The county ticket elected, it appeared certain, with the exception of states attorney, was: Miss Madge Runey, county superintendent; G. L. Spear, treasurer; Fred Swenson, judge of deeds; I. C. Davies, county judge; Frank Johnson, auditor; E. J. Gobel, coroner, and T. R. Atkinson, surveyor; Charles Fisher, clerk, and Albin Hedstrom, sheriff, all of whom had no opposition.

Tabulation of the county vote, with 30 precincts out of 60 report, follows:

Coolidge 2,560; LaFollette 1,493; Davis 263.
For Congress—Thomas Hall, 2,569; Nye 1,200.
For Governor—Sorlie 1,747; Halvorson 2,485.
For Co. Supt.—Miss Runey 2,573; Miss Huber 1,532.
For Treasurer—G. L. Spear 1,791; Richard 1,216.
For Register of Deeds—Fred Swenson 2,674; Mrs. Ann Hook 1,257.
For Auditor—F. J. Johnson 1,964; Clough 1,358.
For States Attorney—McCurdy 2,311; Allen 1,507.
For County Judge—I. C. Davies 2,615; Fort 1,239.
For Coroner—E. J. Gobel 2,743; E. F. Flanagan 934.

WILLIAM WHITE POOR THIRD IN KANSAS

Topeka, Nov. 5.—William Allen White, who entered the gubernatorial race as an independent on an avowed anti Ku Klux Klan platform ran far behind the successful candidate, Ben S. Paulen, Republican and this morning with half the state precincts reported was trailing Governor Jonathan M. Davis, Democratic by 15,000 votes.

Returns from 1,582 precincts out of 2,519 gave Paulen 155,783; Davis 88,049; White 73,076. The Emporia editor waged a campaign unique in the annals of American politics. Before the balloting he expressed fear that he would be elected.

Mr. White remained at home last night, retiring early and announced he would not examine the election returns until this morning.

Mrs. Ross Leads In First Returns

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 5.—With President Coolidge apparently assured of a large lead in this state, interest today centered on the possibility that Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, widow of the late governor, William B. Ross, would be elected Governor of Wyoming, early today with more than half of the states votes accounted for. She was leading her Republican opponent, Eugene J. Sullivan, by more than 3,000 votes. Indications were that John W. Davis would run third in the state early returns, showing Senator LaFollette leading the Democratic standard bearer by almost 3 to 1.

COOLIDGE WINS

COOLIDGE LANDSLIDE TO RIVAL THAT OF HARDING'S; WINS NEW YORK EASILY

New York, Nov. 4.—Coolidge and Dawes swept New York State with a plurality that had reached over 700,000 when all but 1,597 districts in the state had been tabulated at midnight, of the districts missing 465 were in New York City and 932 up state.

Coolidge and Dawes have polled overwhelming majorities in the East and middle west on the basis of incomplete returns from the general elections. In all of New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Indiana and Illinois, the lead of the Republican nominees was mounting steadily at 11 p. m. Eastern standard time, and both the New York Times and the New York World supporters of John W. Davis had conceded his defeat by Mr. Coolidge.

At Democratic headquarters, however, party leaders still clung to a hope that the west would turn the trick as it did for Wilson in 1916. Reports from most of the sections beyond the Mississippi still were of the most fragmentary character but they gave President Coolidge the best of it in several of the larger states. A spectacular race for the New York governorship was developing between Governor Smith and Theo. Roosevelt, with the Smith managers claiming victory and some of the Republican leaders inclined to concede it. All the southern states, including Tennessee, Oklahoma, Kentucky and Missouri were rolling up majorities for Davis. The South apparently had returned by the usual vote its Democratic candidates for the Senate, except in Oklahoma where J. C. Walton, was running behind. The election of two Republican senators, Borah of Idaho and Capper of Kansas had been conceded. With returns complete from more than a hundred congressional districts not a single seat had changed from one party column to another. The drift to Coolidge was so overwhelming that it rivals the Harding landslide.

In his home state, Massachusetts, Mr. Coolidge was leading Davis by a ratio of almost four to one and LaFollette by almost 14 to 1, in Maine, also the Coolidge advantage over Davis was almost four to one. In Rhode Island more than 3 to 1. In New Hampshire more than 2 to 1 and in Connecticut more than 2 to 1. Both in upstate New York and in New York City, the President was ahead of Mr. Davis.

On the face of the first returns from New Jersey, a very early and small return, Coolidge was leading Davis almost four to one. In Ohio with 170,000 votes counted, Coolidge had a lead of 60,000 over Davis and of 85,000 over LaFollette. In Pennsylvania one of the rock-ribbed Republican states, the President received five votes to one for Davis with LaFollette making a close race for second place.

SMITH AND ROOSEVELT IN CLOSE RACE

New York, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge carried New York State by a big plurality, it was indicated when two-thirds of districts including New York City, had been tabulated at 11 p. m. tonight. He had a commanding lead over John W. Davis in the normally Democratic stronghold of greater New York. LaFollette showed a total in the same districts of 328,389. At the same hour Governor Smith had good lead in New York City. Theodore Roosevelt, Republican candidate for Governor, had a margin for 40,000 in the whole state, Smith plurality in New York City was 262,809. Roosevelt received a heavy vote up state, but the Democrats confidently claimed the governor's reelection by over 100,000. Republican leaders, in some instances conceded the reelection of Smith.

White House Cheered As Returns Come In

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge was kept informed tonight of election returns as they were received at the White House by special telegraphs wire and by radio. Optimism about the executive offices in the out come of the election increased as the returns from various sections were received over the wires and Mr. Coolidge himself expressed to callers confidence in the estimates made by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, that he and Charles G. Dawes would receive at least 350 votes in the electoral college.

STRONG FOR DAWES
(By The A. P.)
Evanston, Ill., Nov. 4.—Charles G. Dawes and his Republican running mate, Calvin Coolidge carried his home precinct here by an overwhelming majority. The vote was Coolidge 598; Davis 54; LaFollette 28. All but three persons registered in the precinct stated.

Says Coolidge to Carry New York By Million Margin

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 4.—Charles D. Hille, Republican National Committeeman for New York, informed the White House shortly after ten o'clock tonight that President Coolidge would carry the state by about one million but the indications were Al Smith would defeat the Theo. Roosevelt for Governor by about 84,000.

Harding's Father Sends Message To President

(By The Associated Press)
Marion, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Two elderly gentlemen, Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late Pres., Harding and Colonel George B. Christian, father of George B. Christian, Jr., who was secretary to the late President, met here today on the street, well knowing the suspense of late president during election after four years ago, they decided to send an expression of cheer and confidence to Pres. Coolidge. The message they sent to the White House:

"Be thou of good cheer, thine enemies will not prevail against thee." Shortly afterwards President Coolidge wired as follows: "Thank you for your telegram. I shall remember your injunction and your wise counsel."

Davis Refuses To Comment
New York, Nov. 4.—John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee who received the returns with a few intimate friends at the home of Frank L. Polk in this city declined tonight to make any statement on the election. Clem L. Shaver, Democratic National chairman also refused to comment.

SOUTH DAKOTA
(By The A. P.)
South Dakota, Nov. 4.—121 precincts out of 1,888 Coolidge 14,346; Davis 2,226; and LaFollette 7,505. United States Senator 128 precincts McMaster 12,152; Cherry 10,511; Ayres 648; Egan 1,779.

WINS OUT EASILY

CALVIN COOLIDGE

COOLIDGE IN EARLY LEAD ON FIRST RETURNS

(By The Associated Press)
New York, Nov. 4.—Early election returns showed President Coolidge leading his two opponents by overwhelming majorities New York and Ohio and Illinois, with their big blocks of electoral votes, the president likewise was holding the advantage by a lesser margin in several of the states that had been claimed in the pre-election forecast of the Davis and LaFollette managers including Indiana, Iowa, West Virginia and Maryland. So strong was the Coolidge tide that at 9:30 P. M. Eastern standard time that the New York World which had supported Davis conceded the election of Coolidge. At the same time the World claimed New York for Governor Smith despite a tremendous lead for his Republican opponent, Theodore Roosevelt, in up state counties. In New York City Smith was leading Roosevelt two to one.

In both North and South Dakota. First returns from Iowa, which has been claimed as a LaFollette state by his campaign managers showed Coolidge with a majority over the combined vote of Davis and LaFollette, who were running neck and neck for second place. Senator Walsh, Democratic, Mass., was running far behind his Republican opponent, Speaker Gillett.

In Oklahoma despite the Davis lead J. C. Walton running on an Anti Klan platform as Democratic candidate for Senator was trailing his Republican opponent Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, the Democratic Anti Klan candidate for Governor of Texas was in the lead. Carlton B. McCulloch, Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana and outspoken opponent of the Klan was running behind the Republican opponent Ed. Jackson in Kansas. William Allen White running for governor on an Independent Anti Klan platform was third in his three cornered race against the regular Democratic and Republican nominees.

SENATE UNCERTAIN
(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 4.—Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, after scanning early election returns tonight expressed the opinion that unless the Republicans won seats in Tennessee and Kentucky they would be unable to organize the new senate this view was on the presumption that the insurgents would follow a defeated leader.

Magnus Johnson Suffers Slumps In Minn. Vote

Minnesota—In 189 precincts out of 5,188; LaFollette 2,471; for Senator 3,697 give Coolidge 35,261; Davis 21 precincts give Schall, Republican 2,598; Johnson, Farmer Labor 1,431; Farrell, Democrat, 398.

RECORD VOTE CAST IN STATE

(By The Associated Press)
Fargo, Nov. 4.—From unofficial reports from all sections of North Dakota it appears that this state cast its record vote today. The high vote point was established in the state election of 1922 when in the race for Governor, 229,606 votes were registered.

Davis Vote Light In North Dakota

Fargo, Nov. 4.—Three counties in North Dakota have failed in their early returns to report a single vote for Davis. These counties are Dickey, Wells and Burke. One precinct in Dickey county in its final return shows no votes for the Democratic candidate while Wells and Burke counties report a similar situation. The Davis vote in North Dakota is running very light, he having polled only 3,551 votes in 209 precincts out of 2,160 in the state. Cox in 1920 received a total vote 37,431 when all precincts had reported final returns, Coolidge leads LaFollette by more than two to one. The 209 precincts reporting Coolidge 26,633 and LaFollette 10,714. Only 26 precincts have reported, however, from the third Congressional District which is LaFollette's stronghold.

Chicago Papers Concede Coolidge

(By The A. P.)
Chicago, Nov. 4.—The Chicago Daily News through its system announced the election of Coolidge at 8:55 P. M. The Chicago Herald and Examiner at 8:25 tonight flashed the reelection of President Coolidge, through its system of search lights by which it had been giving election information to persons within a fifty mile radius of Chicago.

COOLIDGE CARRIES BURLEIGH, TAKES BIG LEAD IN BISMARCK; HALVORSON RUNS STRONG HERE

Bismarck citizens leaned heavily toward Calvin Coolidge and Halvor Halvorson in yesterday's election. With eight of the 10 city precincts reported at 1:30 o'clock this morning, Coolidge had a lead of 1,128 in the city of Bismarck. His lead will be increased in the two remaining precincts, and he will easily carry Burleigh county.

Halvor Halvorson, fusion candidate for Governor, in six city precincts out of 10 had a lead of 617 votes over A. G. Sorlie, with indications, that he would go out of the city with a lead of at least 1,000 and would carry Burleigh county, on the basis of past elections, by from 250 to 400.

The vote was: 8 precincts, Coolidge 1,817; LaFollette 6189. Six precincts, Sorlie 709; Halvorson 1,326.

The same six precincts in the June primary gave Sorlie 479; Nestos 1,054. In these precincts Halvorson had a lead of 617 compared to a lead of 474 for Nestos in the June primary, a considerable gain for Halvorson.

Sorlie carried one ward in the city, the fourth. He received 172 votes there to 123 for Halvorson.

In eight country precincts outside of the city of Bismarck the league candidate for Governor rolled up the usual majority, having 325 votes to 193 for Halvorson. In the same precincts outside the city of Bismarck Coolidge had 216 votes to 300 for LaFollette. The president was running ahead of Halvorson both in the city and county returns.

Only few returns were received on any of the offices outside the city, and were not enough on which to base any prediction.

There was a remarkably heavy vote cast in Bismarck, and election boards were to be counting all night long. In the Fifth ward, the board was not one-third through the national ballot at 1:30 a. m.

EARLY PREDICTIONS

(By The A. P.)

New York, Nov. 4.—Up to 9:30 p. m. Eastern time final returns had been received from upward of a hundred congressional districts, most of them in the Democratic south, without a single upset. Democratic senators in the south were chosen by the usual majorities and reelection of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, was conceded by his Democratic opponent. In West Virginia, the native state of John W. Davis, Mr. Coolidge was leading, by a narrow margin, but in Maryland, he was counting two votes to one Mr. Davis, and in Indiana he was leading Davis by 5,000. Davis was ahead in Missouri and Tennessee by a ratio of two to one less from Missouri.

SHAWER HOPEFUL

(By The A. P.)

Washington, Nov. 4.—"Remember 1916," D. C. Hodgkin, assistant to Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee said tonight when informed that several prominent eastern newspapers supporting John W. Davis had conceded the election of President Coolidge. Committee officials in Washington said they "awaited confidently" the returns from western and border states.

COOLIDGE VICTORY

(By The A. P.)

New York, Nov. 4.—The New York Times, which supported the candidacies of John W. Davis and Gov. George A. Smith, conceded shortly before 10 o'clock tonight the election of Gov. Smith and President Coolidge.

The Brooklyn Eagle at 9:30 P. M. predicted that Governor Smith would carry the state by plurality of more than 100,000.

NELSON LEADS

(By The A. P.)

St. Louis, November 4.—Dr. W. Nelson, Democratic candidate for Governor was leading his opponent, Sam A. Baker, Republican by approximately 1,000 in returns from 37 precincts from the same counties which gave Nelson 2,281 and Baker 2,213.

DAVIS FAILS TO GET VOTE

(By The A. P.)

Davis failed to receive a vote in early returns from Slope county western North Dakota. One precinct in this county gave Coolidge 43, LaFollette 32 and Davis 0. In the June primary this county gave Coolidge 411, LaFollette 405 and Johnson 188.

STRONG FOR COOLIDGE

COOLIDGE TAKES BIG LEAD IN N. DAKOTA; HALVORSON'S LEAD CUT IN COUNTY RETURNS

President Leads LaFollette by 16,000 Votes, with One-Sixth of the State's Total Vote in Tuesday Election Reported—President Runs Ahead of Coalition Candidate for Governor, Comparison Made in Some Precincts Indicates—Hall Leading Nye in Second District.

COOLIDGE HAS BIG LEAD
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—President Coolidge held a lead of 15,129 votes in North Dakota when unofficial returns were tabulated at 1 a. m. from 344 out of the states, 2,160 precincts. The returns however, were largely from cities and towns, from the eastern part of state.

North Dakota election boards and a corps of newspaper workers labored through the night in an endeavor to present a fairly accurate picture of the results of the state-wide election Tuesday. At 2 o'clock this morning, there was strong indication that President Coolidge had carried the state. The returns were not complete enough to make safe a prediction, but a comparison in some instances showed the President was running strong in cities and in some country precincts he was running ahead of A. G. Sorlie, Nonpartisan League candidate for Governor.

Halvor Halvorson, coalition candidate for Governor, assumed an early lead in the state, as is usual in returns in state contests where the Independent candidate invariably leads in the first returns. Halvorson had a lead of 7,339 votes over his Nonpartisan League opponent in the returns at 2 o'clock this morning. Halvorson's early big lead in the cities was being cut into by scattered country returns.

Returns from 330 of the state's 2,160 precincts gave: Halvorson 25,618; Sorlie, 17,780. A comparison in Burleigh county, showing Coolidge running ahead of Halvorson was repeated in some other comparisons.

Owing to the heavy vote cast and the interest at precinct stations in counting the presidential, state and county offices no fair indications of the congressional trend could be obtained at midnight in North Dakota. While congressman O. B. Burnett, Republican, First District, and James H. Sinclair, Progressive, Third District, were strong favorites to win reelection, chief interest centered in the second district contest, where Thomas Hall, Republican, and Gerald P. Nye, Progressive, competed for the regular office and for the short term office made vacant by the resignation Geo. Young, Republican. When only 32 precincts out of the districts 749 had been heard from, votes stood: Hall 3,819; Nye 1,870. In the short term contest, Hall 279, and Nye 510. Meanwhile Burnett held a lead over his Democratic opponent, Walter Welford. The vote in 26 precincts out of 586 gave Burnett 1,936 and Welford 634. Sinclair also ran true to predictions. With more than half of the vote in 49 precincts out of 70 reporting, Grand Forks county shows Coolidge leading LaFollette by a big margin, the votes being Coolidge 5,435; LaFollette 2,457, and Davis 827.

The President also maintains a two to one lead over the progressive candidate in Stutsman county, 31 of 71 precincts giving Coolidge 2,828; LaFollette 1,473. Divide and Dickey counties gave early leads to Sorlie, league, over Halvorson, fusion candidate for governor of the state. Two precincts of Dickey show Halvorson 95; Sorlie 122. Seven precincts in Divide county give Halvorson 311 and Sorlie 328. In McHenry county Halvorson holds a slight lead in the early returns, four precincts reporting Halvorson 185 and Sorlie 178. Stutsman county also favors the fusion candidate as this county in returns from 27 precincts reports Halvorson 1,948 and Sorlie 1,297, while 16 precincts of Griggs county give Sorlie the lead with 809 votes as against 503 for Halvorson. Williams county, always strong for the League and LaFollette reported its first precinct from the city of Williston as follows: Coolidge 109; LaFollette 104; Davis 27 and Foster 2.

Coolidge and Halvorson were returned the favorites in Richland county according to returns from 16 precincts out of 40. The vote reads Coolidge 1,865; LaFollette 660, and Davis 355; 16 precincts in the same county give Halvorson 1,144 and Sorlie 839. In Griggs county 17 precincts give Nye, League candidate for Congress from this district 952 votes; Hall 586 and Freeks 4. Two precincts in Dickey county the same district, give Hall 101; Nye 93. In the short term contest for Congress from this district 16 precincts in Griggs county give Nye 860 and Hall 528. As returns from the western part of the state filter in Sorlie is cutting down the Halvorson lead when 330 precincts of 2,160 had been received Halvorson had 25,619 votes while Sorlie 17,780.

SEE GAINS FOR HALVORSON
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—A report from precincts in several North Dakota cities indicate that Halvor L. Halvorson, fusion gubernatorial candidate is receiving a heavier vote than that accorded in these same precincts to Gov. R. A. Nestos when he was defeated by Arthur G. Sorlie, the present opponent of Halvorson. In Fargo Halvorson was given a larger proportionate vote reports showed while Coolidge also seemed to gain more than did the Governor. In Bismarck he continued to poll a larger proportionate vote while in Mandan, Halvorson gained 108 votes in one precinct over Nestos' tabulation. Minot and Grand Forks also reported this gain for the fusionist.

MINOT COMPLETE
The city of Minot complete gave a majority to the President, the votes being Coolidge 2,501; LaFollette 1,253, and Davis 405. Minot also gave Halvorson a more than 2 to 1 majority over Sorlie, the fusionists receiving 2,616 and the League getting 1,282 votes.

HEAVY VOTE IN GRAND FORKS
(By The A. P.)
Grand Forks, Nov. 4.—The vote in Grand Forks today was nearly twice that cast in the June primaries. Reports on the vote on three districts show there were 838 votes cast in these precincts today as (Continued on page 2)

November Truly Month of Thanksgiving in State. Says A. C. President

STUDENTS TO WRITE

Themes in Support of Greater North Dakota Movement To Be Undertaken

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4. November is to be "Thanksgiving month" in reality for North Dakota this year. Why the true spirit of Thanksgiving should prevail in North Dakota, and especially why students in the state college should be thankful this November 27 is the theme of a letter to be written by the students at the North Dakota Agricultural college in a contest inaugurated by Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the institution.

The best letter is to be published in the Spectrum, college paper, and sent to all the universities and colleges of the country with the Thanksgiving greetings of the students of the North Dakota college. The author of the prize-winning letter will receive an award of $10. For second place $7.50 is to be given, for third place, $5 and for fourth place $2.50. All letters are to be judged by a committee of three, consisting of two faculty members and one student. Letters must not exceed 200 words and will contain a Thanksgiving greeting to all other schools of higher learning in the United States and must also state briefly some of the reasons why North Dakota residents can be thankful in 1924.

Supporting Movement "The college students and faculty members want to do their part in supporting the movement for a Greater North Dakota, in letting other states and countries know some of the many good things that we have in this state," said Dr. Coulter in his message to the students. "There are many real reasons why we are thankful for this state. It is the logical time to express that thankfulness.

"Just as the Eagle is recognized as the great symbol of American liberty in July so the turkey is recognized as the great symbol of American prosperity and thanksgiving in November. We like to live in peace under the wings of the one, but we also like to get a piece from under the wings of the other.

"Let's truly recognize November as 'Thanksgiving month' for North Dakota this year. While we must not boast or brag about ourselves, our state, our institutions, yet may we not in a perfectly modest way thank the college and the state for the students of all of the other colleges of America?

Thousands of students in colleges presently will graduate; they will be looking for the greatest opportunity to carry on their life's work. While they may not have large wealth they will have training and education and possibly they may be able to secure the financial support of parents or friends.

"In sending these greetings from North Dakota might we not tell something of the reasons why we in North Dakota are thankful, not only for the beautiful harvest and very satisfactory prices for everything which we have to sell, but for the wonderful natural resources, for the sunshine and rainfall and temperate climate, which is so wonderfully health giving and invigorating?

"May we not also tell something of our college and of the opportunities for education which North Dakota affords, as well as other blessings which are ours."

Tell of Opportunities "The business men of North Dakota during November will be telling the business men of other states about our opportunities, professional men will be telling those of other states; our farmers will be telling the farmers elsewhere about the remarkable agricultural resources, and our various commercial organizations will be telling of the wonders of great deposits of clay and coal.

"They will be pointing to the day when this state will see tremendous power plants at the entrance to our coal mines, producing power for industry and sending neat, light and power to every corner of the state in the form of electric energy.

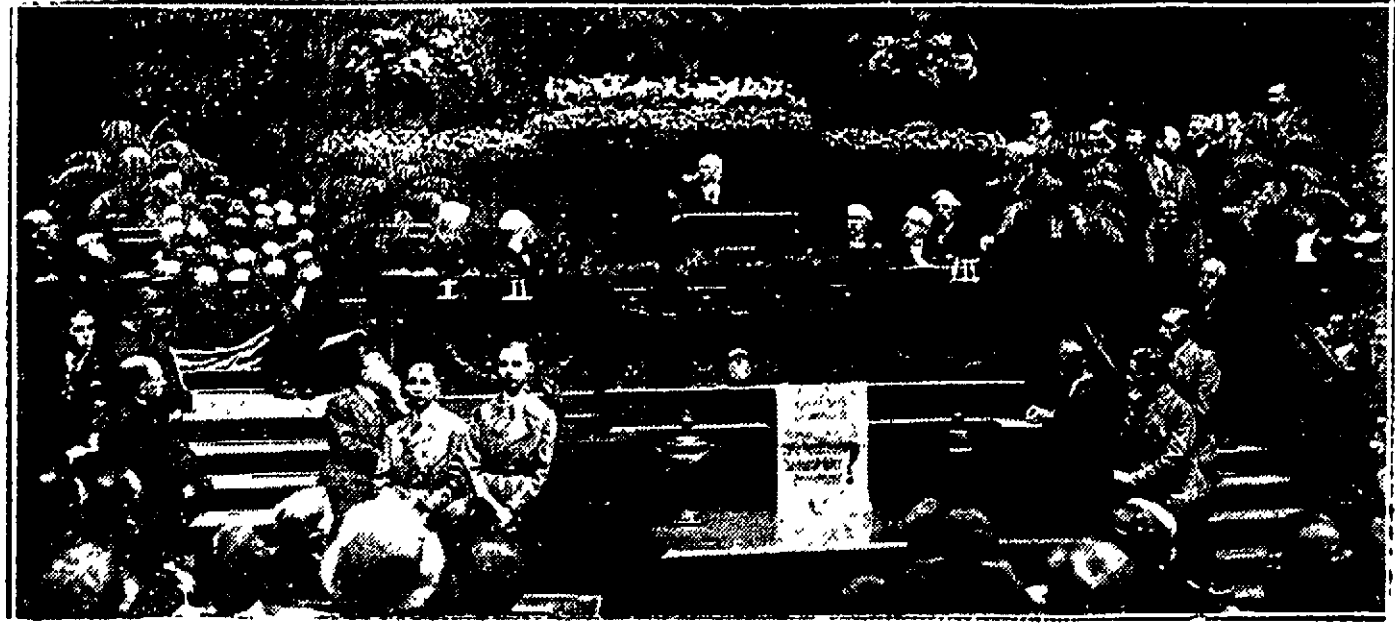

"Our student body will wish to participate in this movement and as a body tell the students of all parts of the United States of the great opportunities in North Dakota at the same time that we send thanksgiving greetings.

"It is with this in mind that I propose that we participate in the Greater North Dakota campaign which has in mind to tell the truth about our state."

Many Veterans Rehabilitated At State A. C. Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—But 12 wounded veterans of the World War, out of a total of 294 who have been enrolled since the program started in 1914, are now enrolled at the North Dakota Agricultural college under the Rehabilitation Training plan fostered by the government and directed by the Veterans Bureau, records at the registrar's office show.

"Three or four years ago this group was an influential one on the campus, taking part as a unit in school activities and with an independent organization of its own," the registrar, A. E. Patzsch, says.

MORE VICTIMS OF WRECK GO FROM HOSPITAL

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4. Six more persons who were injured in the wreck of Great Northern train No. 1 when six coaches were derailed near Gardiner, S. D., are now in the hospital in Fargo for treatment.

Of the 12 in the hospital, Mrs. Harry Lomas of Enid, Okla., and Mrs. Nelson of St. Paul are the most seriously injured. Mrs. Lomas is suffering from contusions of the brain.

PROF. SHEPPERD WILL TRAVEL IN EUROPE

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4. Professor J. H. Shepperd, one of the animal husbandry department of the North Dakota Agricultural college, has been granted a leave of absence from the college for an educational tour that he has been planning for more than a year.

Other speakers for some days were Professor Quiddo, German pacifist; Senator Henry La Fontaine, France, and Fridtjof Nansen, Norwegian polar explorer, educator and diplomat.

CAPITAL MAY BECOME CITY OF TENTS IN RENT WAR

BY HARRY B. HUNT NEA Service Writer Washington, Nov. 4.—Washington, "The City Beautiful," may once again become a tented city unless a truce is reached between the capitalists' landlords and tenants.

More than 2000 notices of eviction, effective Nov. 1, have been served by landlords on tenants who have refused to meet rent increases which went into effect Oct. 1. This threatened wholesale eviction is the culmination of a warfare between tenants and rentees that began with our entry into the World War. Congress, however, put the brakes on sky-rocketing rentals at that time by declaring a housing emergency and providing a rent commission for the District of Columbia with power to regulate rentals.

This commission, under fire by District landlords, has been continuing from year to year by Congress. But recent court decisions adverse to the local rent act and the powers of the commission have given the property owners courage and the flood of dispossession notices is then declaration of war.

That it may be an intense and dramatic battle is indicated by the rallying of threatened renters into a "Tenants' League," sworn to resist the demands of their landlords to the limit.

Preparatory to the "zero hour" for battle this organization has applied for permission to erect tents in the eclipse, a large open park space immediately south of the White House, for the housing of members who suddenly find themselves and their possessions in the streets.

These grounds were thrown open a year ago for tents to house thousands of visiting Shriners during the national Shrine convention. Secretary of War Weeks, however, says a reservation for such use by Shriners was specifically granted by Congress, and that lacking congressional sanction similar use cannot be made of them for the relief of evicted renters. Weeks also says the army will not supply tents, blankets or cots in the landlord-tenant war, as was done at the time of the Shrine convocation.

Undaunted by this, those who are defying eviction are obtaining permission to place tents on vacant sites and are seeking tents and equipment for a long siege.

This situation develops at a time when there is admittedly an adequate supply of apartments and homes in Washington. It is not due to the price being charged for rental property that has brought the crisis, tenants declaring they cannot and will not pay higher rents, while landlords insist on jacking up rentals to new high levels.

The average price of an apartment room in Washington today, according to rent commission's figures, is $65 per month. That makes a three-room apartment cost $195, a five-room suite $175. In the face of these rentals a government clerk trying to raise a family in Washington becomes a financial expert. Otherwise he simply can't "get by."

MRS. LUCY WELLS ONLY SHERIFF IN ENGLAND

Canterbury, England, Nov. 4.—This ancient cathedral city has just received a custom of medieval times by conferring the office of sheriff upon a woman. Incidentally the recipient of the honor, Mrs. Lucy Green Wells, the wife of a local tailor, has the distinction of being the only woman in England to hold such an office.

"My chief duty as sheriff," Mrs. Wells said recently, "is to appear with the mayor and councillors on special occasions wearing my purple robe, with the silver chain of office round my neck.

ISLANDERS ARE HAPPY

London, Nov. 4.—Hayling Island is about the only place in England where there is no unemployment. The island, in the Southampton area, has a prosperous population of about 3,000 and at present no one there is receiving a penny from the national unemployment fund. The men and women of the island are all busy in the fields, in the fishing grounds and the shops.

The mackerel season, which is just over, has been the best in years and the harvest, unlike the rest of England, is bountiful. There are plenty of visitors on the island and the inhabitants are in a state of financial exuberance.

The islanders also differ from their mainland compatriots in that they would rather live in the country than in the town. Last year the population of one of the two towns on the island dropped from 800 to 500 because the price of farm products went up.

800,000 VOTE IS EXPECTED

St. Paul, Nov. 4. Scattered reports of heavy voting after the polls opened at 6 a. m. in Minnesota indicated a total ballot of possibly 800,000 with favorable weather conditions an added spur interest attached to the national contest and that between the Republican and Farmer-Labor state tickets.

Proclamation

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY WHEREAS, Sunday, December the seventh, 1924, has been designated as the date for an international relief effort, to be known as Golden Rule Sunday, by the representatives of twenty nations, including the United States, who recently met in Geneva, Switzerland, in an international conference to determine the best manner in which the people of the different countries represented could assist in alleviating the distress and suffering of the tens of thousands of practically denationalized orphans of the Near East—victims of the late World War and who are, in a peculiar sense, international wards, and WHEREAS, out of their deliberations of the above subject matter and relief plans in connection therewith, there evolved an additional and EVEN MORE important objective, the development of Golden Rule principles in both the personal and national life of the co-operating countries, as a contribution toward international good will, co-operation and permanent world peace, and WHEREAS, President Coolidge, Chief Executive of the United States, has commended this great humanitarian effort in the following language:

"I believe that the international observance of this day may not only save lives of thousands of destitute, but may possibly have an even greater benefit in the way of reflex influence upon those who thus observe the Golden Rule and help to establish it as a tenet in daily living.

ARGENTINE BREEDING POLO PONIES
Buenos Aires, Nov. 4.—The Argentine polo ponies which contributed so much to the victory of the Argentine four in the Olympic polo championship, are the product of four or five generations of crossing "criollo," or native, ponies with small sized English thoroughbreds. They are considered to combine the qualities of endurance and cleverness of the native horse with the speed of the English purebred.
Since the tour of Argentine polo players to England and the United States in 1922, when the players sold the mounts at a very large profit, the breeding of polo ponies has almost become an industry in Argentina. For a number of years polo ponies have been produced here on four or five ranches, and have had a sale in Europe, mostly in England. The King of Spain has been one good buyer of them.
Now, with the additional prestige gained by the Argentine product at the Olympics, other ranches are devoting themselves to breeding. Sires and mothers accustomed to the large rodeos of the Argentine pampas are selected, for they are not afraid of being ridden down, especially if they have been used in parting cattle.

26,000 PEOPLE ARE EMPLOYED IN ELECTIONS

E. T. Cutter, Division Manager Associated Press, Tells About A. P. Method

HOW IT STARTED

Publishers Organized Non-Profit Organization To Give Reliable News

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Clean and constructive news has been the steadfast aim of The Associated Press, said Edgar T. Cutter, superintendent of the Central division, in a talk delivered to students of the Medill School of Journalism.

"Constructive news is one of the most vital things of the time," Mr. Cutter asserted. "The Associated Press has always striven to handle only decent, reliable news, to do no injury and to be constructive."

The giant election machine set up by the Associated Press, extending into every hamlet in the United States, was explained by Mr. Cutter. Twenty-six thousand persons are involved in gathering the returns, for which approximately a quarter of a million dollars is expended.

Gathering Returns
"At no time more than during a national political campaign is there so general an inquiry about the Associated Press," Mr. Cutter said. "The present campaign, one of the most intense of our times, has increased to a marked degree a desire to know how the speeches of candidates and the polling on November 4 are covered. So it is a very pleasant assignment to be asked to tell you the men and women who in four years doubtless will be deep in the work of another campaign, just how The Associated Press does operate."

"First, I want to give you a bit of history about this organization, that has been praised by the people of all countries and misunderstood by our very neighbors. Seventy-five years ago, at a time when our forebears were actively engaged in developing this wonderful country of ours, still new and crude, there were no cables under the Atlantic, telegraphy was only just being experimented with, and I doubt if airplanes and radios even existed in sheer imaginations. Gathering news was a new and pretty expensive proposition and publishers depended upon forces of only a few men to get out their papers, at best indifferent sheets."

"Sloping steamers brought weekly budgets of news from Europe and they were not filled with the thrills of the columns of intimate happenings at foreign capitals that we now have for a daily diet. It was an individual enterprise then, only one or two men engaging in it. I doubt if a 'beat' on a piece of news two weeks old caused much excitement on the staffs of the New York papers. Certainly it could not get much attention today when the competition is so keen that newspapers and press associations count as well done an exclusive story handled a few minutes, or even seconds ahead of their competitors."

"But the interest in news gathering grew and alert men resorted to pigeons and other carriers to land their stories ahead."
"Presently the New York newspapers, the strongest of any on the Atlantic coast, felt the first pinch that later became so general of any individual effort to collect news. They pooled their interests and finally formed a news association. This in time spread to the north and the south, and a spirit of cooperation sprang up. Publishers early agreed that it was a big job and a costly one, and they were glad to work together on it."

Morse Telegraphy
"When Morse telegraphy came along and then the Atlantic cable was laid, a new stimulus was given to that great work that you students today find so enticing. Newspapers in other parts of the country formed similar associations. There was a New York Associated Press, a New England association, a Southern association and a Western association. They were patterned after the original organization very closely, and exchanged news through a mutual arrangement. Ultimately, as it is easy to see now, these organizations were to come together as one, for news knew no state boundary line and the needs of all newspapers were too common to admit of continuing alone."

"Well, out of this grew The Associated Press, without any sectional qualifications in its name, an organization that as we know it today took in every state in the Union. Publishers everywhere spoke of this as a great achievement, indeed one of the most forward steps ever made in our country, for it brought together in instant touch all the states of our beloved land, and gave to America the prestige of having the first thoroughly equipped machine with which to exchange the happenings of this biggest of world neighborhoods."

"It was really more than any mere agreement of a large number of business enterprises to work for a given purpose, for instance as a string of stores. It opened up a roadway across the country for one thing, which, as Thomas A. Edison said, gave our government an artery of the utmost value in time of stress. That was proven during the Big War when the great newspapers bent all their efforts that we might do our part in the most stupendous of all conflicts."

Early Publishers
"I should tell you that early in the life of The Associated Press the newspaper publishers of the country, and they stand out as the great-

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

BALDWIN

J. A. Graham and family have moved to Wilton where Mr. Graham has accepted a position with the Washburn Lignite Coal Co. A number of social affairs were given in honor of Miss Wilma Graham before she moved to her new home.

Richard Kikul has been acting as assistant to Mr. Freeman at the local elevator during the heavy grain movement.

John Nordstrom spent part of the week in Bismarck where he looked after business matters pertaining to the Nordstrom estate of which he is administrator. The personal property of John Nordstrom deceased, will be offered for public auction early in November.

The Baldwin grade school had a picnic Friday afternoon on the hill overlooking town just west of the school at which winners were roasted and marshmallows toasted. A most enjoyable time was had by all who were present.

Miss Estelle Pierce, high school teacher, entertained a number of parents of the students and patrons of the school Friday afternoon. The work which is being done by the school has the approval of all who come in contact with the school. Miss Pierce who came here early in the fall from Bay City, Michigan, is a most efficient and untiring worker.

Edward Kikul has returned to his home at Westbrook, Minn., after a pleasant visit with relatives in the county after an absence of seven years. He is a brother of Mr. Gottfried Kikul who lives in Bismarck. Mr. Kikul was much impressed with the progress made by state during the time he has been gone.

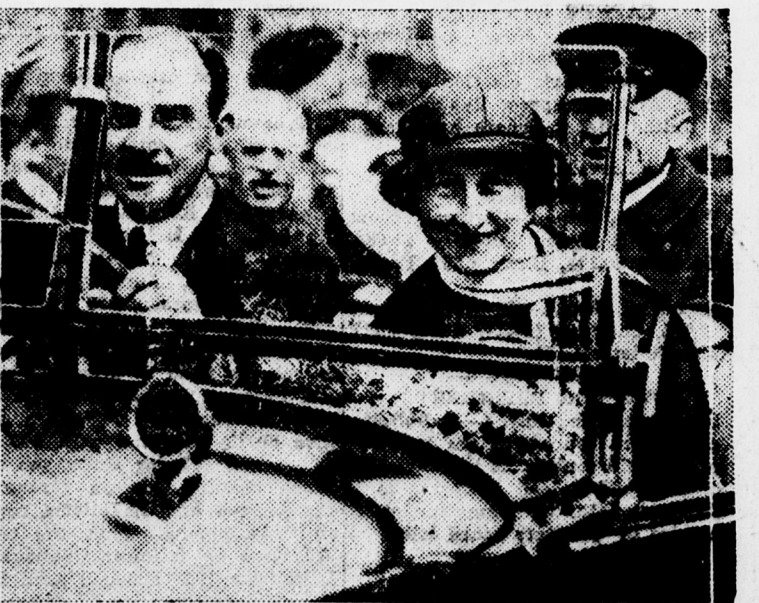

Mr. Halvorson, fusion candidate for governor, will give a political address in Baldwin hall on the evening of Nov. 3rd. A cordial invitation is extended the public to be present. Members of the Nonpartisan League are especially invited to attend and hear the other side of the political question.

Cooperative Effort

"It was not difficult for the publishers of various creeds and differing politics to agree upon this, that they readily saw their one mutual purpose was to spread the news. Each could have his own editorial opinions and air them, but he did not choose to have his general news source polluted. You see it was not a trust, as some have tried to make people believe, but a club operated much the same as any in our city, in which the members made the laws and readily agreed to live up to them. Each member said at the start that he would collect the news of his own territory, and the Associated Press, with its wires and operators and editors, agreed to exchange this budget. It was in fact a cooperative effort."

"Charles Dana of the New York Sun said no such organization could exist, that no large number of men had ever successfully carried on the people of cooperation. Another news agency started up as a money-making concern, and this Mr. Dana predicted would succeed. But that great journalist proved to be wrong in his deductions, for the money-making concern became bankrupt while The Associated Press has been spoken of the greatest example of successful cooperation in the world."

able majority when 21 precincts out of the districts 825, gave Sinclair 1,299; Johnson 708. Considerable interest is being shown on the race between Hall and Nye in the second district, with indications of a close race when rural returns come in, which are expected to be for Nye.

Close in Third

Shipley and Byrne are running a close race in the third Congressional district for the office of Secretary of State. Scattered returns from nine precincts giving 457 votes for Shipley and 454 for Byrne. One precinct in Adams county gives Byrne lead over Shipley of 170. One precinct in Burke county gives Shipley 30; Shipley 80. In Dunn county four precincts give Shipley 138; Shipley 117. One precinct in Golden Valley county reports 17 for Shipley and 15 for Shipley. Stark county reports one precinct as 16 for Shipley. While one precinct in Williams county reports 122 for Shipley and 69 for Shipley.

In the second Congressional district but one county has reported returns in the race for Secretary of State.

Seven precincts of Benson county give Shipley 206; Shipley 147. In the third district Shipley has taken an early lead; 20 precincts in Ransom, Richland and Steele counties reporting 1,395 for Shipley and 1,694 for Shipley. The race for this office on early state-wide returns shows a total of 45 precincts returning 2,055 for Shipley and 2,298 for Shipley.

the voters was Overt A. Olson, state senator; J. M. Thompson, John Jacobson and Grant Palms, members of the House of Representatives. This was the primary Republican ticket, consisting of three Nonpartisans and one Independent, Mr. Thompson.

There will be no new courthouse in Burleigh county.

No New Courthouse

The proposal was overwhelmingly defeated. Every precinct reporting showed a majority against bonding the county.

The county was against the Gunderson tax reduction bill, partial returns showed.

In the Second Commissioner's district, C. A. Anderson assumed the lead over C. A. Swanson, incumbent, carrying five of the first six precincts reporting. Dr. coil was not included, however, and it is expected to give Swanson a heavy majority.

PRACTICAL NURSE ADDS TESTIMONY

Mrs. Crail Says Tanlac Is Without An Equal

Mrs. Hattie Crail, a highly successful and popular practical nurse, 32nd and Douglas Sts., Des Moines, Iowa, is another among the many of her admirable profession to endorse the Tanlac treatment.

"Following a period of severe nervous prostration of two years ago," declared Mrs. Crail recently, "I was so weak, restless and uncertain of myself that I scarcely dared go on the street alone. I suffered from violent headaches and dizzy spells, and again from a condition of extreme drowsiness. For a time I was compelled to give up my work.

"But with Tanlac my recovery was surprisingly rapid, and soon my nerves were entirely normal. The pains left my head, my appetite and digestion became perfect and I was strong enough to resume my work of nursing. In short, Tanlac built me up so I have enjoyed sound health ever since."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

GETS BALLOT BY AIR MAIL

Minot, N. D., Nov. 5.—One Minot woman, Mrs. C. P. Vandenoever, considers her vote in the election worth at least 24 cents.

She spent that amount in postage to mail her absent voters' ballot from East Orange, N. J., to Minot by airplane mail. The ballot arrived at the county auditor's office Monday.

Mr. Vandenoever, who is also at East Orange, mailed his ballot to the auditor's office several days ago.

It is believed that Mrs. Vandenoever mailed her ballot by air plane mail, believing that it would not reach Minot in time in event it passed through the regular channels of mail transportation.

CASH BASIS IS HELD SUCCESS IN N. D. TRIAL

Tax Commissioner Finds Certificate of Indebtedness Plan Meets With Favor

CUTS INTEREST RATE

Takes Place of Old Warrant System, Reducing Interest Charges to Taxpayers

The law of the 1923 legislature, in placing taxing districts on a cash basis through substitution of certificates of indebtedness for warrants, has worked out satisfactorily, it is declared in the biennial report of C. C. Converse, state tax commissioner. This law was one of several passed by the legislature in revising taxation laws.

The new issues have grown steadily in favor, and have cut the interest rate paid by districts, the report says.

"One of the purposes which actuated the legislature in enacting Chapter 236 (House Bill No. 129), Laws of 1923 was that of reducing the interest drain resulting from the practice of issuing warrants in excess of cash on hand," says the report.

"The legal rate of interest upon such warrants is 7 percent and under the conditions prevailing in recent years, owners of such warrants were generally required to discount them. The discount was seldom less than 3 percent resulting in a total interest charge of about 12 percent. There have been times during recent years when there was no market for registered warrants at any reasonable rate of discount so that often the rate of discount was 10 percent and even 15 percent, while reports are not lacking to the effect that discounts as high as 25 percent were enacted in some instances."

Desirable Investment

"In enacting Chapter 326, the legislature provided for the issuance of a new form of public security known as certificates of indebtedness and sought to surround them with such safeguards as to make them a highly desirable form of investment with the purpose in view of obtaining a lower rate of interest. Some districts have not experienced much benefit from this act due in part to the fact that their borrowings have been for small amounts and for short terms. Other districts have found the law very helpful and have found ready market for their certificates at 6 percent or less, thus providing funds so that all obligations have been paid in cash. In addition to a saving in interest, they have found that in making purchases they are able to get better price quotations and save substantial amounts in that way. The new form of securities is steadily growing in favor, and there is reason to believe that they will continue to grow in favor with the investing public."

Some Changes Suggested

Suggestions for amendments to improve the act are submitted in the report, among them the advisability of increasing the maximum length of certificates of indebtedness, which is 18 months; permitting borrowings for any purpose for which the officials of the taxing district are authorized to spend public funds; and whether or not there should be a statutory limit upon the number of prior years, the uncollected taxes of which are used in calculating borrowing capacity.

"The day seems not far distant when all taxing districts in our state will be operating upon a cash basis and taking advantage of every opportunity to discount bills," says the commissioner's report. "This will put us in an enviable position in contrast with the average taxing district in many other states. The provision prohibiting the incurring of debts in excess of taxes already levied has met with general commendation as has also the provision making the county treasurer the custodian of sinking funds."

There is no adequate legislation covering the borrowing of money for short terms by the state, the report says, urging such provision be made by law.

Mandan Family Suffers Injuries in Smash

Mrs. Fred C. R. Schulz of Mandan suffered severe cuts about the head and body and a shock, her 4-year-old daughter sustained a broken leg it is pointed out above the right knee and Mr. Schulz was badly bruised when the Willys-Knight coach in which they were riding turned over at the end of the detour on the Bismarck-Mandan road Saturday night.

Glaring lights of other cars and mistaking the red lantern detour signal for rear light car caused the accident. The car was badly wrecked.

RAIN MAKER'S FAME SPREAD

Hatfield Gets Inquiry From Africa

Hanford, Calif., Nov. 4.—The fame of Charles N. Hatfield as a result of his rain-making undertaking in California has reached Africa where he may have an opportunity to try his cunning on the Sahara desert. The Kings county Chamber of Commerce announced today it had received an inquiry concerning Hatfield from Tunis, West Africa.

The Chamber will reply that the farmers in this vicinity recently paid Hatfield $8,000 for making it rain. Whether Hatfield was responsible or not it did rain 2.29 inches between March 15 and April 15 over an area 75 miles in diameter after the "rain maker" had "shot the skies" with fumes from chemicals.

YOUTH KICKED BY COLT, DIES

Fargo, Nov. 4.—Glenn Hoefing, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoefing, farmers of near Georgetown, Minnesota, died in a Fargo hospital early this morning of injuries received Sunday afternoon when he was kicked by a colt. He died from a hemorrhage shock and a ruptured liver.

PUBLISHER IS ARRESTED

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 4.—John L. Morrison, Duluth publisher, who is wanted at Duluth on two charges of criminal libel, was arrested here last yesterday.

Last week Victor L. Power, Republican candidate for congress, swore out a criminal libel warrant against Morrison and filed suit against the publisher for the sum of $50,000. Both warrants were placed with the local police for service against Morrison.

Taken to local police headquarters this afternoon, Morrison was released in the custody of a friend.

CITY WATER REPORT MADE

Report on the city water for the past month was made to the city commission last night by A. W. Eklund, city bacteriologist. He reported the water with one exception was found in excellent condition. On October 25, he said, presence of bacteria was found, which he learned was due to chemical difficulties at the plant. He recommended that whenever turbidity appears in the water, the plant be shut down and examination made. There is water enough in reservoirs to serve the town for several days, he said, and there is no need of pumping turbid water.

London To Have A Cheap Theater

London, Nov. 4.—A playhouse where seats may be bought for sixpence and a shilling is to be opened shortly through the efforts of a band of parliamentarians, including Mr. Lloyd George, Lady Astor and Mr. Stanley Baldwin, who have started a campaign to raise 1,500 necessary to open the house. Only popular dramas and comedies will be presented.

DEPOSED CHINA LEADER FLEES

General Wu Pei-Fu Seeks Refuge on Gulf of Chihli

Peking, China, Nov. 4.—General Wu Pei-fu, former commander-in-chief of the military forces, has fled to Tangku on the gulf of Chihli about 30 miles from Tientsin, it is reported today at the headquarters of Feng Yu-hsiang, "the Christian general," now in control here.

This is regarded here as spelling the end of the present conflict between Wu Pei-fu and Feng. The only remaining menace to Peking are large bodies of troops which are left without proper control.

CONFIRM REPORT

Tokio, Nov. 4.—Wu Pei-fu, the deposed Peking commander-in-chief, has fled, boarding a steamer near Tientsin for a destination unknown, but presumably Kiangsu province, where the Tsuchin Chih-shih-yuan staff is believed to be loyal, according to a Kokusai dispatch from Tientsin.

Coolidge Takes Big Lead In North Dakota

compared with 437 in the same districts in the primary.

Morton County

Morton county, which gave Nestos a lead of almost 250 in the primary seemed to be running true to form. Two precincts gave Halvorson 512 and Sorlie 214. The same two precincts gave Coolidge a majority the President receiving 466, LaFollette 195 and Davis 73.

Stutsman County

Stutsman county was running strong for Coolidge with returns from 25 precincts giving Coolidge 2,677, LaFollette 1,336 and Davis 272. Coolidge carried the county by about 200 votes over Johnson in the March primary.

Cass County

Thirty three out of the 82 precincts in Cass county gave Coolidge 5,587, LaFollette 1,684, Davis 882 and Foster 13. Twenty eight precincts reporting on governor give Halvorson 4,351 and Sorlie 1,394.

La Moure County

Coolidge, Halvorson and Hall took early leads in LaMoure county, one precinct giving Coolidge 176, LaFollette 30 and Davis 24. Thomas Hall is running far ahead of Nye for the regular term. Hall receiving 193 votes to 39 for Nye. The same precinct shows Halvorson a favorite over Sorlie. Sorlie, the former getting 185 votes and the latter only 43.

TEXAS

Partial returns from 108 towns of Texas tabulated by the Texas election board up to 8:30 p. m. show President Coolidge 7,798; Davis 34,995; LaFollette 2,025. For Governor, K. O. Butte 20,358; Ferguson, Democrat, 30,100.

ALABAMA

Alabama 108 precincts out of 1-325 Davis 13,483; Coolidge 1,605, and LaFollette 495.

MARYLAND

Maryland 177 precincts out of 1-122, Davis 13,598; Coolidge 18,958; LaFollette 8,023.

TENNESSEE

Heavy Lead In New York

New York, Nov. 4.—Returns received from nearly one third of New York State before 9 o'clock tonight showed that President Coolidge had a 8 to 1 lead over John W. Davis for the Presidency, with LaFollette third. These returns indicated a close race for Governor between Governor Smith, Democratic and Theo. Roosevelt, Republican. The returns for president from 2,412 precincts out of 7,663 in the state including 450 out of 2,970 in New York City showed Coolidge 650,437, Davis 313,546, LaFollette 144,423. In the spirited governorship fight Roosevelt showed a lead up state while Smith was running far ahead in the Democratic, strong hold in New York City. Indiana 49 precincts out of 3,416, Coolidge 30,589, Davis 20,946, LaFollette 10,890.

Drift To Davis

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—A notable drift toward Davis was indicated in Missouri on the face of returns from thirty six of the state 4,069 precincts, which gave Davis 3,227, Coolidge 2,238.

LOCAL PEOPLE HEAR COOLIDGE

Many Bismarck people last night heard the plea of President Calvin Coolidge to the people of the nation to cast a full vote today. The speech was carried by the leading radio stations of the country. Howard Light, reporting the fact, said that he heard the address broadcasted from a Buffalo station.

President Coolidge told his audience it was a non-political address, stating it was the duty of every citizen to vote. He urged them to approach the matter as a sacrament, rather than as a duty. He also quoted from a speech of George Washington praising the part women took in the winning of the Revolutionary War.

Before President Coolidge bid his audience good night, he said good night to his father, listening in Vermont.

ONE KILLED IN N.P. TRAIN-AUTO CRASH SUNDAY

Casselton Man Killed, Wife, Small Son, Step-Father, Are Injured

Fargo, Nov. 4.—Clarence McKay of Casselton, near here, was instantly killed and his wife, a small son and step-father are in a Fargo hospital with serious injuries sustained when their automobile was demolished by a Northern Pacific freight train at a crossing at Casselton Sunday afternoon.

There were five passengers in the car. Mr. and Mrs. McKay, a son, Kenneth, two and one-half years old, a baby one year old and Mr. McKay's step father, J. P. Barnes of Wheatland.

Mrs. McKay has a fractured right leg and several bad bruises on her face and body. Mr. Barnes has a fractured left hip, a badly bruised hand and several body bruises. Kenneth's jaw was broken and he sustained several bad body bruises. The baby was the only one that escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred as the car neared the crossing near the electric light plant in Casselton and the noise made by the steam from the plant, it was said, made it impossible to hear the on-coming freight.

RING-LEADER IS EXECUTED

Persian Government Carries Out Sentence

Washington, Nov. 4.—Execution by the Persian government of Seyid Hussien, ring-leader of the mob which killed American vice-consul Imbrie in Teheran, was reported officially to the state department. Another man was executed for the crime at the same time.

The death sentences were carried out after the Washington government had decided that the two men must receive the extreme penalty despite a decision by the Persian cabinet to commute their sentences. A third man found guilty and sentenced to death was executed some time ago.

A score of members of the mob which killed Imbrie have been given lesser sentences, as they were merely participants in the crowd. The Persian government also has completed other phases of the program it laid down for itself at the time of the murder. It has made substantial payment to Imbrie's widow and has professed its readiness to meet the entire cost of bringing Imbrie's body home for burial.

AGED FORMER SENATOR DIES

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—Cornelius Cole, former United States Senator, 102 years and two months of age, died at his residence here today.

Halvorson Has Good Rest in Bismarck Today

Halvor L. Halvorson, coalition candidate for Governor, enjoyed a good sleep in Bismarck today, after having spoken at the Auditorium last night. Mr. Halvorson had voted in Minot by absent voter's ballot. He planned to visit friends in Mandan today, and go to Fargo tonight, before returning to Minot.

Mr. Halvorson plainly showed the effects of the strenuous campaign, but his voice was in fair condition, and aside from a weariness that comes from the long grind of speech-making and hard traveling, he was in fine spirits.

DAWES VOTES IN EVANSTON

Candidate Quickly Marks His Ballot at Polls

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 4.—Marking his ballot from a lead pencil from his own pocket instead of the customary blue pencil furnished by election officials, Charles G. Dawes voted shortly before noon in the first precinct of the third ward, Evanston. Mrs. Dawes voted at the same time.

"It did not take you very long to mark your ballot," a friend remarked to Mrs. Dawes as she left the polling place.

"I had it all figured out myself, some days ago, inasmuch as Charles had declined to give me any advice," she answered.

PRESIDENT'S FATHER VOTES

Plymouth, Vt., Nov. 4.—Col. John Coolidge, father of the President, was the first to cast his vote when the polls opened in this town, the President's birthplace. Col. Coolidge hitched up his horse and buggy and drove to the voting place, accompanied by his housekeeper. There the ballots were cast in boxes, which were better pails improvised.

"VOTES HER STRAIGHT"

Locust Valley, N. Y., Nov. 4.—John W. Davis voted in Glenn Cove shortly before noon today. His ballot was number 292, and he said when he stepped out of the booth it might be safely assumed he had voted "the Democratic ticket straight." Mrs. Davis accompanied the candidate.

LAFOLLETTE AT HOME

Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, independent presidential candidate, went to the Dane county courthouse early today and cast his ballot, accompanied by his sons, Robert Jr. and Phillip. Mr. LaFollette will spend the rest of the day with friends and at Maple Bluffs, his farm home, just outside of Madison and receive election returns tonight at the state house.

THREE DIE IN FISHING TRIP

Mystery Surrounds Death of Minneapolis Man

Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—Bodies of three Minneapolis men, who met death while on a fishing and hunting trip, were found by deputy sheriffs Sunday at Twin Lakes in Brooklyn Center township, Hennepin county.

The dead are:

James M. Dahl, 42 years old, 3901 Queen avenue north, a woodworker.

Aslak Tonstad, 30 years old, 3901 Queen avenue north, a woodworker.

Bernhard Hanson, 42 years old, 3838 Russell avenue north, a carpenter.

Dahl's body was found in a boat, Tonstad's body on the shore, face down, and Hanson's body beside the boat, partly out of shallow water. There were evidences of a struggle which came, apparently after their small craft had capsized.

Lungs Are Empty

Dr. Gilbert Seashore, Hennepin county coroner, said death probably was caused by exposure. There was no water in the lungs, he said.

Dr. Seashore, who conducted a post mortem examination of the bodies of Dahl and Tonstad at the county morgue Sunday afternoon, said traces of alcohol were found in their stomachs.

Hanson's stomach was not examined. Dahl is survived by a wife and six children. Tonstad was unmarried. Hanson leaves a wife.

PROBE STARTS AS RIOTS IN NILES CEASE

All Military to be Out of the City Tomorrow, Commander Says

Niles, Ohio, Nov. 4.—(By the A.P.)—With peace and order restored here, military, county and city officials today turned their attention to fixing the responsibility for Saturday's rioting between the Ku Klux Klan and the anti-Klansmen, which occurred while Klansmen were preparing to parade.

The list of those wounded as a result of the skirmishes remained at five.

Only a comparatively few National Guardsmen remained on duty. Most of these, Major-General Hough, in charge of the city, proclaimed under qualified martial law by Governor Donahy after rioting began, said would be home in time to cast their ballots in tomorrow's election.

Investigation into the rioting, which was started by military authorities yesterday was continued today.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Bismarck Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Bismarck resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. N. F. Reynolds, 417 Mandan Ave., says: "I suffered from pains through my back and kidneys and other symptoms of kidney trouble. My ankles swelled and I found it difficult to get my shoes on at times. After trying several remedies without the least help, I finally got Doan's Pills at the Lenthart Drug Co. After using them, all of the trouble disappeared."

Over twelve years later, Mrs. Reynolds says: "I have used Doan's since and obtained prompt relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Reynolds had. Foster-McMillan Co., Bismarck, N. D.—Adv.

PROGRESSIVE MOTHERS CLUB MEETS

The Progressive Mothers club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lowell Taft, with a fine program which was as follows:

Roll Call—Household Suggestions.

Paper—"The Problem of the Modern Family"—Mrs. Earl Sparks.

Round Table Discussion—Family Finances.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

TO SPEND SOME TIME HERE

Mrs. J. M. Devine arrived in Bismarck, Saturday evening, accompanied by her daughters and son-in-law, Miss Helen Devine and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Kell. Mr. Kell will remain for a visit before returning to Chicago, where Mr. and Mrs. Kell have been living since their marriage the second of last June. Mrs. Kell will join him there later. Mr. Devine has rented the residence of Mrs. N. L. Call on Avenue A, where they will make their home for some months.

ENTERTAINS TUESDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. E. B. Strauss entertained the members of the Tuesday Bridge club yesterday afternoon at her home, 223 First street. Honors were won by Mrs. A. E. Brink and Mrs. J. C. Taylor. Refreshments were served at the close of the games.

TO HOLD THANKSGIVING SOCIAL

The regular social meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid will be held in the church parlors, Thursday afternoon, with the committee from the first division entertaining. A Thanksgiving program will be given. Come and bring a guest.

BAPTIST AID TO MEET

Baptist ladies will meet at the farm home of Mrs. Wilbert Field and Mrs. J. A. Field on Thursday afternoon, October 6th. The ladies are asked to meet at the Baptist church at 2 o'clock. Cars will be provided.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS VOTE

The students of the Bismarck High in a vote taken on sample ballots yesterday gave for president, Coolidge 277; Davis 29; LaFollette 79. For governor they gave Halvorson 201 and Sorlie 164.

JOINS FRATERNITY

A. C. Bischoff, formerly of this city and who is attending the Agricultural college, was pledged to Kappa Psi fraternity.

AT THE MOVIES

Of his many deeds of daring, few equal in reckless-ness the latest performance of Tom Mix in his new Fox picture, "The Trouble Shooter," which comes to the Capitol theatre tomorrow for two days.

Riding into the mountains to make repairs on wires ripped down by a terrific storm, Mix, playing the role of a repair man, rides his remarkable little horse, Tony, across a narrow, swaying trestle directly ahead of a speeding train. The scene is one of the most thrilling Mix ever made and it was only after considerable persuasion that he urged Tony to the task.

Again in a ride through a blinding snow storm, Mix teaches the indomitable little horse to wear snow shoes. Between the two of them, there are more unique stunts of novel daring than even Mix and Tony ever attempted before.

THE ELTINGE

"Her Love Story" with Gloria Swanson in the leading role which is being shown at the Eltinge theatre today and Thursday is taken from Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "Her Majesty, the Queen" which was published in Cosmopolitan magazine.

Gloria shows in "Her Love Story" what happens to a princess who tries to marry the man of her choice. He isn't a prince but to the princess he is everything that is good and true and noble, and she loves him. She does marry him, without the consent of her father, and then her troubles begin. In absorbing detail the plot unfolds the manner in which the lovers are parted, and the princess forced into an unhappy marriage with a disolute King.

Leap Year Dance Friday, Nov. 7, 1924, at the A. O. U. W. Hall. Given by the Daughters of Norway. Tickets $1.00 including supper. Public invited.

FRINGE USED EFFECTIVELY

This frock shows you how fringe may be used effectively and yet so conservatively that it is not out of place on a tailored frock. The fringe is made of the material, which is closely woven black rayon, and applied so that the white underlining shows through the slits. The leather bag worn at the belt is of brilliant red with perforations and a silk tassel.

CRANBERRY JELLY

Cranberry jelly will keep all winter if you put it while hot in jelly glasses and cover with paraffin.

Cook By Wire

GREATER N. D. EFFORT GIVEN ROTARY BOOST

John F. Sullivan Speaks on Plan at Luncheon Here Today

The guests at the Rotary luncheon this noon included Governor R. A. Nestos, Roy Baird, Rotarian of Dickinson, John F. Sullivan, President of Mandan Rotary, and Jason E. Wade and L. C. Sorlie of Bismarck.

Secretary Ray Bergeson read several letters of thanks from the Bismarck teachers in appreciation of the recent Ladies Night at which the teachers were guests.

President V. J. LaRose read a letter from Lloyd Spetz Post No. 1 of the American Legion requesting the closing of places of business from 12:30 P. M. to 4 P. M. for the observance of Armistice Day in conformity with recommendations of the Retail Merchants' Committee of the Association of Commerce.

T. B. Atkinson gave a short talk on Business Ethics, dwelling principally on the activities of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

John F. Sullivan spoke on behalf of the Greater North Dakota Association now being organized to inform the stockholders in North Dakota of their state and the outside world as to our true situation with the definite purpose of setting aside some of the adverse criticism that has been heaped upon the state of North Dakota.

He told of North Dakota's original position in school geography as part of the "Great Western Desert," and said that if we are to sell North Dakota to settlers we must sell it to ourselves.

He took up the North Dakota We are going to sell and stated that it would take one million miners working eight hours a day, 228 years to mine the coal in the western part of the state. Discussing agricultural products, he said that the total agricultural products of the state for 1923 amounted to 266 millions of dollars or $309 per capita while for 1924 they will amount to 280 millions of dollars with 122 millions of diversified products, a per capita wealth created from the soil of $500.

He said that North Dakota was the home of the greatest bee industry in the world and as for corn we are only 1 1/2 bushels behind the average yield for Iowa. He concluded with a firm impression of faith in North Dakota and a plea for optimism.

Tie Feature of Gown

Ornate in materials but not in line in this afternoon gown of ecru silk lace over henna-colored charmeuse bordered with flying squirrel in soft brown. A unique effect is gained in the tie, which extends to the neckline, though generously looped up at the waistline. This is an excellent model for the woman of generous build.

Constipation makes bright children dull—give them relief with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and leads to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It causes regular, healthy, normal action. For it works as nature works. It is ALL bran.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.

The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nut-like flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable.

Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, to your children today. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

A LIFE RAY

(Denver News)

Much has been written of late regarding so-called "death rays" which like the eye of the fabulous basilisk strike their dead. To be used in the next "scientific" war, and it is true that the laboratories of the great nations are centering on something of the kind, several of them having produced already devices for directing at a distance submarines and airplanes filled with explosives. Enough of that. Now let us deal with a "life ray" that is in use to break through at sea or on the coast. It is part of "radio," the guidance of energy through space. On the island of Inchkeith in the Firth of Forth, an apparatus that harnesses wireless energy into a ray or beam is in use. During foggy weather, when the lighthouse by itself is of little or no service, the new apparatus is started and two beams of wireless energy sweep the waters of the Forth. As the meridian of the beam passes through the various points of the compass there is a series of flickers which are invisible to the naked eye but which are caught by a small apparatus installed on a ship's bridge. This latter apparatus acts as eyes to the navigating officer whose duty it is to steer the ship, telling him through the medium of musical notes and dashes what his bearings are in reference to the lighthouse on the coast. The heaviest fog cannot dampen it. The new plan has been in operation nearly a year and it has served admirably its purpose. Very soon the dangers of fog at sea will be reduced to a minimum. I do not know what energy is, we know that it is part of life. The aim of modern science is to take advantage of that universal energy and harness it into doing small and big things. Condensing the sun's rays was worked for war purposes twenty-five centuries ago and we are not far advanced in that line today; but in others giant strides have been made. The wireless ray of energy is being directed in a beam or spot upon a given place and what is spoken or thought of the earth can be heard at the Antipodes. Clear speech is heard between Cornwall and Australia through the new Marconi "beam" system. At the recently held annual meeting of his company, Marconi stated that the new way of broadcasting eliminated to a large extent atmospheric disturbances, provided for secrecy in wireless and greatly reduced the cost of installation. A power one-fourth of the old is sufficient. The same principle which is behind universal speech by radio, which guides ships free from the rocks and that does many other things, is the same energy that "destructive science" is using to make war so awful in its possibilities that man may reject war to save his civilization.

FORGETTING THE UNPLEASANT

By Albert Apple

How's your memory? Mawn Lipowsky, Russian memory wizard, who is astounding American university professors with his extraordinary mental stunts, denies that young boys and girls have the best memories. Until now, we were unaware that any such notion prevailed. However—

Adults over 20 years of age have the best and the most retentive memories, says the Russian wiz.

This should interest the public, judging by the success of organizations that train the memory.

Unfortunately, we have more details to remember than our ancestors. Great-grandfather, for instance, may have had nothing to remember except that he must get to the cooerage factory and be sure to take his lunch with him.

Today the office worker arrives on the job and picks up the threads of hundreds of uncompleted tasks. His memory is so taxed that he can't trust it. He has to rely mainly on memo pads and other reminders.

The brain, grown accustomed to relying on "memory reminders," naturally gets in the habit of letting the jotted note do the work. The real memory becomes unreliable, weakened by disuse. However, does that matter much? What is the difference, just so we have a system for not forgetting?

The brain has an opposite function that has never been given the attention it deserves—namely, the ability to forget. Children have this ability. They forget because they want to. Many a child is honest, insisting that he doesn't recall having done such and such a taboo.

We forget the things we want to forget. Like the man who dislikes repaying loans, or who "puts out of his mind" the unpleasant things of life.

When nerves get on edge, this instinctive "forgettiness," the opposite of memory, asserts itself. A man tosses in bed, going over and over the details of what he did today or plans to do or say tomorrow.

Considerable of the unpleasantness of life is due to inability to forget. But a forgettiness can be cultivated, quite as much as memory can be improved.

Consider how easily the average politician forgets his promises, after he's elected.

A RESULT TO BE WATCHED

For the next few days attention of all the people will be centered upon the success or failure of candidates in the election of Tuesday. Another result which will attract wide attention a little later on is the success or failure of the "get out the vote" movement in the country. It was only in the last few months that the people generally were acquainted with the fact that the United States is being ruled by a minority—a small percentage of the people electing the successful candidates.

President Coolidge and other notables joined in the campaign this fall to get a full vote to the polls, regardless of political convictions. Much has been done by volunteer organizations to further the movement. The feeling has been expressed that the nation is safe if all of its citizens participate in the government. It could hardly be otherwise, for it is not conceivable that a great majority of the citizens would vote their own destruction. A misguided or arrogant minority might through support of ill-advised policies greatly weaken the government.

If a great majority of the voters of the country did not go to the polls Tuesday, the campaign will have to be renewed with vigor before the next election.

MARVEL

Did you hear about the strange case of Sim Tiana, boy in the public schools of Fairmont, W. Va.? Sam has what is called "mirrored vision." He reads, sees and writes backward. To read his writing, teacher has to look at its reflection in a mirror.

This is a handicap in many ways.

But the handicap doesn't bother Sam. He doesn't THINK backward, unlike many people. His handicap keeps him alert. For instance, when he sees an auto swooping down from the right, he has to remember that it's really coming from the left.

TELEPATHY

It man ever communicates with people on Mars, it will be by telepathy, not radio or airplane. Flammarion, the great French astronomer, voiced that prediction last December.

It two radio machines can transmit a message between each other, there's no reason why two human brains can't do the same. The brain is infinitely superior to its products, of which radio is just one. Telepathy—thought transference—may be the eventual worldwide language, not spoken Esperanto. Genius already gets "inspiration" from some far-off unknown source—telepathy, "brain radio."

GERMAN BOOM

A business boom in Germany is expected soon by the world's leading bankers and business men. But experts say it'll be some time before this boom takes the form of huge exports of German-made goods in competition with American and other wares.

Germany's industrial slump was chiefly due to the decline in the German people's buying power. They are so far behind in buying things they need that they stand ready to absorb nearly the entire output of German industry. But she'll show up later in the world markets on a powerful scale.

FIRST

Printing was invented by the Chinese instead of Europeans, claims Professor Carter of Columbia University. He says he has proof. More than 600 years before Gutenberg was born, orientals were printing from wooden blocks. They had movable type, made of earthenware, about three and a half centuries before Gutenberg reached his cradle.

However, it doesn't matter much who invented it, as long as we have it. Like most inventions, it's the cumulative work of many individuals of many generations—not only one man.

SERVICE

The existence of a transportation company is only justified by its degree of service to the public. Who says so? A "radical"? No. The speaker is Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways.

Applying his theory: The primary function of a railroad is service to the public, not just money-making.

Thornton properly suggests that the principle applies to individuals in their relation to the public, quite as much as to railroads.

PAYING DEBTS

It is difficult to keep up with the times. Many still say: "Uncle Sam will never get back that money he lent to Europe during the war."

As a matter of fact, foreign governments have already paid back 300 million dollars of principal and 850 million dollars in the form of interest, according to the New York Trust Co.

STOLEN

Nothing is safe from thieves these days. Church poor boxes are frequently robbed. And now three cases of Bibles are stolen from a parked motortruck in New York City.

Loot is what they want, and they are indifferent as to what kind. Honor among thieves? Possibly in Robin Hood's day. No longer.

WORTH OF FINGERS

How much are your fingers worth to you? What would you sell one for? A 15-year-old boy in New Jersey is awarded $43,000 by a jury for the loss of nine fingers caught in machinery.

That's nearly $5000 a finger. He has only one finger left. If he had them back, he wouldn't sell them for a million.

LETTER FROM MRS. SALLY ATHON TO JAMES CONDON

I expect, Jimmie dear, that by this time your anger is at white heat because I haven't answered your letter.

I know you expected I would answer the momentous announcement of your engagement immediately, but you must remember that my time for the last two weeks has been taken up entirely with Mr. Prescott's business.

By this time you have probably been officially notified that Mr. Hamilton appointed Mr. Prescott the executor of his estate and manager of the steel plant. I know this was not a surprise to you as you wrote me in your letter that you expected that this was what would happen if Mr. Hamilton did not survive his illness.

I don't know, however, if you have heard that we are going to move over the first of the month. Leslie is going to remain with her mother while Mr. Prescott comes over and moves me and the other office furniture over there. Then after we get settled in the business, Leslie will come here and close her apartment and return to Pittsburg.

I expect Mr. Prescott here day after tomorrow, as he has informed me that he wants to get into harness as soon as possible. He has already tendered his resignation to the president of the Acme Advertising Company and it has been accepted.

Even if he doesn't get it, he has saved that much.

It's awful to be just rich enough to make your wife wish she could afford a fur coat.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

There's the gutter! — THE AIR WILL TAKE CARE OF YOUR SMOKE !!!

Tom Sims Says

And by the time we thought up a new costume for a masque ball we decided to go as a nervous wreck.

We wouldn't send a daughter of ours to a dance with a drunk, not even if we had a dozen daughters.

The first reliable sign of old age is when a man starts thinking the rising generation is going to the dogs.

Woman in Stubeville, O., shot her husband instead of poisoning him, which was rather old-fashioned of her.

The man who kicks because the rat gets under his feet, should try keeping goldfish instead.

The circus ring isn't as amusing as the political ring.

And political machines, as you may have heard, use a lot of gas.

Dealers say we are smoking less tobacco, but don't say more what.

The world, says a scientist, shakes like jelly; but maybe he has been going to too many dances.

THE LATENT CABLE

(Reading Tribune)

The famous story of "How Cyrus Lind the Cable" has its counterpart in the laying of a new ocean cable by the Western Union Telegraph company, under the direction of President Newcomb Carlton.

Mr. Carlton has a theory that a more efficient cable could be made of a new metal called "permalloy" an alloy of nickel and iron in definite proportions. He thought it would be so much more effective that a direct cable could be laid all the way from New York to Italy, instead of the usual short jumps and relays. There was no way to tell except to try it, so Mr. Carlton spent $4,000,000 of his company's money laying the cable.

The result exceeded expectations. Shorter cables of the old type will carry only 250 to 400 letters a minute. The new cable carries 1,700 letters a minute. The improvement results from the greater "magnetic permeability" of the new metal—it transmits magnetic waves many times better than soft iron.

All this is very fine, and will lead to more such cables and will result, sooner or later, in cheaper cablegrams between America and the other countries. Yet it is not the optical-magnetic feat it might be if wireless and radio were not making such rapid progress. Cables may soon be the mere draught horses of oceanic communication, relinquishing all the quick work to the etherial post-boys, that make their own way, by land or sea, with the speed of light.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Oh dear, save me, save me!" cried the cook, as he sailed toward the sky on the magic dust-pan.

The King of Yum Yum Land woke up where he had been doing beside the fire (after the big dinner he had eaten "n all) and ran and looked up at the sky.

And the peddler, who had really caused all the trouble, squinted his eyes and looked up at the sky, too.

And Nancy and Nick and Daddy Gander came out of their hiding place, and they also looked up at the sky.

"He's run off with my magic dust-pan," exclaimed Daddy Gander in dismay. "Now what shall we do? We never, never, never can find the House-That-Jack-Lost. We can't even get back to Mother Goose Land. We'll have to stay all the rest of our lives in Yum Yum Land."

"He's run off with the magic fork!" cried the king. "Here I traded my throne for it, and now I have nothing. What's more, I shall starve to death."

"Well, I'm in just as bad a fix as anybody," declared the peddler. "Here I am with a throne and a country to rule and nobody to feed me. The cook's gone and the magic fork is gone and everything's gone. I don't want to be king any more. And he took off his crown and his velvet cloak, and began to cry.

"But you have the magic teapot!" said Nancy. "You reached it through the window and got it. It must be around somewhere."

"It's my teapot," said the king. "I traded my throne for it."

"It isn't any such thing! It's my teapot," said the peddler drying his tears. "It was mine in the first place and now I've got it again and I'm going to keep it. It's bad enough to starve to death. But it's worse to die of thirst."

"All right," said the king. "Keep your old teapot." So he put on his crown and he put on his robe, and trudged dismally back to the palace.

"Well," said the peddler cheerfully to Nancy and Nick and Daddy Gander. "What will you have? Ice cream—sodas, or hot chocolate or pink lemonade?"

"Oh, I guess we'd better not have anything," said Nancy, looking up at the sky where the cook was fast disappearing among the clouds. He was only a tiny speck now, and they could no longer hear him crying for someone to save him.

"May as well," said the peddler. "Tomorrow's always another day. Say I. One day a king, the next a beggar, one day a feast, the next day a famine."

"Well, then," said Nick. "I'll have a vanilla ice cream soda."

"I'll have the same," said Nancy.

"And I'll have the same," said Daddy Gander.

"Guess I'll have the same myself," declared the peddler.

So he said: "Go do your best, go do your worst, Or teapot, dear, we'll die of thirst. "Make it four vanilla ice cream sodas."

Almost instantly four glasses appeared in a neat row. And the teapot poured and poured into each one until all the glasses were full of lovely smelling frothy soda water.

And the Twins and Daddy Gander began to drink.

They drained each glass to the last drop and then something happened.

New York, Nov. 5.—Sunday in the ghetto. Streets littered with trash from Saturday night's market. Wholesale clothing houses doing flourishing business with Jewish retailers who observe Saturday as Sabbath.

Fine limousines drawn up before ramshackle tenements in Elizabeth, Jersey and Baxter streets. Well-dressed sons and daughters visiting fathers and mothers. The older generation refuses to leave the scene of early labors and domestic dramas, although children would gladly have parents live with them.

Do not believe that only poverty and crime exist in this crowded tenement district. Many of its inhabitants could buy and sell social climbers of Riverside Drive and Park avenue.

At the western end of Manhattan Bridge, Burns asked in the grass, some with their shoes removed to rest their feet. Others lean over the stone rail to watch the machines.

representing possession, permanency of home, comfort. Ten traffic cops directing those machines at one corner. They flow by in unbroken line, and remind one of logs coming down a stream, end to end.

In Delancey street on Sunday you may see children surrounding news stands, some of them almost on their hands as they try to read the colored comic while the vendor has his back turned. Their parents buy foreign-language papers which have no funnies.

Then one kid will come up with a penny and buy the comic sheet and the others will scamper away to lie on their little bellies on the walk and read at their leisure.

Then a young man will buy the want ad section for two cents and sit down to hunt a job for the morrow.

I doubt if there is another place in the country where newspapers are sold piece-meal.

—JAMES W. DEAN.

FABLES ON HEALTH— GROWING CHILDREN

"My goodness, it seems like the children grow an inch a day," Mr. Jones would say as he returned from work and looked over his little brood.

Many children seem to grow too fast and some to sprout up all too slowly. Experts have worked out tables showing the sizes children should have attained at certain years, and these are interesting to all parents.

Between the ages 6 and 11 children should grow about two inches a year. Between 12 and 17 normal growth is not more than two inches a year.

Girls who will be short of stature grow three inches between 12 and 13; short boys do not exceed a growth of two inches a year and most stout boys grow three inches between 13 and 14; tall boys grow three inches a year between 15 and 14 and 14 and 13.

At the age of 15 stature, ranging from short to tall, run about in this order:

Boys—Short, 58 inches; medium, 63 inches; tall, 70 inches.

Girls—Short, 59 inches; medium, 62 inches, and tall, 68 inches.

"DEMONS" WILL MEET VALLEY TEAM FRIDAY

Locals Accept Invitation to Play Title Game in Valley City

Bismarck High School's "Demons" will contest Valley City in the semi-finals of the state high school football championship at Valley City Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Coach Morrison of the local high school.

The winner of the game will meet the winner of the Devils Lake-Minot contest for the championship of state high school football.

The local athletic authorities invited Valley City to play in Bismarck next Saturday, but the Valley City management countered with an invitation and a guarantee larger than the local manager felt able to give for the game. The locals are guaranteed $450.

Bismarck played Valley City early in the season, being defeated 30 to 9. The game was played on a muddy field, and it was a green Bismarck team against a veteran Valley City team. The locals have improved so rapidly, in spite of the loss of Register and Hillman, that Bismarck's managers are confident that Valley City is in for a real scrap.

Uphaw of Jamestown will referee, and McFarland will be umpire.

SELECTS KELLY MOST VALUABLE UTILITY PLAYER

By NEA Service
Cincinnati, Nov. 4.—Manager Jack Hendricks of the Reds considers George Kelly of the New York Giants the most valuable utility player in the National League, if not both major organizations.

The fine showing of Kelly in the world series, despite the fact that he struck out twice in a pinch in the final game, bears out Hendricks' opinion of him.

Kelly is a great first baseman—a fine target for the infielders. He has a wonderful arm and is a dangerous hitter.

Filling in at second base in the series when Frisch was moved over to third, Kelly saved the first game by a remarkable play on Goslin. In the outfield he played equally well.

There are few players in the majors who perform in the infield or outfield as capably as Kelly does.

Billy Evans Says

It is rather surprising that the colleges of the country have never seriously objected to football eligibility rules as enforced at West Point.

At a majority of the colleges freshmen are not permitted to play. This makes it possible for an athlete to play only three years of varsity football, provided he has the ability to make the team in his sophomore year.

At West Point no such rules are observed. As a matter of fact many of the Army's best men are former college stars, who have played their allotted three years elsewhere.

For football the athlete of from 22 to 25 is more desirable than the youth of from 18 to 21, all things being equal physically.

The well conditioned athlete of more mature years is much better able to stand up under the grueling that a player must take for 60 minutes of actual playing time.

In any sport other than football the few added years might serve as a handicap but not on the gridiron.

Three of the stars of the 1924 Army eleven won fame elsewhere on the gridiron before receiving an Army appointment. They are graybeards, veterans, from a football standpoint.

Garbisch, center and captain, is one of the best in the country, is serving his eighth year as a varsity player. Prior to coming to West Point he starred for four years at W. & J.

It is not difficult to figure the handicap some chap of say 18, a sophomore playing his first year of college football, would be up against when facing Garbisch. Hardly seems fair.

In the backfield Tiny Hewitt, a former University of Pittsburgh player, and Harry Wilson, a sensation with Penn State last year, comprise much of the Army's offense.

It is really surprising that the Army, with this added advantage of using former college stars, does not make a better showing. No institution other than West Point could get away with it without having rival colleges yelling murder.

One of the changes of the football rules for 1924 was the banishment of the artificial tee used in kicking off. So far this rule has not worked out very well from the standpoint of the team doing the kicking.

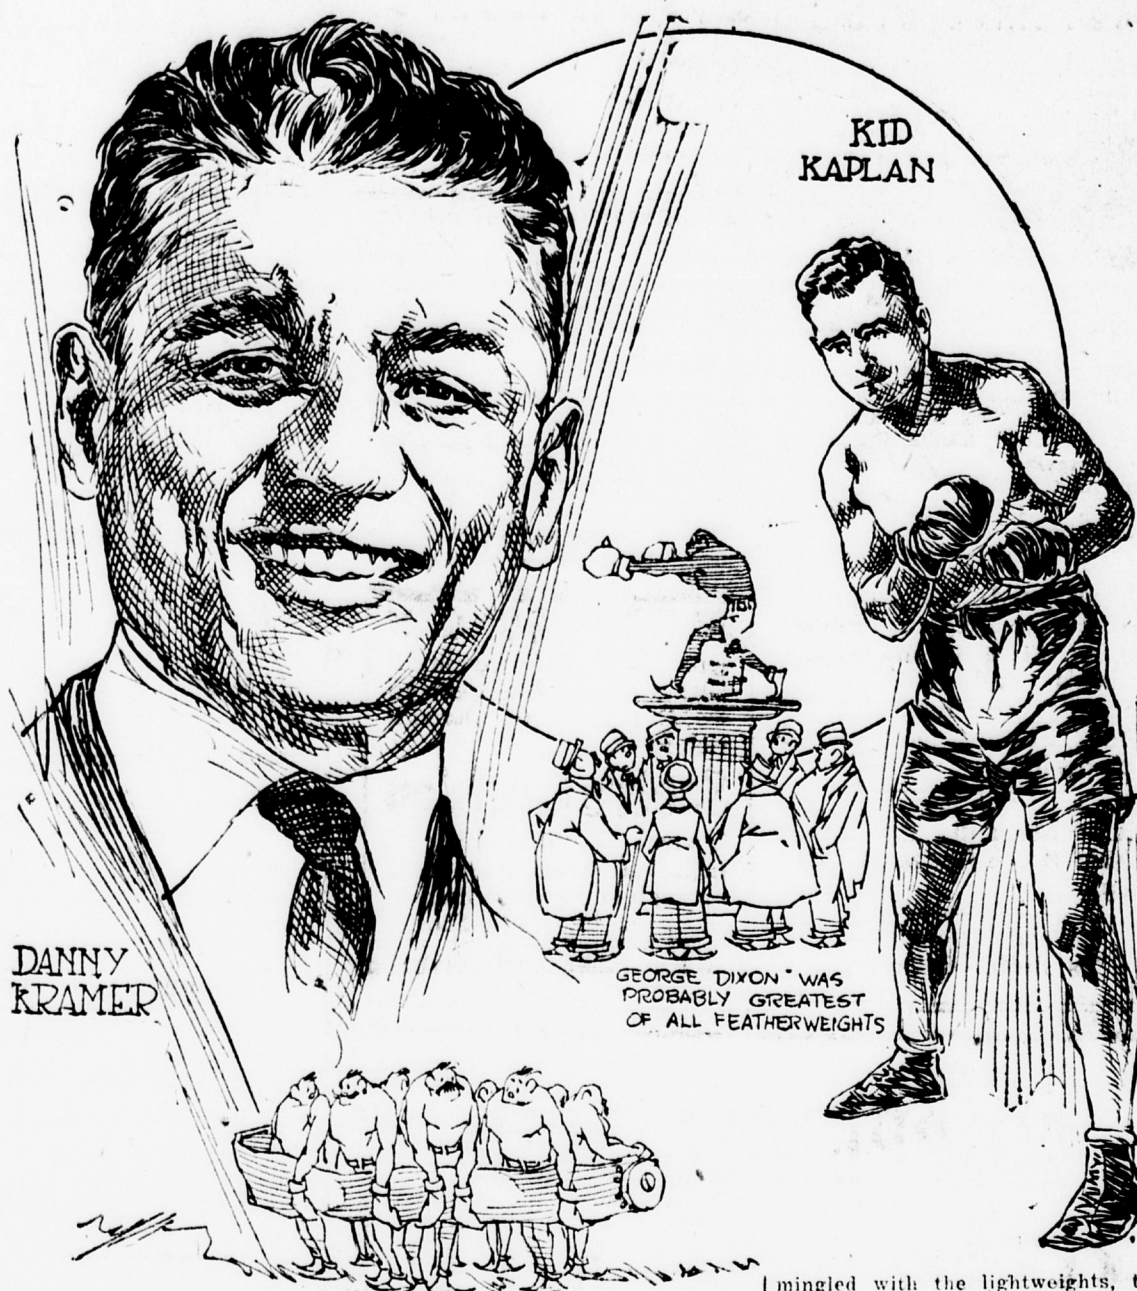

With the use of the tee it was possible to regulate the kicks to a certain extent. A high or low ball could be kicked, according to the position of the ball on the tee.

In a recent game I saw at Syracuse with Boston College, not over three good kickoffs were made in the entire game. Often it was necessary to make a second try.

Without a tee the kicks are inclined to be low and fast, giving the team receiving the ball a decided advantage. It offers a chance for in-

KAPLAN OR KRAMER NEXT CHAMPION

One of These Feathers Seems Certain To Win Dundee's Gift Crown

BY JOE WILLIAMS

New York, Nov. 4.—For the first time since 1904, when Young Corbett and Terry McGovern moved up simultaneously to the lightweight division, the featherweights are without a digital dictator.

A Jewish boy, one Abraham Attell, claimed the vacated title then, was matched with Harry Forbes, won by a knockout in five rounds, and was recognized as the champion.

Two Jewish boys are now claiming the title recently outgrown by Johnny Dundee, portly spaghetti addict. One is Louis Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., emigrant from Russia. The other is Danny Kramer of Philadelphia, hard-boiled product of the Quakertown street corners.

Mr. Rickard has been crying eloquently in his consomme because of a dearth of logical opponents. Let him match Kramer with Kaplan, and he will have the next featherweight champion.

Kramer Harder Hitter

interference to form, and makes it almost impossible for the kicking team to stop the man in his tracks.

Thurston, by winning 20 games for the Chicago White Sox, is said to have earned a substantial bonus.

Young Stribling has gone back to school and may play basketball this winter.

George Chaney of Baltimore has a string of knockouts that reach the century mark.

Ed Garvey, former star tackle at Notre Dame, is in New York trying to get on as a professional boxer.

Jerry Travers, former open and amateur champion, was noted for his ability to concentrate.

Bill Melhorn, Missouri professional, has the biggest shoulders in golf. Melhorn used to be a hod-carrier.

Rumor has it that if Miller Huggins retires, Eddie Collins may go to the Yankees as manager.

It is said Cyril Walker made less money out of the open championship last summer than any player who ever held the title.

Certain ball manufacturers paid Walter Hagen $8000 in fees for playing with their special products last summer.

Derrill Pratt, veteran infielder, is slated to be turned loose by Detroit. Pratt intends to take up college coaching when through in the majors.

Homer Hazel of Rutgers, one of the greatest passers and kickers in the country, is showing the form that makes him look to be in for another big year. He was an All-America selection last season.

Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo is coming forward with a rush in the middleweight and light heavyweight division.

Two members of the National League staff of umpires, Quigley and Sweeney, are also football officials. Both are in demand for the big games.

Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame coach, rates the late George Gipp as the greatest football player he ever saw. Real praise.

In Lou Gehrig, the Yankees uncovered a slugger who rivals Babe Ruth. The Bambino has nicknamed Gehrig "Buster."

McTIGUE ON LONG SHOT AT SPRINGS

By NEA Service
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Mike McTigue, light heavyweight champion, has good reason never to forget Master Charley, sensational two-year-old, that is burning up the track these days.

Mike did his summer training at White Sulphur Springs, a few miles from here. Together with Jack Britton and Bartley Madden, Mike paid frequent visits to the Saratoga track. Master Charley was entered in the Hopeful Stakes, one of the feature events of the closing week. Nobody had heard much about him. The field was classy. The opening odds showed Master Charley a 50-to-1 shot.

McTigue had some inside information. A number of fight writers were at White Sulphur Springs at the time watching Luis Firpo train in a hammock for Harry Wills.

"If you newspaper guys want to get rich get a bet down on Master Charley," advised McTigue.

IT HAS BEEN A REGULAR LEAGUE OF NATIONS TITLE

Kramer will beat Kaplan. Kramer is a knocker-out and a southpaw. His left literally explodes in your face. I saw him bang Kid Wolfe on the whiskers several years ago. Wolfe dropped as if he had been shot, and didn't move for 10 minutes.

A week later Wolfe was rammed by an automobile and knocked unconscious. When he came to he wanted to know what Kramer had hit him with. Wolfe himself will tell you this is no joke.

Kaplan is a better all-around workman than Kramer. He is a stiff puncher, if not a knocker-out, and a better defensive fighter. It is not hard to hit Kramer, George Chaney, Baltimore lightweight, knocked him quivering not so long ago.

None of the boys are dropping Kaplan for the count, and he has other big year. He was an All-America selection last season.

Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo is coming forward with a rush in the middleweight and light heavyweight division.

A checkup revealed a total of $3.80 among seven sports writers, or just enough to buy another bottle of Tom Luther's ale.

mingled with the lightweights, too. Kaplan showed up Pal Moran worse than Benny Leonard did, and he bounced enough punches off Johnny Shugrue's noble pan to earn the decision.

Here's One Sure Bet

You are reasonably safe in making a wager that the name of the next featherweight champion will begin with "K."

Kilbane was the last "K" to hold the title and Kilby was, in some respects, a great little champion. This writer never saw, for one thing, anybody with a better one-two punch.

The featherweight division has been represented at the top by more different nationalities than any other fighting group.

George Dixon, probably greatest of all feathers, was a negro. Little Chocolate they called him, and he held the title on three different occasions.

Billy Plimmer and Ben Jordan were both English boys. Kilbane was emphatically Irish.

Attell Jewish, Criqui French and Dundee Italian.

Of course the nag won. And McTigue claimed to be down for $400 worth at opening odds. No wonder he didn't do any fighting last summer!

Renault Gets Success With Britton's Left

By NEA Service
Montreal, Nov. 4.—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, who is in line for a fight with Jack Dempsey, depends mainly on a left hand.

Renault says he learned the use of this hand from Jack Britton, veteran welterweight.

Renault uses it in much the same way Britton used to, shooting it straight to the head and body.

The effect on an opponent is that of being hit by a stick.

It is not a felling punch but a series of them bring total destruction.

Freak Stunts Feature Recent World Series

By NEA Service
Washington, Nov. 4.—No world series ever produced half the unusual situations that cropped out in the 1924 event. For instance:

Walker Johnson struck out 12 men, yet was beaten 4 to 3 in 12 innings.

Catcher Tate, second string catcher to Muddy Ruel of Washington, was sent to the bat three times as a pinch hitter and drew a walk on each occasion.

Pitcher Marberry of Washington worked in four of the seven games, three of them on successive days. He saved the second game by striking out Jackson for the final out of the contest on three pitched balls.

Pitcher Jonnard of the New York Giants, sent in as relief pitcher, was allowed to pitch only five balls before being derelicted. He walked the first man to face him on four straight, three one ball to the next batter and then got the gate.

In a pinch in the final game,

ROCKNE'S MASCOT

Notre Dame Coach Isn't Superstitious, But Strong For Terry

ROCKNE AND HIS MASCOT

While Coach Knute Rockne works on the theory that football games are won through merit, not superstition, he has a decided fondness for the Airedale shown in the picture.

Rockne regards Mascot Terry as an omen of good luck, and wouldn't think of starting a game without having the Airedale on the scene of battle.

upsetting the dope in the clash of his Ohio State team with Illinois. He believes that he can bottle up the Illinois star.

Nebraska is the only team that has played Illinois in the last two years that has prevented Grange from running wild and scoring one or more touchdowns.

The two games with Nebraska have been played on an early date and no doubt Grange was held back to a certain extent.

Another thing, the heavy Nebraska line outcharged Illinois and made it difficult for Grange to get started.

The Nut Cracker

Perhaps you noticed that among those who did not attend Walter

Johnson's home-coming celebration was John J. McGraw.

Whether he realizes it or not, Mr. Rockne of Notre Dame is doing a whole lot to discourage the practice of inter-sectional football games.

Young Stribling has returned to his books and we suspect the most important one is his checkbook.

A Mexican heavyweight has arrived in New York. You can tell he is a Mexican heavyweight because his reservation calls for a room without bath.

Returning to France, Epinard is probably convinced the national slogan of this country is, "Excuse my dust."

Gil Dobie of Cornell has never had any confidence in his teams and it must please him to know the fans are with him for once.

Dundee is known as the Indian rubber man of the ring. Well, he's managed to stretch his career out longer than most of 'em.

They say no chain is stronger than its weakest link. Mr. O'Goofy wants to know if the same logic applies to country sausage.

After all, the prizefighter manager who always boasts "My boy will win sure" has nothing on the gents handling the political destinies of Messrs. Coolidge, La Follette and Davis.

Any hardened sport observer will tell you there are times when a yellow streak has considerable to do with a losing streak.

Mr. McGraw is sending back postcards. "Having fine time. Wish you were here." But none of them are going to Bucky Harris or Goose Goslin.

The statistical season can not be considered closed until the official average of the year's fly-swattling champion is announced.

MANDAN NEWS

FINE CHURCH FAIR

All records for receipts at church have been broken Sunday at the annual fete of the Catholic church there. More than 900 people were served at a splendid chicken dinner in the basement of the church, while the school house was jammed thru out the day by merry-makers participating in the various money raising events. A large number of people from Hebron, Almont, New Salem, Mandan and the rural territory north and south of Glen Ullin helped swell the crowd. The Glen Ullin Band under the leadership of Tom Homer helped to liven things with generous concerts.

MASONIC MEETING

R. E. Wenzel, grand orator of the North Dakota Masonic grand lodge, and head of the Council, will deliver an address on the "Constitution" at the Masonic Service association meeting at the Masonic hall tonight.

Mr. Wenzel is an orator of unusual ability and has an interesting message for the members of the order. There will be a social session after the meeting, refreshments, and the officers of the lodge have arranged to secure an election return service as a special feature.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

From Tower County

Citizens State Bank, a corporation, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. M. J. Geisen, Defendant-Appellant.

Syllabus: In an action at law to recover stipulated payments in a contract for a deed, where the defense was asserted that plaintiff, by a written contract, had released the vendee from all liability upon the contract, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion:—

(a) That defendant, having made a motion for a new trial, is limited upon appeal to the grounds of error specified in the motion for a new trial in the lower court.

(b) That the findings of the trial court are presumed to be correct unless clearly opposed to the preponderance of the evidence.

In District Court, Tower County, Burdett, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. M. J. Geisen, Defendant-Appellant.

Syllabus: Upon an appeal from an order of the Board of Railroad Commissioners requiring a railway company to construct an underpass in its right of way for purposes of the Theodore Roosevelt Highway being constructed under Federal Aid, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion:—

(a) That, as against constitutional objections, the Board of Railroad Commissioners, under Chap. 272, Laws 1923, may require the abolition of existing grade crossings.

(b) That the record, as made before the Board of Railroad Commissioners, without objection, is sufficient.

(c) That the evidence is sufficient to sustain the finding of the Railroad Commissioners that the grade crossing involved is dangerous to life and property.

In District Court, Ward County, Lowe, J. Appellant railway company has appealed from the judgment of the district court sustaining an order of the Board of Railroad Commissioners requiring the installation of an underpass upon the Theodore Roosevelt Highway near Des Lacs.

Affirmed. Opinion of the Court by Bronson, Ch. J.

Murphy & Toner, Grand Forks, N. D., Attorneys for Appellant.

G. E. Shafer, Attorney General, Bismarck, N. D., Attorneys for Respondent.

News of Our Neighbors

MOFFIT

Mr. W. Edson, Miss Lucille Mockle and Mrs. John Benz, of Moffit, who were on the sick list last week are all on the road to "health" again.

Mrs. Johnson and daughters of McKenzie, were callers at the Fred Wikström home in Moffit, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coder and family have returned from a trip to the Minnesota "twin cities."

Born Oct. 27, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kendal Jr. at Moffit a son. The Kendal Jr. family are now the proud parents of three boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrel Kruse and child of Minneapolis, visited at the Edward Kruse home in Moffit, during the past week. They returned to their home in Minnesota via motor car.

A lively charivari was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Werner at their home in Moffit, on Oct. 26, in honor of the recent Werner marriage. Lovely treats were served to all callers of the evening.

Callers at the E. Whiteaker home during the past week. Mr. Charles Anderson, who is running for Commissioner of this district, Mr. Wm. Carrol, Ford representative in this district and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Moffit, all of Moffit.

A lively Pic auction, and lunch was served at the Benz hall, after the show on Halloween. By the ladies of the church. Mr. C. Lowe served as auctioneer, assisted by Fred W. Moffit as auctioneer's ring man. Good prices were received for the pigs; all sea-soned with much merriment and good will. Mr. Lowe danced a jig upon the block (a dry goods box) to the accompaniment of Fred Moffit's shouts, when a record price of two dollars was reached for a delicious pumpkin pie. The sale closed with a lunch of coffee, sandwiches, cake and doughnuts, and all present did full justice to the spread. Another affair in this line will be given soon. The sale and lunch netted a nice sum of money for the benefit of the church debt. Many thanks to all present.

REPEANT EXECUTIONER PEDDLES RUGS

Tiflis, Russia, Nov. 3.—One of the most remarkable and notorious characters in Russia is a Russian-German named Nicholas Shuman, who is called "the terror of the natives" by the natives of Georgia. He is a sinister figure from the fact that for a long time he was the official executioner of the dreaded "cheks" in southern Russia. His victims ran into the thousands.

Shuman is now remorseful for all the heads he has cleared, and has returned from human butchery to rug-selling in the bazaars of Tiflis. He may be seen any day hawking his wares to American or other foreign visitors to the Georgian capital. He is easily identified by the natives by the fact that his harsh, determined face is marked by a deep scar, the result of a violent attack made upon him with a huge iron spike by an angered Georgian whose friends "killed these people," said Shuman.

Paris Measures Road Distances From Tablet

Paris, Nov. 3. Henceforth when the tourist automobiling round Paris will find that he is so many kilometers from the city, he will know that that distance is measured to a bronze slab that has been placed on the open space in front of Notre Dame Cathedral.

This slab, weighing 170 pounds, is set flush with the paving and is inscribed with a diagram showing the points of the compass and the arms of Paris, a ship towed by the waves with the device in Latin to the effect that she will forever float and never be submerged.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT From Divide County

P. N. Moore, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. W. S. Schrage, et al., Defendants. Occident Elevator Company, a foreign corporation, Defendant-Appellant.

SYLLABUS: In an action against an elevator company for the conversion of grain by plaintiff, the owner of the land, holding a contract on grain harvested and threshed by the crop, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that defendant's contention, with reference to variance, misjoinder of causes of action, insufficiency of the evidence, and election of plaintiff, are obviously without merit and that the judgment and order denying judgment on a new trial should be and are in all respects affirmed.

In District Court, Divide County, Moelling, J. Action for the conversion of grain. Defendant has appealed from the judgment and from an order denying judgment on a new trial, or in the alternative for a new trial.

AFFIRMED: Opinion of the Court by Bronson, Ch. J. S. Stuart and Geo. P. Hommes, Crosby, North Dakota, Attorneys for Plaintiff-Respondent.

Conny, Young & Burnett, Fargo, North Dakota, Attorneys for Defendant and Appellant.

DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT From Stutsman County

David Mantz, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. William G. Fischer and Jacob Remmick, Defendants and Appellants.

SYLLABUS: 1. In an action by the payee against the makers of promissory notes, it is held: Parol evidence that money represented by the notes was to be payable only from the net earnings of a threshing outfit was inadmissible as varying the terms of a written contract.

2. For reasons stated in the opinion, it is held that the trial court did not err in refusing to permit the answer to be amended after the trial.

Appeal from the District Court of Stutsman County; Hon. Fred Jansson, Judge. Affirmed.

Opinion of the Court by Birdzell, J. John A. Jorgenson, Esq., Jamestown, N. Dak., Attorney for Appellant.

Messrs. Knaf & Knaf, Jamestown, N. Dak., Attorneys for Respondent.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT From Ramsey County

Julius Anderson, Plaintiff and Appellant, vs. Northwestern Fire & Marine Insurance Company, a corporation, Defendant and Respondent.

DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT From Cass County

Joseph Keller, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. City of Fargo, a municipal corporation, Defendant-Appellant.

SYLLABUS: Upon a second appeal in an action wherein is involved the liability of a contractor for his negligence in doing certain work in laying sewers and constructing water connections whereby the city was compelled to pay damages to a pedestrian injured through the presence of mud upon one of its sidewalks, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion:

1. That the question whether the mud upon the sidewalk was proximately caused, through the negligence of the contractor, by piles of dirt negligently created and erected near or adjacent to the sidewalk, or from foreign causes, was properly for the jury.

2. That the trial court did not err in its instructions and rulings concerning the admission of certain exhibits.

3. That the question of the admission of certain evidence was eliminated by the instructions of the trial court.

In District Court, Cass County, Gooley, J. Action by a contractor to recover from a city a balance due. Counterclaim by the city for negligence in the performance of the contractor's work. From a judgment in the contractor's favor the city has appealed.

TOUGH GAME IS EXPECTED

Valley City Preparing For a Big Crowd Friday

Valley City is making preparation for a record crowd when Bismarck High School's football team plays there Friday in the state high school semi-finals according to word from that city.

While Valley City defeated Bismarck badly early in the season, reports from Valley City say that the Bismarck aggregation is feared because of the rapid improvement of the team in recent games.

Devils Lake and Minot Clash

Minot, N. D., Nov. 5.—Minot and Devils Lake high school football teams, winners of the northwestern and northeastern district championships, respectively, will clash in Minot on next Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. in one of the semi-final games for the state championship, according to information received this afternoon from Harry E. Polk of Williston, one of the members of the state athletic board.

The city in which the game was to be played was decided by Polk, who is a player of a team in Williston.

Negotiations are now in progress in an attempt to secure George Hovels of the North Dakota Agricultural college to serve as referee and L. W. Upshaw of Jamestown to serve as umpire.

ALEXA MAY START ANEW IN FLORIDA

By NEA Service

Atlanta, Nov. 5.—Alexa Stirling may play her first competitive golf in a year in Florida this winter.

The former three-time champion of America was unable to play in the National this year on account of illness. It was the first one she missed in years. In 1923 she was runner-up to Ladd Cummings.

A number of the best women golfers in the country are expected to assemble in Florida this winter, including Miss Dorothy Campbell Hurd, now champion.

The men's amateur and the open champion hips in the south during the winter have always seen many of the top-notch performers in action, but the women have never been able to assemble a bar or repair establishment.

Heretofore, Glenna Collett, former champion, has rather dominated matters in Florida. It may be different this year if Mrs. Hurd, Miss Stirling, Miss Cummings and some of the other ranking stars carry out their promise to enter the tournament.

Last year California drew a number of the women stars and the battles between Miss Cummings and Marion Hollins, not to neglect Mary K. Browne, were replete with dizzy thrills.

ZUPPKE IS FEARFUL OF OHIO STATE

By NEA Service

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 5.—Because of the decisive defeat of Michigan by Illinois, football experts are already conceding the "Big Ten" championship to Harvard Grange and the rest of the Illinois squad.

Last season Michigan and Illinois finished in a tie for Western conference honors. For overwhelming defeat of Michigan has caused the critics to regard Zuppke's team as a certain to win the Big Ten title if Grange is injured.

Coach Ben Zuppke of Illinois is one of the few who isn't taking seriously the new things being said about himself and his team.

"A team that just beat Chicago, Iowa, Minnesota and Ohio State is a long way from having the championship clinched. Any one of those four teams is strong enough to upset the dope."

It is football precedent that Ohio State always plays its best game against us. For that reason we always fear teams coached by Wiley.

Last season we had a great team, yet were only able to win from Ohio State by the scant margin of 9 to 0, despite the fact that Michigan and Chicago had beaten the same team 21 to 0 and 17 to 0."

Hooray! McTigue Actually Signs To Fight Again

By NEA Service

New York, Nov. 5.—Mike McTigue will emerge from his safety-first vault to defend the light-heavyweight championship against Paul Berlenbach in Madison Square Garden Nov. 14.

This bout has been hanging fire for weeks.

The boxing commission threatened to ban it following protests by Gene Tunney, who claimed a prior right to a meeting with McTigue.

The matter was finally straightened out by Tunney's signing an agreement to meet the winner at a later date.

DOBIE REAL PENNIST

Football opponents of Cornell are giving "Gloomy Gil" Dobie something to be pessimistic about. Defeat at the hands of Williams and Rutgers rather upset the dope at Cornell.

SOUTH SPRINGS BIGGEST GRID UPSET

Tulane Shocks Football Experts By Defeat of Vanderbilt

LAUTENSCHLAGER

Football this year is just one surprise after another.

Marquette gave the past something to talk about when it beat the Navy, 21 to 0.

Williams upset the dope when it trounced the Duke's lathering invincible Cornell eleven. Rutgers is repeated the trick.

In the west, Illinois' overwhelming defeat of Michigan severely jolted the team players and football experts. Last season the two tied for the "Big Ten" championship.

However, it is extremely doubtful if any of these upsets compares with the surprising defeat of Vanderbilt, champions of the south, by Tulane University of New Orleans.

Vanderbilt, boasting an All American selection in Bonar, who played as halfback, and two other players almost as famous in Wakefield and Reeves, was a top-heavy favorite to win over Tulane, but didn't.

Tulane Came From Behind

Tulane lost four games last season. While this year's team was known to be much stronger, perhaps no one except Coach Shaughnessy had hopes of victory.

What is more, Tulane came from behind to win Vanderbilt leading at the close of the second period, 11 to 7. That in itself makes the victory all the greater to the New Orleans athletes.

The triumph scored by Tulane was the first in a decade over Vanderbilt. For years the game has played no important part on the Vanderbilt schedule. Next year it will be different.

Trio of Great Backs

Tulane is coached by Clark Shaughnessy, a star at Minnesota many years back. The modest coach gives credit for the victory to three of his backfield men, Brown, Hourney and Lautenschlager.

"They are the three greatest backs in the south, if not the country," says Coach Shaughnessy.

"If Brown is not eligible for all-America, no football player in the country is. Brown is a wonder player. His speed is dazzling, he is without peer in the south at running the ends and can hit the line with the best of them. Incidentally he is a great defensive player."

"Hourney and Lautenschlager are not far behind. Hourney is a remarkable punter, unequaled at line plunging and a great defensive back as well."

Hard Schedule Ahead

The trio are proteges of Coach Shaughnessy, New Orleans boys who came direct to Tulane from preparatory schools in that city.

Down in New Orleans the fans and experts regard the team as the best in the south, that would not suffer in comparison with any eleven in the country.

If Tulane succeeds in vanquishing Alabama Poly, Tennessee and Louisiana State, then the New Orleans eleven will be deserving of national consideration.

has succeeded in working the hidden ball trick in a push ball match.

This year the Bu Three team are rapidly becoming the big three teams.

By now Bokke ought to realize it takes a great amount of courage to start a scrub team against an eastern variety.

We agree with the experts it would be a tragedy if Dempsey quit the ring. Who would there be to support Mr. Kearns?

A Bullfrog that sings has been discovered in Louisiana. We think we heard him on the radio last night, punting, "My Daddy Don't Two Time Me."

Red Grange should know you are never great until the boys begin looking for your weakness. No one ever has to look twice for a second-rater's weakness.

Headline says, "Coach Doubts Practicability of Pass." Well, it took some guys a long time to believe the world was round.

The season's developments have been such that when you say, "Sarazen wins," it is not necessary to add Sarazen the horse.

Mike McTigue has been barred from fighting in New York for a year. Will some one kindly tell us when Mike was ever found guilty of fighting anywhere.

"Hoppe Proves Mastery at Three Catches." Sounds like a petting party.

If you found the straw vote bewitching, consider the fact that 3954 players have been named to date for the All American eleven.

A million fans were crowded into that first 30 seconds of play. I enjoyed a few of them.

For the first three downs at the play, every state party in was pulling for White's team to beat Chicago. To do.

It was a great crowd of 30,000 followers and the crowd showed Chicago had eight yards to go. The disappointment was equally keen for Chicago.

Then came the final play, the fourth down, when game to Chicago the one that came to State as the live ball in the first three downs as Carley kicked a field goal.

Ellsworth Augustus of Cleveland is one of the longest drivers in the game, amateur or professional.

Herb Pennock of the Yankees is easily the most consistent twirler.

Billy Evans Says

After all the trail is the big thing in this sport.

Baseball thrives for six months or play because every game is different and a game without a half dozen thrills of varying degree is no exception.

Football for the same reason, takes the center of the stage when the baseball season draws to a close and for three years keeps sport lovers enthralled.

Each Saturday during the football season scores of games produce plays that provide tons for discussion during the rest of the week.

Watching the Chicago-Ohio State game which ended in a 10 to 1 tie, I had plenty of opportunities to realize why the old grad never loses interest—why thousands who never attended college are strong for the gridiron game.

It is the thrill it offers.

Evening the count in the last 30 seconds of play with a field goal is just like seeing your favorite ball player, with the count three and two, two out and the bases filled, crack out a home run that ties up or wins the old ball game. That's what happened in the Ohio State-Chicago game.

That no football game is over until the shrill whistle of the official or the crack of the pistol announces that time is up, was proved beyond a doubt in the Chicago-Ohio State tilt.

For three periods the two clubs had played to a scoreless tie. First one, then the other, would enjoy the advantage as far as ground-gaining efforts were concerned.

Always, however, when the goal of either team was threatened, something would happen to prevent a score. Either the defense would stiffen or some player would fumble.

"COZY" MAPS LEGAL ACTION

"Cozy" Dolan (left) deposed coach of the New York Giants' baseball team, is seen here conferring with his attorney, William Fallon, in the lawyer's New York office relative to stirring suit against Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. Dolan plans to institute a "Don charging baseball" suit with slander. He seeks also to recover the share of the world series money he would have been entitled to had it not been for his banishment from the game.

tional League, to deliver, was an awful jolt to Pittsburgh. He won only 11 games.

Looks as if there was something wrong with eastern football. Illinois and Oklahoma both beat Nebraska, which in turn smothered Colgate, 25 to 7.

The goals from field specialist is beginning to make his presence felt. In the Navy-Princeton game a drop kick by a substitute won for Princeton. Penn enjoyed the same margin over Columbia.

Who is the best backfield man at Notre Dame? Four football experts commenting on the Army game differed. Stuhldreher, Layden, Crowley and Miller each received one vote.

The consensus at University of Syracuse is that there never was better football material at that institution. Which means the students expect Coach Meekhan to put over a big winner. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

STILL MISSING

George Engelhardt, Hebron farmer who has been sought for more than ten days is still missing.

On advice that Engelhardt had put in a long distance call from a point north of Hebron, to Hebron parties yesterday, Sheriff Charles McDonald and a couple of aides went to Hebron and scoured the hills to a point 18 miles north of that place but found no trace of the missing man.

Engelhardt is wanted on charges of attempting to shoot his brother and also on a charge of being a dangerous person to be at large due to the fact that he is armed and is wanted by the county insanity commission for an examination.

ROMAN COINS ARE FOUND IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Nov. 5.—Interest in excavation of Roman remains seems to be receiving new impetus in many parts of England and work being carried on at Portsmouth on the Somerset seaboard is yielding highly important results.

These excavations had their beginning after a ploughman casually turned up a small quantity of coins, which upon examination were found to be of Roman origin. The work has now been taken in hand, by an archaeologist, R. E. Godwin, who reports the recovery of no fewer than 4,000 coins.

"I have already found 4,000 bronze coins," said Mr. Godwin "and stray one's are being added from day to day. They are in excellent preservation and date from A. D. 22 to A. D. 400 (21 years before the Roman conquest of Britain to just before the final evacuation.)

"They belong to practically every period of the Roman Empire, and it is remarkable that apparently no two are exactly alike. The field in which I am working was used by the ancient Britons as a camp, and this was afterwards taken over by the Romans."

ICELAND GIRLS TURN DOWN GAY SAILORS

Reykjavik, Iceland, Nov. 3.—The girls of Iceland may be separated from the rest of the world by hundreds of miles of Arctic sea, but fashions penetrate here almost as rapidly as news of the outside world. When Paris or London decrees a new style, whether in hair-dressing, gowns or the handling of a feminine cigarette, it is sure to be adopted in Reykjavik before many weeks have passed. The old national costume, unchanged for hundreds of years, is still worn almost exclusively in the rural districts, but in the cities the girl who aspires to social standing keeps abreast of the times, and sometimes even a bit ahead of them.

American sailors who visited Iceland in connection with the round-the-world airplane flight, were more than surprised when they found bobbed hair and other feminine fancies usually associated with Paris, London and New York. There was the customary display of silken hose, "slinker" gowns, unmarked waistlines and wrap-around skirts, with a faint aroma of black narcissus or other Parisian perfumes hovering about the dainty persons of the wearers.

One difference the American sail-

PEOPLE OF N. D. SHOULD REJOICE SAYS COULTER

November Truly Month of Thanksgiving in State. Says A. C. President

STUDENTS TO WRITE

Themes in Support of Greater North Dakota Movement To Be Undertaken

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—November is to be "Thanksgiving month" in reality for North Dakota this year. Why the true spirit of Thanksgiving should prevail in North Dakota, and especially why students in the state college should be thankful this November 27 is the theme of a letter to be written by the students at the North Dakota Agricultural college in a contest inaugurated by Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the institution.

The best letter is to be published in the Spectrum, college paper, and sent to all the universities and colleges of the country with the Thanksgiving greetings of the students of the North Dakota college. The author of the prize-winning letter will receive an award of $10. For second place $7.50 is to be given, for third place, $5 and for fourth place $2.50. A letter is to be judged by a committee of three, consisting of two faculty members and one student. Letters must not exceed 500 words and will contain a Thanksgiving greeting to all other schools of higher learning in the United States and must also state briefly some of the reasons why North Dakota residents can be thankful in 1924.

Supporting Movement
"The college students and faculty members want to do their part in supporting the movement for a Greater North Dakota, in letting other states and colleges know some of the many good things that we have in this state," said Dr. Coulter in his message to the students. "There are many real reasons why we at the college should be thankful this year and this month is the logical time to express that thankfulness."

"Just as the Eagle is recognized as the great symbol of American liberty in July so the turkey is recognized as the great symbol of American prosperity and thanksgiving in November. We like to live in peace under the wings of the one, but we also like to get a piece from under the wings of the other."

"Let's truly recognize November as 'Thanksgiving month' for North Dakota this year. While we must not boast or brag about ourselves, our state, our institution, yet may we not in a perfectly proper, modest way send Thanksgiving greetings to the students of all of the other colleges of America?"

"Thousands of students in colleges presently will graduate; they will be looking for the greatest opportunity to carry on their life's work. While they may not have large wealth they will have training and education and possibly they may be able to secure the financial support of parents or friends."

"In sending these greetings from North Dakota might we not tell something of the reasons why we in North Dakota are thankful, not only for the bountiful harvest and very satisfactory prices for everything which we have to sell, but for the wonderful soil and coal and clay, for the other natural resources, for the sunshine and rainfall and temperate climate, which is so wonderfully health giving and invigorating?"

"May we not also tell something of our college and of the opportunities for education which North Dakota affords, as well as other blessings which are ours?"

Tell of Opportunities
"The business men of North Dakota during November will be telling the business men of other states about our opportunities; professional men will be telling those of other states; our farmers will be telling the farmers elsewhere about the remarkable agricultural resources; and our various commercial organizations will be telling of the wonders of great deposits of clay and coal."

"They will be pointing to the day when this state will see tremendous power plants at the entrance to our coal mines, producing power for industry and sending heat, light and power to every corner of the state in the form of electric energy."

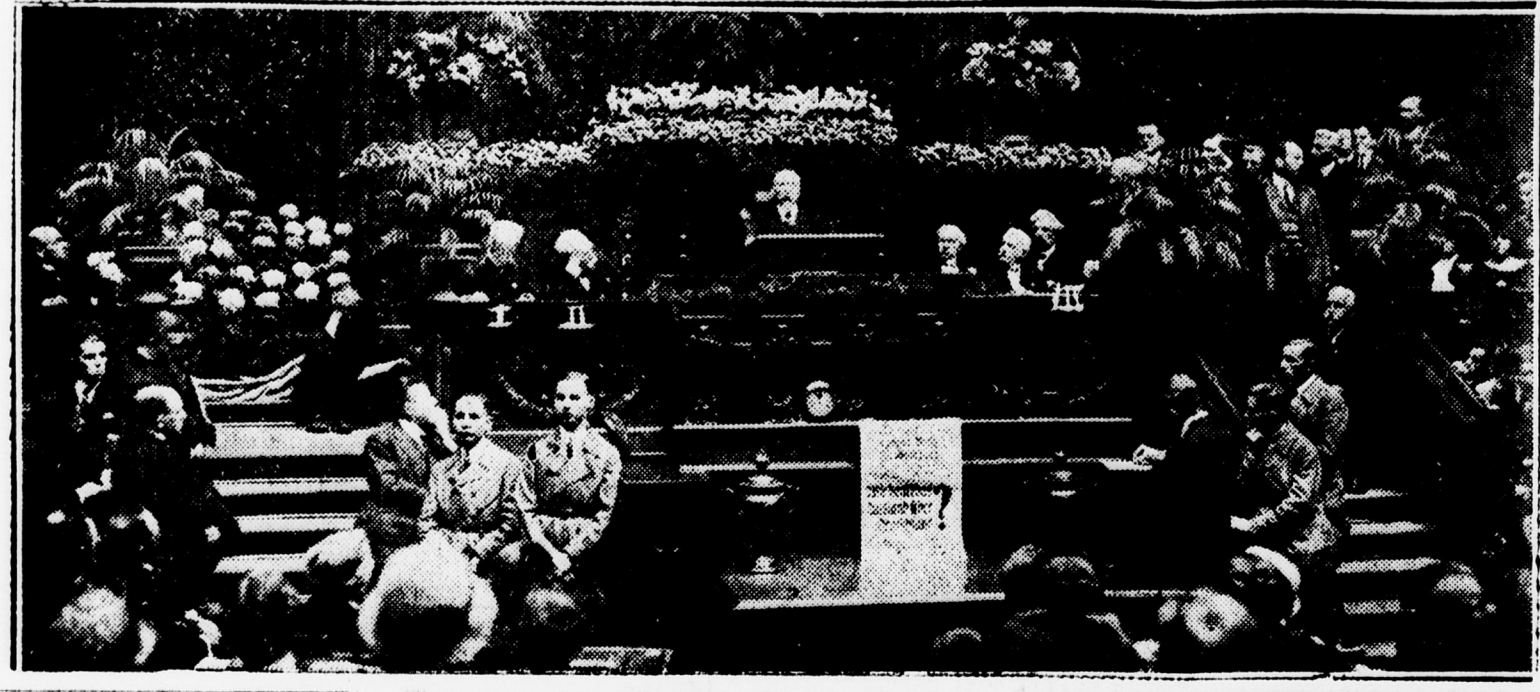

"Our student body will wish to participate in this movement and as a body tell the students of all parts of the United States of the great opportunities in North Dakota at the same time that we send Thanksgiving greetings."

"It is with this in mind that I propose that we participate in the Greater North Dakota campaign which has in mind to tell the truth about our state."

Many Veterans Rehabilitated At State A. C.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—But 12 wounded veterans of the World War, out of a total of 294 who have been enrolled since the program started in 1914, are now enrolled at the North Dakota Agricultural college under the Rehabilitation Training plan fostered by the government and directed by the Veterans Bureau, records at the registrar's office show.

EUROPEAN PEACE ADVOCATES GATHER IN BERLIN

When giving the names of the students enrolled, Mr. Parrott stated that this year practically marks the end of the work, as eight of the men are seniors, one a junior, two sophomores, and one a special student.

MORE VICTIMS OF WRECK GO FROM HOSPITAL

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—Six more persons who were injured in the wreck of Great Northern train No. 4 when six coaches were derailed near Gardner Saturday afternoon and who were taken to St. John's hospital in Fargo for treatment, were discharged from the hospital yesterday afternoon. Of the 42 persons who were treated Saturday night, only 12 remain in the hospital.

Of the 12 in the hospital Mrs. Harry Leake of Emerson, N. D., and Chris Nelson of St. Paul are the more seriously injured. Mrs. Leake had several ribs broken and Mr. Nelson is suffering from contusions of the brain.

Those discharged from the hospital yesterday were: Robert Bartlett, Medford, Wis.; Oscar Donaldson, 1179 West Fourteenth St., Des Moines; James O'Keefe, 1278 Lincoln St., St. Paul; Harold Lowe, 704 Alpha Ave., Grand Forks; Toni Smith, Solway, Minn.; W. F. Warren, Excelsior, Minn.

Miss Daisy Baker of Williston, Minn., who was en route to Rochester, Minn., to undergo an operation, was taken to Rochester last evening. Miss Baker suffered a severe leg injury in the wreck.

The wreckage was cleared away early Sunday and trains that day were run over the repaired tracks. No official report has as yet been issued by the road relative to the cause of the accident.

PROF. SHEPPERD WILL TRAVEL IN EUROPE

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—Professor J. H. Shepperd, chairman of the animal husbandry department of the North Dakota Agricultural college, began Saturday his first leave of absence from the college in an educational career that has been continuous at the one institution for more than 20 years.

Prof. Shepperd has been granted a year's leave of absence commencing November 1, 1924 and continuing until November 1, 1925. During this year of absence

There are a lot of Germans who are sick of war. Just look at this picture. It shows a peace conference in session in Berlin. The meeting was called the 23d World Peace Congress. Representatives from several European nations were present. Senator Ferdinand Buisson of France is seen here addressing the delegates. Other speakers the same day were Professor Quiddo, German pacifist; Senator Henry La Fontaine, France, and Fridtjof Nansen, Norwegian polar explorer, educator and diplomat.

CAPITAL MAY BECOME CITY OF TENTS IN RENT WAR

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer
Washington, Nov. 4.—Washington, "The City Beautiful," may once again become a tented city unless a truce is reached between the capital's landlords and tenants.

More than 2000 notices of eviction, effective Nov. 1, have been served by landlords on tenants who have refused to meet rent increases which went into effect Oct. 1. This threatened wholesale eviction is the culmination of a warfare between renters and rentees that began with our entry into the World War. Congress, however, put the brakes on sky-rocketing rentals at that time by declaring a housing emergency and providing a rent commission for the District of Columbia with power to regulate rentals.

This commission, under fire by District landlords, has been continued from year to year by Congress. But recent court decisions adverse to the local rent act and the powers of the commission have given the property owners courage and the flood of dispossession notices is their declaration of war.

That it may be an intense and dramatic battle is indicated by the rallying of threatened renters into a "Tenants' League" sworn to resist the demands of their landlords to the limit.

Preparatory to the "zero hour" for battle this organization has applied for permission to erect tents in the eclipse, a large open park space immediately south of the White House, for the housing of members who suddenly find themselves and their possessions in the streets.

These grounds were thrown open, a year ago, for tents to house thousands of visiting Shriners during the national Shrine convention. Secretary of War Weeks, however, says permission for such use by Shriners was specifically granted by Congress, and that lacking congressional

MRS. LUCY WELLS ONLY SHERIFF IN ENGLAND

Canterbury, England, Nov. 4.—This ancient cathedral city has just received a custom of medieval times by conferring the office of sheriff upon a woman. Incidentally the recipient of the honor, Mrs. Lucy Green Wells, the wife of a local tailor, has the distinction of being the only woman in England to hold such an office.

"My chief duty as sheriff," Mrs. Wells said recently, "is to appear with the mayor and councillors on special occasions wearing my purple robe, with the silver chain of office round my neck."

"Nowadays the under-sheriff is responsible for most of the actual work in connection with the office, but there are still certain functions I perform. If a Canterbury man had to be hanged, for instance, I believe I should have to sign the document certifying that the execution had been properly carried out."

There were women sheriffs aplenty in the middle ages, and in those days they had to shoulder heavy fiscal, military and administrative burdens.

One of the first notable women of the middle ages to hold the office was Ellen, Countess of Salisbury, who was sheriff of Wiltshire until she embraced religion and retired to the Abbey of Lacock.

ISLANDERS ARE HAPPY

London, Nov. 4.—Hayling Island is about the only place in England where there is no unemployment. The island, in the Southampton area, has a prosperous population of about 3000 and at present no one there is receiving a penny from the national unemployment fund. The men and women of the island are all busy in the fields, in the fishing grounds and the shops.

The mackerel season, which is just over, has been the best in years and the harvest, unlike the rest of England, is bountiful. There are plenty of visitors on the island and the inhabitants are in a state of financial exuberance.

The islanders also differ from their mainland compatriots in that they would rather live in the country than in the town. Last year the population of one of the two towns on the island dropped from 800 to 500 because the price of farm products went up.

Proclamation

GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY
WHEREAS, Sunday, December the seventh, 1924, has been designated as the date for an international relief effort, to be known as Golden Rule Sunday, by the representatives of twenty nations, including the United States, who recently met in Geneva, Switzerland, in an international conference to determine the best manner in which the people of the different countries represented could assist in alleviating the distress and suffering of the tens of thousands of practically denationalized orphans of the Near East—victims of the late World War and who are, in a peculiar sense, international wards, and

WHEREAS, out of their deliberations of the above subject matter and relief plans in connection therewith, there evolved an additional and EVEN MORE important objective, the development of Golden Rule principles in both the personal and national life of the co-operating countries, as a contribution toward international good will, co-operation and permanent world peace, and

WHEREAS, President Coolidge, Chief Executive of the United States, has commended this great humanitarian effort in the following language:

"I believe that the international observance of this day may not only save lives of thousands of destitute, but may possibly have an even greater benefit in the way of reflex influence upon those who thus observe the Golden Rule and help to establish it as a reality in daily living."

The international observance of this day might well contribute materially to the betterment of international relations and abiding world peace."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, R. A. Nestos, Governor of the state of North Dakota, believing that the people of this state are in sympathy with these high ideals, most sincerely request that

SUNDAY, December 7, 1924 be observed throughout the state as GOLDEN RULE SUNDAY and in addition that the week period preceding or succeeding this date be utilized, if it be found convenient, as our opportunity for personal stocktaking; that we may thus determine whether or not we are adhering to the universally accepted and age-old standard of life, "WHATSOEVER YE WOULD THAT OTHERS SHOULD DO UNTO YOU, DO YE EVEN SO UNTO THEM;" upon which great principle our nation and state were originally built and transmitted to us by our forefathers, and

FURTHER, to the end that the whole purpose of this Golden Rule Day arrangement may be carried to every citizen of the state, that all may be advised of the date agreed upon, and opportunity provided for every citizen to engage in its observance, I respectfully designate, and at the same time charge, the state officers of the Near East Relief organization, together with the co-operating members of the Golden Rule Day State Committee whom I will later name, with the responsibility of perfecting a plan and an organization in each county of the state that will enable each individual citizen and religious, educational, social, civic, or fraternal group who desire to participate, an opportunity to do so.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of North Dakota. Done at Bismarck.

R. A. NESTOS, Governor.

ARGENTINE BREEDING POLO PONIES

Buenos Aires, Nov. 4.—The Argentine polo ponies which contributed so much to the victory of the Argentine four in the Olympic polo championship, are the product of four or five generations of crossing "criollo," or native, ponies with small sized English thoroughbreds. They are considered to combine the qualities of endurance and cleverness of the native horse with the speed of the English product.

Since the tour of Argentine polo players to England and the United States in 1923, when the players sold the mounts at a very large profit, the breeding of polo ponies has almost become an industry in Argentina. For a number of years polo ponies have been produced here on four or five ranches, and have had a sale in Europe, mostly in England. The King of Spain has been one good buyer of them.

Now, with the additional prestige gained by the Argentine product at the Olympics, other ranches are devoting themselves to breeding. Sires and mothers accustomed to the large rodeos of the Argentine pampas are selected, for they are not afraid of being ridden down, especially if they have been used in parting cattle.

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

Christchurch, New Zealand, Nov. 4.—A large gold bearing reef at the foot of Mount Tarawera was discovered in a peculiar manner. # COOLIDGE WINS

COOLIDGE LANDSLIDE TO RIVAL THAT OF HARDING'S; WINS NEW YORK EASILY

New York, Nov. 4.—Coolidge and Dawes swept New York State with a plurality that had reached over 700,000 when all but 1,397 districts in the state had been tabulated at midnight, of the districts missing 465 were in New York City and 932 up state.

Coolidge and Dawes have polled overwhelming majorities in the East and middle west on the basis of incomplete returns from the general elections. In all of New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Indiana and Illinois, the lead of the Republican nominees was mounting steadily at 11 p. m. Eastern standard time, and both the New York Times and the New York World supporters of John W. Davis had conceded his defeat by Mr. Coolidge.

At Democratic headquarters, however, party leaders still clung to a hope that the west would turn the trick as it did for Wilson in 1916. Reports from most of the sections beyond the Mississippi still were of the most fragmentary character but they gave President Coolidge the best of it in several of the larger states. A spectacular race for the New York governorship was developing between Governor Smith and Theo. Roosevelt, with the Smith managers claiming victory and some of the Republican leaders inclined to concede it. All the southern states, including Tennessee, Oklahoma, Kentucky and Missouri were rolling up majorities for Davis. The South apparently had returned by the usual vote its Democratic candidates for the Senate, except in Oklahoma where J. C. Walton, was running behind. The election of two Republican senators, Borah of Idaho and Capper of Kansas had been conceded. With returns complete from more than a hundred congressional districts not a single seat had changed from one party column to another. The drift to Coolidge was so overwhelming that it rivals the Harding landslide.

In his home state, Massachusetts, Mr. Coolidge was leading Davis by a ratio of almost four to one and LaFollette by almost 14 to 1, in Maine, also the Coolidge advantage over Davis was almost four to one. In Rhode Island more than 3 to 1. In New Hampshire more than 2 to 1 and in Connecticut more than 2 to 1. Both in upstate New York and in New York City, the President was ahead of Mr. Davis.

On the face of the first returns from New Jersey, a very early and small return, Coolidge was leading Davis almost four to one. In Ohio with 170,000 votes counted, Coolidge had a lead of 60,000 over Davis and of 85,000 over LaFollette. In Pennsylvania one of the rock-ribbed Republican states, the President received five votes to one for Davis with LaFollette making a close race for second place.

SMITH AND ROOSEVELT IN CLOSE RACE

New York, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge carried New York State by a big plurality, it was indicated when two-thirds of districts, including New York City, had been tabulated at 11 p. m. tonight. He had a commanding lead over John W. Davis in the normally Democratic stronghold of greater New York. LaFollette shown a total in the same districts of 328,389. At the same hour Governor Smith had good lead in New York City. Theodore Roosevelt, Republican candidate for Governor, had a margin for 10,000 in the whole state, Smith plurality in New York City was 262,809. Roosevelt polled a heavy vote up state, but the Democrats confidently claimed the governor's reelection by over 100,000. Republican leaders, in some instances conceded the reelection of Smith.

White House Cheered As Returns Come In

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 4.—President Coolidge was kept informed tonight of election returns as they were received at the White House by special telegraph wire and by radio.

Optimism about the executive offices in the out come of the election increased as the returns from various sections were received over the wires and Mr. Coolidge himself expressed to callers confidence in the estimates made by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, that he and Charles G. Dawes would receive at least 350 votes in the electoral college.

STRONG FOR DAWES

(By The A. P.)
Evansville, Ill., Nov. 4.—Charles G. Dawes and his Republican running mate, Calvin Coolidge carried his home precinct here by an overwhelming majority. The vote was Coolidge 598; Davis 54; LaFollette 28. All but three persons registered in the precinct stated.

Says Coolidge to Carry New York By Million Margin

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 4.—Charles D. Hille, Republican National Committeeman for New York, informed the White House shortly after ten o'clock tonight that President Coolidge would carry the state by about one million but the indications were that Smith would defeat the Theo. Roosevelt for Governor by about 81,000.

Harding's Father Sends Message To President

(By The Associated Press)
Marion, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Two elderly gentlemen, Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late Pres., Harding and Colonel George B. Christian, father of George B. Christian, Jr., who was secretary to the late President, met here today on the street, well knowing the suspense of late president during election after four years ago, they decided to send an expression of cheer and confidence to Pres. Coolidge. The message they sent to the White House:

"Be thou of good cheer, thine enemies will not prevail against thee." Shortly afterwards President Coolidge wired as follows: "Thank you for your telegram. I shall remember your injunction and your wise counsel."

Davis Refuses To Comment

New York, Nov. 4.—John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee who received the returns with a few intimate friends at the home of Frank L. Polk in this city declined tonight to make any statement on the election. Clem L. Shaver, Democratic National chairman also refused to comment.

SOUTH DAKOTA

(By The A. P.)
South Dakota, Nov. 4.—121 precincts out of 1,888 Coolidge 14,846; Davis 2,928, and LaFollette 7,505. United States Senator 128 precincts McMaster 12,152; Cherry 10,511; Ayres 648; Egan 1,779.

WINS OUT EASILY

CALVIN COOLIDGE

COOLIDGE IN EARLY LEAD ON FIRST RETURNS

(By The Associated Press)
New York, Nov. 4.—Early election returns showed President Coolidge leading his two opponents by overwhelming majorities New York and Ohio and Illinois, with their big chunks of electoral votes, the president likewise was building his advantage by a lesser margin in several of the states that had been closed in the pre-election forecast of the Davis and LaFollette managers, including Indiana, Iowa, West Virginia and Maryland. So strong was the Coolidge tide that at 9 p. m. Eastern standard time, that the New York World which had supported Davis conceded the election of Coolidge. At the same time the World claimed New York for Governor Smith against a tremendous lead for his Republican opponent, Theodore Roosevelt, in up state counties. In New York City Smith was leading Roosevelt two to one.

In North and South Dakota, first reports from Iowa, which has been claimed as a LaFollette state by his campaign managers, showed Coolidge with a majority over the combined vote of Davis and LaFollette, who were running neck and neck for second place. Senator Warren, Democratic Mack, was running far behind his Republican opponent, Speaker Gillette.

In Oklahoma, despite the Davis lead, J. C. Walton, running on an Anti Klan platform as Democratic candidate for Senator was trailing his Republican opponent Mrs. Miriam Ferguson, the Democrat Anti Klan candidate for Governor of Texas was in the lead. Carlton B. McUlloch, Democratic candidate for governor of Indiana and outspoken opponent of the Klan was running behind his Republican opponent Ed. Jackson in Kansas, William Allen White running for governor on an Independent Anti Klan platform was third in his three cornered race against the regular Democratic and Republican nominees.

(By The Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 4.—Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, after scanning early election returns tonight expressed the opinion that unless the Republicans won seats in Tennessee and Kentucky they would be unable to organize the new senate this view was on the presumption that the insurgents would follow a defeated leader.

SENATE UNCERTAIN

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 4.—The Chicago Daily News through its system announced the election of Coolidge at 8:55 p. m.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner at 8:25 tonight flashed the reelection of President Coolidge, through its system of search lights by which it had been giving election information to persons within a fifty mile radius of Chicago.

Magnus Johnson Suffers Slumps In Minn. Vote

Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—In 189 precincts out of 2,188; LaFollette 2,171; for Senator 2,097 gave Coolidge 35,361; Davis 21 precincts gave Schall, Republican 2,054; Johnson, Farmer Labor 1,431; Farrell, Democrat, 398.

RECORD VOTE CAST IN STATE

(By The Associated Press)
Fargo, Nov. 4.—From unofficial reports from all sections of North Dakota it appears that this state cast its record vote today. The high vote point was established in the state election of 1922 when in the race for Governor, 229,608 votes were registered.

Davis Vote Light In North Dakota

Fargo, Nov. 4.—Three counties in North Dakota have failed in their early returns to report a single vote for Davis. These counties are D. W. Wells and Burke. One precinct in Dickey county in its final return shows no votes for the Democratic candidate while Wells and Burke counties report a similar situation. The Davis vote in North Dakota is turning very light, he having polled only 3,551 votes in 209 precincts, out of 2,160 in the state. Cox in 1920 received a total vote 37,431 when all precincts had reported final returns. Coolidge leads LaFollette by more than two to one. The 209 precincts reporting Coolidge 26,635 and LaFollette 10,714. Only 26 precincts have reported, however, from the third Congressional District which is LaFollette's stronghold.

Chicago Papers Concede Coolidge

(By The A. P.)
Chicago, Nov. 4.—The Chicago Daily News through its system announced the election of Coolidge at 8:55 p. m.
The Chicago Herald and Examiner at 8:25 tonight flashed the reelection of President Coolidge, through its system of search lights by which it had been giving election information to persons within a fifty mile radius of Chicago.

COOLIDGE CARRIES BURLEIGH, TAKES BIG LEAD IN BISMARCK; HALVORSON RUNS STRONG HERE

Bismarck citizens leaned heavily toward Calvin Coolidge and Halvor Halvorson in yesterday's election. With eight of the 10 city precincts reported at 1:30 o'clock this morning, Coolidge had a lead of 1,128 in the city of Bismarck. His lead will be increased in the two remaining precincts, and he will easily carry Burleigh county.

Halvor Halvorson, fusion candidate for Governor, in six city precincts out of 10 had a lead of 617 votes over A. G. Sorlie, with indications, that he would go out of the city with a lead of at least 1,000 and would carry Burleigh county, on the basis of past elections, by from 250 to 400. The vote was: 8 precincts, Coolidge 1,817; LaFollette 6189. Six precincts, Sorlie 709; Halvorson 1,326.

The same six precincts in the June primary gave Sorlie 479; Nestos 1,054. In these precincts Halvorson had a lead of 617 compared to a lead of 474 for Nestos in the June primary, a considerable gain for Halvorson.

Sorlie carried one ward in the city, the fourth. He received 172 votes there to 123 for Halvorson.

In eight country precincts outside of the city of Bismarck the league candidate for Governor rolled up the usual majority, having 325 votes to 193 for Halvorson. In the same precincts outside the city of Bismarck Coolidge had 216 votes to 300 for LaFollette. The president was running ahead of Halvorson both in the city and county returns.

Only few returns were received on any of the offices outside the city, and were not enough on which to base any prediction.

There was a remarkably heavy vote cast in Bismarck, and election boards were to be counting all night long. In the Fifth ward, the board was not one-third through the national ballot at 1:30 a. m.

EARLY PREDICTIONS

(By The A. P.)
New York, Nov. 4.—Up to 9:30 p. m. Eastern time final returns had been received from upward of a hundred congressional districts, most of them in the Democratic south, without a single upset, Democratic senators in the south were chosen by the usual majorities and reelection of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, was conceded by his Democratic opponent. In West Virginia, the native state of John W. Davis, Mr. Coolidge was leading, by a narrow margin, but in Maryland, he was counting two votes to one Mr. Davis, and in Indiana he was leading Davis by 5,000, Davis was ahead in Missouri and Tennessee by a ratio of two to one less from Missouri.

SHAYER HOPEFUL

(By The A. P.)
Washington, Nov. 4.—"Remember 1916," D. C. Hodgkin, assistant to Chairman Shaver of the Democratic National Committee said tonight when informed that several prominent eastern newspapers supporting John W. Davis had conceded the election of President Coolidge. Committee officials in Washington said they "awaited confidentially" the returns from western and border states.

COOLIDGE VICTORY

New York, Nov. 4.—The New York Times, which supported the candidacy of John W. Davis and Gov. Smith, conceded shortly before 10 o'clock tonight the election of Gov. Smith and President Coolidge.

BORAH BY 30,000

(By The A. P.)
Boise, Idaho, Nov. 4.—Frank Martin, Democratic opponent of William Borah, Republican incumbent for United States Senator, early tonight conceded Senator Borah reelection by a plurality of thirty thousand.

NELSON LEADS

St. Louis, November 4.—Dr. W. Nelson, Democratic candidate for Governor, was leading his opponent, Sam A. Baker, Republican by approximately 1,000 in returns from 37 precincts from the same counties which gave Nelson 2,281 and Baker 2,215.

DAVIS FAILS TO GET VOTE

Davis failed to receive a vote in early returns from Slope county, western North Dakota. One precinct in this county gave Coolidge 43, LaFollette 32 and Davis 0. In the June primary this county gave Coolidge 411, LaFollette 405 and Johnson 188.

COOLIDGE TAKES BIG LEAD IN N. DAKOTA; HALVORSON'S LEAD CUT IN COUNTY RETURNS

President Leads LaFollette by 16,000 Votes, with One-Sixth of the State's Total Vote in Tuesday Election Reported—President Runs Ahead of Coalition Candidate for Governor, Comparison Made in Some Precincts Indicates—Hall Leading Nye in Second District.

COOLIDGE HAS BIG LEAD

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—President Coolidge held a lead of 15,129 votes in North Dakota when unofficial returns were tabulated at 1 a. m. from 344 out of the states, 2,160 precincts. The returns however, were largely from cities and towns, from the eastern part of state.

North Dakota election boards and a corps of newspaper workers labored through the night in an endeavor to present a fairly accurate picture of the results of the state-wide election Tuesday. At 2 o'clock this morning, there was strong indication that President Coolidge had carried the state. The returns were not complete enough to make safe a prediction, but a comparison in some instances showed the President was running strong in cities and in some country precincts he was running ahead of A. G. Sorlie, Nonpartisan League candidate for Governor.

Halvor Halvorson, coalition candidate for Governor, assumed an early lead in the state, as is usual in returns in state contests, but the Independent candidate invariably leads in the country. Halvorson's early big lead in the city was cut into by a strong showing by Sorlie. Halvorson carried Sorlie, 17,780 to 12,323, but Sorlie carried Halvorson, 21,388 to 17,781.

Returning from 330 of the state's 2,160 precincts, Halvorson was leading Sorlie, 17,780 to 12,323, but Sorlie carried Halvorson, 21,388 to 17,781.

Returning from 330 of the state's 2,160 precincts, Halvorson was leading Sorlie, 17,780 to 12,323, but Sorlie carried Halvorson, 21,388 to 17,781.

SEE GAINS FOR HALVORSON

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 4.—A report from precincts in several North Dakota cities indicate that Halvor Halvorson, fusion gubernatorial candidate, is receiving a heavier vote than that accorded in these same precincts to Gov. F. A. Nestos when he was defeated by Arthur G. Sorlie, the present opponent of Halvorson.

In Fargo Halvorson was given a larger proportionate vote reports showed, while Coolidge also seemed to gain more than did the Governor. In Bismarck he continued to poll a larger proportionate vote while in Mandan, Halvorson gained 108 votes in one precinct over Nestos' tabulation. Minot and Grand Forks also reported this gain for the fusionist.

MINOT COMPLETE

The city of Minot complete gave a majority to the President, the votes being Coolidge 2,501; LaFollette 1,253, and Davis 405. Minot also gave Halvorson a more than 2 to 1 majority over Sorlie, the fusionists receiving 2,616 and the Leaguer getting 1,282 votes.

HEAVY VOTE IN GRAND FORKS

(By The A. P.)
Grand Forks, Nov. 4.—The vote in Grand Forks today was nearly twice that cast in the June primary. Reports on the vote on three districts show there were 838 votes cast in these precincts today as (Continued on page 8)

RAILROAD ADDS 4 PRIZES FOR N. D. CORN SHOW

Northern Pacific Brings Up Total of Cash Prizes To Be Given Exhibitors

LIST MOUNTS RAPIDLY

Total of Cash Prizes Now Is $500, With Many Other Prizes Offered

The Northern Pacific Railroad, as an encouragement to corn growers, has added cash prizes to the rapidly growing list of prizes for the North Dakota State Corn Show, to be held here November 12-15, inclusive. It was announced today by A. E. Bradley, secretary of the show. The railroad offers $20 in cash prizes as follows: $10.00, sweepstakes prize, best 10 ears exhibited, any variety of flint corn, and the same for Dent corn; $5.00, sweepstakes prize, best single ear, any variety, flint corn, $5.00 for the same on Dent corn. The prize list for the show has risen to $390 in cash prizes, for general exhibits, $100 special and district prizes; five silver cups, gold and silver medals, watch and chain, Poland China pig and other prizes of various sorts. The chief cup prize is the Hanna sweepstakes cup, awarded to the county whose exhibitors score the most points in the show, and other cups offered are the Provident Life, First National of Bismarck, First National of Napoleon and Knowles cups. One of the latest special prizes announced is a pure bred Poland China gilt, offered by D. C. Cummings of the West Grove Stock Farm, Hazelton, to the individual prize winner of Emmons and Hazen counties. First entries for the show have arrived, according to Secretary Bradley. Several exhibitors from Ramsey county sent in exhibits from Endicott and others were entered from Leonard. The show secretary has issued a warning to exhibitors to pack their corn exhibits carefully, so that they will not be damaged in transit. Prospects are for a greatly enlarged show from last year. Mr. Bradley said. Arrangements have been made to obtain extra space for the corn exhibits, if needed. There will be a two-day farmers institute and entertainment features in connection with the show.

FINDS BOARD MAY REJECT AN ABSENT BALLOT

(Continued from page one.) E. S. Allen, now in New Jersey; Jennie McLachlan, J. J. Jackson, now in California, Karl Levin, and others. F. E. McCurdy appeared for the election boards answering the order a show cause, and Alfred Zuger participated in the arguments. Affidavits Presented The election boards stating they would observe the law. Allen declared in his argument that the board was entirely favorable to the opposition. William Skeels, Nonpartisan League worker, having been removed early in the day when it was alleged he was not a freeholder and therefore not entitled to sit on the board. It had been rumored that Independent voters would make a contest of absent voters ballots in the Fourth and Fifth wards, it being rumored they would allege that many people sought to vote by absent voters' ballots who had been out of the city for years and were not qualified to vote. F. E. McCurdy, arguing for the boards, declared that it would be unjust for the court to take discretion from the election boards; that they were supposed to exercise their discretion and protect the voters. Mr. Langer argued that the board was given authority to disenfranchise voters. Can Contest Judge Jansons pointed out that if the board were permitted to reject ballots, it was required under the law that they mark "rejected" on them and put them in the ballot box, and they could be identified in a contest, but that if the board were compelled to count the votes, the identity would be lost and no contest of them could be made. The court, after consideration, handed a memorandum decision, writing to the election boards before 7 a. m. when the polls closed. The court's decision follows: "The question in this case is whether or not the provisions of Section 1001 of the compiled laws of North Dakota applies to voters voting the absent voters ballot. "In the case of voters voting in person when the vote is challenged by an elector make take an oath as to the qualification of such voter and the vote must then be accepted. "It is my opinion however that this law does not apply in the case of absent voters. I have reached that conclusion because Section 1001 governing absent voters, was enacted subsequent to section 1001 and where such sections conflict the provisions of the law last enacted should prevail. "Section 1001 provides that the inspector or Judges of election shall first open the outer envelope and compare the signature of the applicant with the signature of the affidavit. If the election officers find the signatures correspond, and the applicant is then a duly qualified elector of such precinct they shall open the absent voters ballot. "Later the section reads as follows: In case such affidavit is found to be insufficient or that said signatures do not correspond or that such applicant is not then a duly qualified elector of the precinct such vote shall not be allowed, but without opening the absent voters envelope the election officers shall mark across the fact there of 'rejected as defective' or 'rejected as not an elector.' "The law then provides that when such absent voters ballot is rejected such envelope with the contents shall be deposited in the ballot box containing the general ballot and be preserved. "In other words it seems to me that the purpose of the law is to place the discretion first with the election boards, then in case the ballots are rejected to preserve the ballot, so that contests may be instituted and the matters tried in the courts. "The law presumes that election officers will perform their duties fairly and impartially, uninfluenced by prejudice or political consideration, and therefore this discretion is first vested in the Board, subject however to the right to have the matter reviewed by the courts later. "It is my opinion that this Court has no right to interfere at this time and therefore the alternative writ will be quashed.

Fusion Candidate Has 10,000 Lead—Rural Vote Still Out

(Continued from page one.) LaFollette in North Dakota, the returns were almost entirely from the crowded Coolidge stronghold, as the western counties, reputed LaFollette strongholds were delayed in tabulating any vote on account of snow which fell during the night and this morning. Scattered reports, however, were sent in from some of these western counties but as they were mostly from the largest cities where Coolidge and LaFollette were conceded an even break, they were not considered important insofar as bearing on the probable state results, the ability of LaFollette to overtake the President, however, clearly lies in the amount of the vote. Reports today from election officials throughout the LaFollette stronghold indicated a fairly heavy vote in the state. But not as heavy proportionally as the eastern section of state which declared overwhelmingly for Coolidge. Returns from the last 106 precincts to report, however, indicated that LaFollette will now start his assault on the Coolidge majority. For instance the Wisconsin Senator gained 15 votes in these additional precincts. This ratio, however, would not give him opportunity to head Coolidge off, the city vote being in according to Roy Frazier, acting LaFollette manager. They declare there candidate will win North Dakota by 1,100. L. B. Hanna, Coolidge manager predicted a good majority for the President in this state. Returns from 727 precincts of the state's 2160 gave Coolidge 54,174, LaFollette 33,726, Davis 8,220 and Foster 41.

EACH EXPECT VICTORY Although Halvor L. Halvorson, still led his Nonpartisan League opponent, Arthur G. Sorlie by 10,653 votes in about one third of the state votes, with the league stronghold hardly reported, a close race is anticipated by leaders of both factions, although each told the Associated Press today that they expected victory. The vote, 706 precincts out of 2,160 Halvorson 48,392, Sorlie 37,729. The struggle between progressives and Republicans for the second North Dakota Congressional offices, as short and regular term also indicated a long drawn out race, with complete returns necessary to decide the race between Gerald P. Nye Progressive, and Thomas Hall, Hall Republican at present is leading in both races.

HALL-NYE CONTEST Gerald P. Nye and Thomas Hall in the Second Congressional race seemed to be running almost on the same form as did Hall and Sherman, league candidate, in the June primary, Nye, however, picking up more votes in Dickey, Emmons, McIntosh, counties that went for Hall in the primary while Hall picked up a lead in Kidder which went to Sherman in June. The votes, however were but from few precincts; Griggs county was giving Nye a good boost, it being his home county. The county went to Sherman by 131 votes in June. Although Hall had a lead of 2,160 in the regular congressional and a margin of 412 in the short term congress rural returns are expected to make the contest even closer, with the result in doubt until the last returns are in.

RESULTS SLOW Three counties, Mercer, McKenzie and Holette, where LaFollette ran strong in the presidential primaries had not reported. Nelson county, which gave Coolidge a small majority in the primary, had not reported. Bitter county contests, together with handicaps and caused by the sparse settlement in Mercer, McKenzie and Holette with the result so held up returns.

to report, however, indicated that LaFollette will not start his assault on the Coolidge majority. For instance, the Wisconsin Senator gained 15 votes in these additional precincts. This ratio, however, would not give him opportunity to lead Coolidge. But LaFollette campaign managers expect from now on that Coolidge's vote will not grow. ## CASH BASIS IS HELD SUCCESS IN N. D. TRIAL

CUTS INTEREST RATE

Takes Place of Old Warrant System, Reducing Interest Charges to Taxpayers

The law of the 1923 legislature, in placing taxing districts on a cash basis through substitution of certificates of indebtedness for warrants, has worked out satisfactorily, it is declared in the biennial report of C. C. Converse, state tax commissioner. This law was one of several passed by the legislature in revising taxation laws.

The new issues have grown steadily in favor, and have cut the interest rate paid by districts, the report says.

"One of the purposes which actuated the legislature in enacting Chapter 236 (House Bill No. 129), Laws of 1923 was that of reducing the interest drain resulting from the practice of issuing warrants in excess of cash on hand," says the report.

"The legal rate of interest upon such warrants is 7 percent and under the conditions prevailing in recent years, owners of such warrants were generally required to discount them. The discount was some ten to twenty percent, resulting in a total interest charge of about 12 percent. There have been times during recent years when there was no market for registered warrants at any reasonable rate of discount so that often the rate of discount was 10 percent and even 15 percent, while reports are not lacking to the effect that discounts as high as 25 percent were enacted in some instances.

Desirable Investment
"In enacting Chapter 326, the legislature provided for the issuance of a new form of public security known as certificates of indebtedness and sought to surround them with such safe guards as to make them a highly desirable form of investment with the purpose in view of obtaining a lower rate of interest. Some districts have not experienced much benefit from this act due in part to the fact that their borrowings have been for small amounts and for short terms. Other districts have found the law very helpful and have found ready market for their certificates at 6 percent or less, thus providing funds so that all obligations have been paid in cash. In addition to a saving in interest, they have found that in making purchases they are able to get better price quotations and save substantial amounts in that way. The new form of securities is steadily growing in favor, and there is reason to believe that they will continue to grow in favor with the investing public."

Some Changes Suggested
Suggestions for amendments to improve the act are submitted in the report, among them the advisability of increasing the maximum length of certificates of indebtedness, which is 18 months; permitting borrowings for any purpose for which the officials of the taxing district are authorized to spend public funds; and whether or not there should be a statutory limit upon the number of prior years, the uncollected taxes of which are used in calculating borrowing capacity.

"The day seems not far distant when all taxing districts in our state will be operating upon a cash basis and taking advantage of every opportunity to discount bills," says the tax commissioner's report. "This will put us in an enviable position in contrast with the average taxing district in many other states. The provision prohibiting the incurring of debts in excess of taxes already levied has met with general commendation as has also the provision making the county treasurer the custodian of sinking funds."

There is no adequate legislation covering the borrowing of money for short terms by the state, the report says, urging such provision be made by law.

DEPOSED CHINA LEADER FLEES

General Wu Pei-Fu Seeks Refuge on Gulf of Chihli

Peking, China, Nov. 4.—General Wu Pei-fu, former commander-in-chief of the military forces, has fled to Tangku on the gulf of Chihli about 30 miles from Tientsin, it is reported today at the headquarters of Feng Yu-hsiang, "the Christian general," now in control here.

This is regarded here as spelling the end of the present conflict between Wu Pei-fu and Feng. The only remaining menace to Peking are large bodies of troops which are left without proper control.

CONFIRM REPORT
Tokio, Nov. 4.—Wu Pei-fu, the deposed Peking commander-in-chief, has fled, boarding a steamer near Tientsin for a destination unknown, but presumably Kiangsu province, where the Tsuchin Chishieh-yuan still is believed to be loyal, according to a Kokuai dispatch from Tientsin.

Morton County
Morton county, which gave Nestos a lead of almost 250 in the primary, seemed to be running true to form. Two precincts gave Halvorson 512 and Sorlie 214. The same two precincts gave Coolidge a majority the President receiving 466, LaFollette 195 and Davis 73.

Stutsman County
Stutsman county was running strong for Coolidge with returns from 25 precincts giving Coolidge 2,077, LaFollette 1,336 and Davis 272. Coolidge carried the county by about 200 votes over Johnson in the March primary.

Cass County
Thirty three out of the 82 precincts in Cass county gave Coolidge 5,587, LaFollette 1,684, Davis 882 and Foster 13. Twenty eight precincts reporting on governor, give Halvorson 4,351 and Sorlie 1,294.

La Moure County
Coolidge, Halvorson and Hall took early leads in LaMoure county, one precinct giving Coolidge 176, LaFollette 30 and Davis 24. Thomas Hall is running far ahead of Nye for the regular term, Hall receiving 193 votes to 39 for Nye. The same precinct shows Halvorson a favorite over Sorlie. Sorlie, the former gotting 185 votes and the latter only 45.

Morton County
Morton county which gave Nestos a lead of almost 250 in the primary, seemed to be running true to form. Two precincts gave Halvorson 512 and Sorlie 214. The same two precincts gave Coolidge a majority, the President receiving 466, LaFollette 195 and Davis 73. Stutsman county was running strong for Coolidge with returns from 25 precincts giving Coolidge 2,077, LaFollette 1,336 and Davis 272. Coolidge carried the county by about 200 votes over Johnson in the March primary.

TEXAS
Partial returns from 108 towns of Texas (submitted by the Texas election board up to 8:30 p. m.) show President Coolidge 7,798; Davis 34,995; LaFollette 3,025; For Governor, K. O. Butte 20,358; Ferguson, Democrat, 30,100.

ALABAMA
Alabama 108 precincts out of 1,325 Davis 13,483; Coolidge 1,605, and LaFollette 495.

MARYLAND
Maryland 177 precincts out of 1,122, Davis 13,398; Coolidge 18,958; LaFollette 8,023.

TENNESSEE

Heavy Lead in New York
New York, Nov. 4.—Returns received from nearly one third of New York State before 9 o'clock tonight showed that President Coolidge had a 8 to 1 lead over John W. Davis for the Presidency, with LaFollette third. These returns indicated a close race for Governor between Governor Smith, Democratic and Theo. Roosevelt, Republican. The returns for president from 2,412 precincts out of 7,563 in the state including 450 out of 2,370 in New York City showed Coolidge 650,137, Davis 313,646, LaFollette 144,423. In the spirited governorship fight, Roosevelt showed a lead up state while Smith showed a lead up in New York City. Indiana 49 precincts out of 3,416, Coolidge 30,289, Davis 20,945, LaFollette 10,890.

Drift To Davis
St. Louis, Nov. 4.—A notable drift toward Davis was indicated in Missouri on the face of every citizen to vote. He urged them to approach the matter as a sacrament, rather than as a duty. He also quoted from a speech of George Washington praising the part women took in the winning of the Revolutionary War.

Before President Coolidge bid his audience good night, he said good night to his father, listening in Vermont.

Casselton Man Killed, Wife, Small Son, Step-Father, Are Injured

Fargo, Nov. 4.—Clarence McKay of Casselton, near here, was instantly killed and his wife, a small son and step-father are in a Fargo hospital with serious injuries sustained when their automobile was demolished by a Northern Pacific freight train at a crossing at Casselton Sunday afternoon.

There were five passengers in the car, Mr. and Mrs. McKay, a son, Kenneth, two and one-half years old, a baby one year old and Mr. McKay's step father, J. P. Barnes of Wheatland.

Mrs. McKay has a fractured right leg and several bad bruises on her face and body. Mr. Barnes has a fractured left hip, a badly bruised hand and several body bruises. Kenneth's jaw was broken and he sustained several bad body bruises. The baby was the only one that escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred as the car neared the crossing near the electric light plant in Casselton and the noise made by the steam from the plant, it was said, made it impossible to hear the on-coming freight.

Ring-Leader Is Executed

Persian Government Carries Out Sentence

Washington, Nov. 4.—Execution by the Persian government of Seyid Hussien, ring-leader of the mob which killed American vice-consul Imbrie in Teheran, was reported officially to the state department. Another man was executed for the crime at the same time.

DAWES VOTES IN EVANSTON

Candidate Quickly Marks His Ballot at Polls

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 4.—Marking his ballot from a lead pencil from his own pocket instead of the customary blue pencil furnished by election officials, Charles G. Dawes voted shortly before noon in the first precinct of the third ward, Evanston. Mrs. Dawes voted at the same time.

"It did not take you very long to mark your ballot," a friend remarked to Mrs. Dawes as she left the polling place.

"I had it all figured out myself, some days ago, inasmuch as Charles had declined to give me any advice," she answered.

PRESIDENT'S FATHER VOTES
Plymouth, Vt., Nov. 4. Col. John Coolidge, father of the President, was the first to cast his vote when the polls opened in this town, the President's birthplace. Col. Coolidge hitched up his horse and buggy and drove to the voting place, accompanied by his housekeeper. There the ballots were cast in boxes, which were latterly pulled improvised.

"VOTES HER STRAIGHT"
Laurel Valley, N. Y., Nov. 4. John W. Davis voted in Glenn Cove shortly before noon today. His ballot was number 232, and he said when he stepped out of the booth it might be safely assumed he had voted "the Democratic ticket straight." Mrs. Davis accompanied the candidate.

LA FOLLETTE AT HOME
Madison, Wis., Nov. 4.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, independent presidential candidate, went to the state capitol house early today and cast his ballot, accompanied by his sons, Robert Jr. and Philip. Mr. LaFollette will spend the rest of the day with friends and at Maple Bluffs, his farm home, just outside of Madison and receive election returns tonight at the state house.

THREE DIE IN FISHING TRIP

Mystery Surrounds Death of Minneapolis Man

Minneapolis, Nov. 4.—Bodies of three Minneapolis men, who met death while on a fishing and hunting trip, were found by deputy sheriff Sunday at Twin Lakes in Brooklyn Center township, Hennepin county. The dead are:

James M. Dahl, 42 years old, 3901 Queen avenue north, a woodworker.

Aslak Tonstad, 30 years old, 3901 Queen avenue north, a woodworker.

Bernard Hanson, 42 years old, 3838 Russell avenue north, a carpenter.

Dahl's body was found in a boat, Tonstad's body on the shore, face down, and Hanson's body beside the boat, partly out of shallow water. There were evidences of a struggle which came, apparently after their small craft had capsized.

Lungs Are Empty
Dr. Gilbert Seashore, Hennepin county coroner, said death probably was caused by exposure. There was no water in the lungs, he said.

Dr. Seashore, who conducted a post mortem examination of the bodies of Dahl and Tonstad at the county morgue Sunday afternoon, said traces of alcohol were found in their stomachs. Hanson's stomach was not examined.

Dahl is survived by a wife and six children. Tonstad was unmarried. Hanson leaves a wife.

AGED FORMER SENATOR DIES

Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—Cornelius Cole, former United States Senator, 102 years and two months of age, died at his residence here today.

Halvorson Has Good Rest in Bismarck Today

Halvor Halvorson, coalition candidate for Governor, enjoyed a good sleep in Bismarck today, after having spoken at the Auditorium last night. Mr. Halvorson had voted in Minot by absent voter's ballot. He planned to visit friends in Mandan today, and go to Fargo tonight, before returning to Minot.

Mr. Halvorson plainly showed the effects of the strenuous campaign, but his voice was in fair condition, and aside from a weariness that comes from the long grind of speech-making and hard traveling, he was in fine spirits.

Airmail Forecast 50 Years Ago

Berlin, Nov. 4.—Writing in 1874 on the postal service between Europe and the United States, the postmaster general of Prussia said the ultimate solution of the problem would be found in a daily mail service by air across the Atlantic.

INCORPORATIONS

Articles of incorporation filed with the Secretary of State include:

Northern Realty and Securities Company, Grand Forks; capital stock $50,000; incorporators, Edgar A. Berg, Ernest J. Simmons, Raymond O. Gilbert, Clifford Berg, all of Grand Forks.

Oakes Mercantile Company of Oakes; capital stock $50,000; wholesale grocery and fruit business; incorporators, O. A. Leach, R. M. Lunday, W. C. Prebert, H. W. Rife, George F. Reeder, all of Oakes.

PROBE STARTS AS RIOTS IN NILES CEASE

All Military to be Out of the City Tomorrow, Commander Says

Niles, Ohio, Nov. 4.—(By the A. P.)—With peace and order restored here, military, county and city officials today turned their attention to fixing the responsibility for Saturday's rioting between the Ku Klux Klan and the anti-Klanmen, which occurred while Klanmen were parading to parade.

The list of those wounded as a result of the skirmishes remained at 13.

Only a comparatively few National Guardsmen remained on duty. Most of these, Major-General Hough, in charge of the city, positioned under guard of the city police, leaving the city tomorrow after having said that would be home in time to cast their ballots in tomorrow's election.

Investigation into the rioting, which was started by military authorities yesterday was continued today.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Bismarck Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills, and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Bismarck resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. N. E. Reynolds, 417 Mandan Ave., says: "I suffered from pains through my back and kidneys and other symptoms of kidney trouble. My ankles swelled and I found it difficult to get my shoes on at times. After trying several remedies without the least help, I finally got Doan's Pills at the Lehart Drug Co. After using them, all of the trouble disappeared."

Over twelve years later, Mrs. Reynolds said: "I have used Doan's since and obtained prompt relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, get Doan's Pills the same. (Lith. Mrs. Reynolds had Foster Mithun Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y., Adv.)

Remember last winter?
A lot of $18-a-ton heat just circulated around the open basement. Also, a power of soot filtered up through the floor, onto the wall paper and curtains. Stop all that loss and expense by ceiling the basement with Sheetrock—the different wallboard. It makes tight-jointed, cold-proof, sound-proof, dust-proof walls and ceilings—at low cost.

Annual Dinner Is Planned

Plans are being made by the Ft. Lincoln chapter, American War Mothers, and the American Legion Auxiliary, for the annual dinner to be given ex-service men and women of Burleigh county. The dinner will be at 6:45 p. m. Armistice Day, November 11, at the Grand Pacific Hotel. A short program is planned in connection with the dinner.

All men and women who served in the forces of the government during the war are invited to attend the dinner. To enable the organizations to know about how many will attend, ex-service men and women are asked to register their names at Harris and Woodmansee. They are asked to register by the end of this week.

MONDAY CLUB MEETS

The Feature of Gown

Ornate in material but not in line this afternoon gown of ecrusse silk lace over henna-colored charmeuse bordered with flying squirrel in soft brown. A unique effect is gained in the tie, which extends to the hemline, though generously looped up at the waistline. This is an excellent model for the woman of generous build.

ENTERTAINS AT PARTY
Mrs. Austin Reid entertained for a few of her friends, last evening at her home, 224-fourteenth street. The evening was spent in playing cards, honors being won by Mrs. A. Olson and Miss Woodworth. A delightful lunch was served at the close of the evening.

L. T. L. TO MEET
The L. T. L. will hold their regular meeting tomorrow afternoon, November 5, at 4 o'clock at the Baptist Church. Dues will be payable at this time. Mrs. Hughes wishes everyone to have their material for the scrapbooks ready so that work can be started at once.

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in the studies—makes them listless and inclined to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.
Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.
The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nut-like flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable.
Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krambled, to your children to day. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

BUILD UP A RESERVE
The General whose army wins the battles of today is not in command of men. The winning General is the man who commands the most money and who has the largest reserve of credit. When you have ready money and a reputation for ability and honesty, you have proportionate credit at your command.
The easiest, quickest, and surest way to get ready money is to save a part of all you make in this bank regularly.
With this money which you have saved, and your reputation, you can command credit. Then you are in a strategic position—you will place your own limit on the extent of your success.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

NORTH DAKOTA STATE CORN SHOW
With the pre-election campaign ended, the way is opened for a united campaign of constructive effort for North Dakota. With the past season proving what can be done on North Dakota farms, with the state in position to further its own interests, every citizen will be called upon in a united campaign to advertise North Dakota to the world.

One of the most important projects of this nature is the North Dakota Corn Show, which will be held in Bismarck November 12-15. The first state-wide corn show, held here last year, dazzled the eyes of many who had placed North Dakota out of the good corn belt, if not entirely out of the corn belt. As fine corn as is raised in any part of the United States was exhibited. There is every reason to believe that the corn show this year will far exceed the first, both in the number and quality of entries, and in the interest shown.

The corn show has dual value, in promoting the interests of corn growing and diversified farming in the state, on the one hand, and proving to the farmers living in the states of high-priced land that North Dakota offers the best opportunity for a tenant to become a land owner. The advertising from the first corn show penetrated into South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois, and the advertising from the second show will reach farther.

Every citizen of Bismarck and Burleigh county should constitute himself a committee of one to issue invitations to attend the splendid exposition to be held in Bismarck.

WINGS

Like this, runs the evolutionary theory: A fish wanted, for instance, to get out on land and explode. Struggling, it developed fins into flippers like a seal's. Gradually these became legs—like a lizard's. Trying to seize objects ultimately developed fingers.

Or, struggling to fly, fish developed fins into wings. Man learned to fly—so much, he pictured the angels with wings. He didn't wait for wings to grow. Made his own, artificial—the airplane. No longer confined to the ground. It's a freakish step in evolution, is man's joining the birds.

BRAINS

Earthworms have brains—not in their heads, but in their abdomens. Nature Magazine gives this as scientific fact. Sometimes it seems as if the human intellect is in the liver. Sluggish liver, sluggish thinking.

The brain is the central station. But the functioning and quality of intellect are not determined altogether by the brain. The liver and the thyroid and other endocrine glands are of importance beyond estimation.

THYROID

Certain kinds of mentally backward children can, by being fed extract of sheep thyroid gland scientifically, be made normal in intelligence.

What they get from sheep thyroids is a mysterious substance in the nature of iodine. Some endocrinologists even go as far as to suggest that a bottle of iodine contains about everything possible in the way of human thought.

But don't take iodine. It's deadly poison. So is some thought.

LAGGARD

One in every 200 persons in Great Britain is mentally deficient, the minister of health over there claims. He is an optimist.

More than a majority of people in every country are below par intellectually. Some cynics who handle the public even insist that only five out of every 100 people have any intelligence at all—that the other 95 are animated almost entirely by emotions. The success of some movies and fiction makes this theory plausible.

SWEETS

Men are eating more candy than women, according to leading diet experts. The usual explanation is that the sugar in candy is a substitute for pre-prohibition alcohol. One authority claims excess in candy is as injurious to the digestive system as overindulgence in alcohol. Also that the candy habit is as hard to break as the liquor habit. Other experts disagree.

One advantage of having "experts" is that there's nearly always one or more who'll back you, no matter what you think.

EXTRAORDINARY

The axolotl, described as a fish with four legs, the legs equipped with fingers, excites Boston. It was sent from Montana to the Hub's natural history museum. A little imagination suggests that the queer creature is a link demonstrating the workings of evolution. That is presumably correct—even though the axolotl is a salamander or refined lizard, instead of a fish.

MOTORIST

Compulsory auto liability insurance now is in effect in nearly all of Switzerland. As a rule, the auto owner must carry at least $20,000 worth. The laws favor the pedestrian who gets hit. The burden of proof is on the driver. And the car owner has to pay a tenth of the big damages out of his own pocket, and all of the damages up to $25.

They claim it's safe now to cross Swiss roads without running.

WHITHER?

What has become of that German who had "discovered" how to manufacture gold out of the baser metals?

Truly, we live in an age of marvels. (Even though so many of the marvels are never heard of again after the initial announcement.) What'll be the next act in World Vaudeville?

Some wedding rings are around the eyes.

AN EPOCH MAKING DECISION

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The decision of the United States supreme court upholding the right of trial by jury in contempt cases is epoch making. It may be considered one of the most important gains ever made in the history of American labor.

From the time the injunction came into use as a labor device, the union have been fighting it, and more particularly the practice of vesting in the court full authority to impose punishment upon those found in contempt of its rulings. No more effective weapon for breaking a strike could have been placed in the hands of employers than their right to secure an injunction against striking employees taken in connection with the right of the court to sentence to jail those who refused to comply with its order.

The labor provisions of the Clayton act were drawn with the idea of providing jury trial in contempt cases growing out of labor disputes. But the lower courts had long since held that the feature of the act unconstitutional and it had been taken for granted that the supreme court would not find otherwise. But in suits growing out of the shopmen's strike of two years ago the high court now upholds the right of trial by jury in such cases and probably strikes the injunction, as a weapon of strike prevention, a blow from which it will never recover.

From the point of view of good public policy it is hoped that it never will recover. "Government by injunction" and the use of the courts in ways never contemplated when they were created constitute no small portion of the foundation upon which the popular discontent of the last decade rests. It is a hope that the sign that the highest court of the land is more jealous of the right of the individual than it is of judicial prerogative.

WASHINGTON, THE VAMPIRE

New York World (Dem.): The Washington vampire sucks the life out of the states and local communities. Yet the state, the city and the county should be the real training ground and testing ground for statesmen. That's where political life should be keen and active. But the more Washington absorbs the power of the states the more they tend to become mere administrative shells. Who really pays any attention nowadays to a debate in the legislature of Albany?

And on top of this, and in the name of progressivism, comes Senator La Follette with a well-meant but wholly unconsidered proposal to extend indefinitely, and inevitably at the expense of state authority, the legislative authority of congress. In the light of human experience, is Dr. Butler not right in saying that this whole tendency to concentrate and elaborate governmental power is destructive to liberty and deeply reactionary?

Is he not right in thinking that, regardless of where the parties stand, and they stand everywhere, the decentralization of the Federal political power and the reduction of government at Washington is the paramount political issue of our time?

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BASTON

When the King of Yum Yum Land ordered the magic fork and the magic teapot to bring him a meal and set it before him in his hunting-lodge, Nancy and Nick and Daddy Gander looked with all their eyes. It wasn't more than fifteen seconds until clatter, clatter, clatter! back came the fork and teapot with a meal fit to set before a king, as indeed it soon was.

While the peddler in the palace was eating cold mutton and salty potatoes and tough beans and horrible pie, the king in the forest was eating nightingales' tongues and fried goldfish and creamed violets and ice cream of forty colors. But that was only about one-hundredth of it.

If I should tell you all he ate you would never get to bed tonight. Along the road came the cook, hurrying as fast as he could move. "If I can only get the magic fork," he kept saying anxiously, "I shall be able to keep my head on my shoulders. I hope that I can sneak into the hunting-lodge by the back way and get hold of it when the king isn't looking. If I don't get it the peddler will off with my head at sunrise. A pretty mess I made out of things when I made this old peddler King of Yum Yum Land. Small thanks I got for my trouble."

At the same time the peddler (a cross as a bear about the head meal he had eaten) was coming down another road toward the hunting-lodge in the forest. And he was saying to himself, "If I can only get the magic fork back that I gave the king, I'll be fixed for the rest of my life. That cook at the palace is the worst ever! I'm glad I ordered his head off! Why, I had better meals when I was peddling frying-pans and milk-pails. Yes, I'll have to sneak in by the back door and get the fork and teapot when the king isn't looking."

Well, the cook came up tip-toe through the bushes and peeped in one window, and the peddler came up tip-toe and peeped in through another window, and there sat the king eating his goldfish and violets. The cook didn't know it, but he was standing right on the magic dust-pan where the Twins and Daddy Gander had hidden it when they arrived in Yum Yum Land.

Suddenly he had a chance. The magic fork, through with serving, came and settled itself right under the window where he was peeping.

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.
THE GANGSTER.

He reached in his hand and, presto! It was his.

At the same time the teapot settled itself right under the window where the peddler was looking in. Like the cook, he reached in and presto! It was his.

But he saw the cook and the cook saw him and instantly there was a fight.

"Give me that teapot!" cried the cook.

"Give me that fork!" cried the peddler.

And they pumelled each other like good fellows—or I should say, bad fellows.

But everyone knows that a cook can't fight without bread-dough. When a cook gets cross, that's the first thing he throws—dough!

"Oh, if I only had some bread dough!" he thought. And suddenly he had an idea.

"Oh, magic fork, please get some dough."

As you can see, I need it so."

Instantly he began to rise, the cook did, fork, pan and all straight toward the sky. The magic dust-pan was taking him on a journey. (To Be Continued)

SHE FEARS FOR THE HOME

By Albert Apple

The kitchenet apartment is destroying family life and interests, Marie G. Merrill warns the Playground and Recreation Association.

Discussing the old-fashioned home, she says: "Mother was not too busy to occasionally make candy or popcorn, and father and mother were not above playing games which the children could enjoy."

"Nowadays a large percentage of our children live in a place which has not much space between its four walls. They come in at evening time, Mother kills a couple of cans and they have dinner. A door is opened and a bed drops down. Father and mother go out for recreation and the children hunt theirs."

Alas! this is a true picture—but not in as many homes as is often feared. It is temptingly easy to observe a few homes that are such in name only and to jump to the conclusion that these are typical.

Invention, modern industry, high rents, changed customs, the passing of alleys and large yards as playgrounds—all these, indeed, have changed home life.

But the average home, for instance, does not live out of a tin can any more than former generations lived out of glass jars. All cannot afford fresh fruit or vegetables "out of season" and brought from afar. The tin can is a blessing. It is progress.

As regards the folding bed: If anyone prefers the old-time mattress of corn husks and bedsprings of rope, to the modern mattress and steel-coil springs, welcome to it!

And we believe that Willie, building a radio while pa and ma go to a movie, is quite as well off as the old-time youngster who played tiddledeewinks or parcheesi with pa and ma. And there still are plenty of homes where mothers make candy and pop corn.

The modern home has, undoubtedly, lost much. In particular, its outdoor surroundings—large open spaces where youth can frolic and romp in abandon and get plenty of fresh air. The only substitute for these, as long as parents are not wise enough to raise their families in or near the country, is the park or public playgrounds. We cannot have too many of them. Speed the work.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM MARY ALDEN
CONTINUED

Ere this, Leslie, you have probably been told by Mrs. Burke, who seems to keep in close touch with you, that Priscilla Bradford has at last terminated her visit. I am grieved to say that she wore out her welcome. She, too, has disappointed me grievously.

After she had persuaded me that it would be something you would like very much to have us oversee the cleaning and putting in order your apartment, she left the whole matter to the ignorant people she had hired to do the work. I must say that she just about ruined the decoration and floor. However, I believe her intentions were good.

I hope you will exonerate me of any of the blame, for after Priscilla and I had spent one whole day in taking your clothing out of your closet I found myself so tired that I turned everything over to her and did not try to do anything more.

One thing I must tell you about for I expect you have gotten an entirely erroneous idea of what was done about your desk from your supposed friend Mrs. Burke. She acted very disagreeably over that desk I gave you for a wedding present. You will remember that both you and I thought there was a secret drawer in it, and as everything was being torn up I thought it would be a good time to send it to some cabinetmaker and let him try to find the drawer.

Mrs. Burke found out that I had done this from my nurse Mrs. Anderson, whom I think quite overstepped her authority in the matter. She came rushing over to your apartment with that wire from you which peremptorily countermanded my order. The desk intact is now reposing in your morning room, at least it was there when I left for this hotel. I may as well tell you now that as far as I am concerned you will have to get along without knowing whether it has a secret drawer or not. I shall never again pay any more attention to it. I have lost all interest.

You, know by this time that Miss Anderson has left me. The new nurse that my doctor sent me I do not like nearly as well. This woman is not a lady. She contradicts me continually and pays no attention to me when I talk to her for any length of time. She will get up and leave the room right in the midst of one of my sentences.

Miss Anderson called on me yesterday and much to my surprise told me that she would not have left if Priscilla had not always been snooping around and making trouble.

I am very sorry to tell you that Miss Anderson is more than half right, and I am impatiently waiting until you return and dismiss this nurse so that Miss Anderson can come back.

Also when you do return I hope you will make Mrs. Burke understand that she owes me an apology.

Sincerely your mother,
MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.
(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

bring you much happiness and success.

A FOOL cannot look, nor stand, nor walk like a man of sense.—La Bruyere.

USE COLD WATER

If you have a bouquet of roses keep them in very cold water. For that reason a good sized vase is better as the water will stay cool longer than in a small one.

HOT SANDWICHES

Hot chicken or turkey sandwiches are a good way to use up chicken or turkey. They are made by placing slices of the meat between slices of buttered bread or toast and pouring gravy over them.

MY CASTLE

(Florence Barker)

I've a castle filled with treasures,
Found in many distant lands,
I have statues fair and paintings there,
Wrought by Old Master's hands;
I have jewels worthy of a crown,
And lace fit for queens—
Oh, I have a world of wonders,
In the castle of my dreams.

Past within the walls of Somewhere,
On the stream of Bye and Bye,
I can see its turrets rising,
Close against the distant sky;
Through its lofty halls I wander,
While the moonlight sheds its beams,
On each treasured thing of beauty,
In the castle of my dreams.

Could I take you to my stronghold,
You would ask that you might stay,
Where the birds in jorral chorus,
Chant the songs of yesterday;
While the golden light of Fancy,
Like some distant beacon gleams,
Guiding on to scenes of rapture,
In the castle of my dreams.

Oh, the castles of fair Dreamland!
How they seem to fall and rise,
As we draw the nearer to them,
In our swift-winged argosies;
And, oft-times the thief steals off me,
That when we're left earthly scenes,
We shall find welcome waiting,
In the castle of our dreams.

No, it's not a cross-word puzzle. Nor is it a cubistic painting. It's a bird's-eye view of the Pennsylvania Station in New York City.

New York, Nov. 4.—He runs a little electrical shop just around the corner from where I live. The other night I dropped in to buy some bulbs and he told me that he was going out of business. He is going to take a salaried job.

Three years ago his wife, who was 37, ran off with a youth of 19, after being married apparently happily for 17 years. At that time the electrician had a very pretentious establishment. He gave it up for the smaller place in another community, thinking that his effort to build up a new business would bring peace of mind. That failing, he new turns to work for another man so that he will have to keep at work for a certain number of hours each day.

He tells me that in three years he has not slept more than two hours any night and that he has aged 20 years in that time. And that's another of those little stories that can lie next door to you in New York for years without being revealed.

Fannie Hurst called New York "the vertical city." In a few years it will be known as "the pyramid city." Since the new zoning law went into effect a few years ago hundreds of new buildings have gone up, many in the district between Eighth avenue and Broadway and Forty-second and Thirtieth streets. These buildings step back every two stories until the top floor occupies about one-half as much space as the first floor.

At Forty-sixth street and Fifth avenue an auto, dashed up on the sidewalk and pinned a man against its fender. A plate glass window crashed and cut off the man's leg. When a policeman ordered the driver of the car to rush the man to a hospital he answered, "I don't think I ought to get my car all covered with blood."

No sooner had he uttered that noble phrase than a bystander stepped up and smashed him full in the face and gave him a bloody nose.

One of my neighbors was up on the roof, pounding a hole in the wall and disturbing early morning sleep. He was installing a radio aerial.

After a time I heard another neighbor open his window and shout, "Hey! Move that wire so it doesn't dangle in front of my window."

The man on the roof readjusted the wire and remarked, "Now, I guess you'll be happy."

The man below angrily slammed his window shut. The two do not speak now.

The roof of almost every apartment house in New York looks like a harbor for sailing vessels, with its many masts and gearings. All of this exterior paraphernalia is not installed by radio experts. More than one man has fallen out with his neighbor because of crossed wires of their so-called wireless sets. —JAMES W. DEAN.

PUT SAND IN SOIL
If you want geraniums to bloom all winter put them in pots containing ordinary soil mixed with some sand so that the soil will drain freely and yet be light enough to encourage a good root growth.

Do you know how to give an invalid a bath in bed?

Few people do, and yet the possibility of an emergency is always present as Mrs. Jones of Anytown learned when little Billy had been sick for several weeks.

Here are a few handy hints for such an occasion:

Be careful never to administer a bath until some time after a meal. Just before breakfast is considered a good time. Close the windows and be careful not to allow the patient to be chilled. The necessary paraphernalia includes a washcloth for the face and another for the body, a face towel, a bath towel, a cake of soap and some warm water. Put one towel under the patient's head and another under his chin, when washing the face, thus keeping the bed dry. Bring a tin foot-tub, filled with hot water. Wash one arm at a time, drying each before starting on the other. Use the same with the legs. Then the chest and abdomen and turning the patient face down, wash the back. If the patient cannot turn over, try to get him in a sitting position, putting a towel at the base of the spine to keep sheets and mattress from getting wet. Rub with good brisk movement to aid circulation. When the feet are reached, raise them and put them in foot-tub. A brisk alcohol rub at the end of the bath is advised by many.

"DEMONS" WILL MEET VALLEY TEAM FRIDAY

Locals Accept Invitation to Play Title Game in Valley City

Bismarck High School's "Demons" will contest Valley City in the championship of the state high school football championship at Valley City, Minn., on Friday at 2 o'clock. The winner of the game will enter the winner of the Bismarck contest for the championship of state high school football.

The local authorities, authorities of Valley City, to play in Bismarck, next Saturday, but the Valley City management countered with an invitation and a guarantee that the local manager felt able to give for the game. The locals are guaranteed $250.

Bismarck played Valley City early in the season being defeated 20 to 6. The game was played on a muddy field, and it was a green Bismarck team against a veteran Valley City team. The locals have improved so much, in spite of the loss of Ruppert and Hillman, that Bismarck rooters are confident that Valley City is in for a real scrap.

Upshaw of Jamestown will referee, and McArthur will be umpire.

SELECTS KELLY MOST VALUABLE UTILITY PLAYER

By NEA Service

Cincinnati, Nov. 4. Manager Jack Hendrick of the Reds considers George Kelly of the New York Giants the most valuable utility player in the National League, if not the most major organizations.

This line showing of Kelly in the world series, despite the fact that he struck out twice in a pinch in the first game, bears out Hendrick's opinion of him.

Kelly is a great first baseman, a fine target for the infielders. He has a wonderful arm and is a dangerous hitter.

Lifting in at second base in the series when Frisch was moved over to third, Kelly saved the first game by a remarkable play on Goslin. In the outfield he played equally well.

There are few players in the majors who can perform in the infield or outfield as capably as Kelly does.

Billy Evans Says

It is rather surprising that the colleges of the country have never seriously objected to football eligibility rules as enforced at West Point.

A majority of the colleges freshmen are not permitted to play. This makes it possible for an athlete to play only three years of varsity football, provided he has the ability to make the team in his sophomore year.

At West Point no such rules are enforced. As a matter of fact many of the Army's best men are former college stars, who have played their entire three years elsewhere.

For football the athlete of from 22 to 25 is more desirable than the youth of from 18 to 21, all things being equal physically.

The well conditioned athlete of more mature years is much better able to stand up under the grueling that a player must take for 60 minutes of actual playing time.

In any sport other than football the few added years might serve as a handicap but not in the gridiron.

Three of the stars of the 1924 Army eleven won fame elsewhere in the gridiron before receiving an Army appointment. They are gray-beards, veterans, from a football standpoint.

Garbisch, center and captain, one of the best in the country, is serving his eighth year as a varsity player. Prior to coming to West Point he starred for four years at W. & J.

In the backfield Tiny Hewitt, a former University of Pittsburgh player, and Harry Wilson, a sensation with Penn State last year, comprise much of the Army's offense.

It is really surprising that the Army, with this added advantage of using former college stars, does not make a better showing. No institution other than West Point could get away with it without having rival colleges yelling murder.

One of the changes of the football rules for 1924 was the banishment of the "official" ten used in kicking off. So far this rule has not worked out very well from the standpoint of the team doing the kicking.

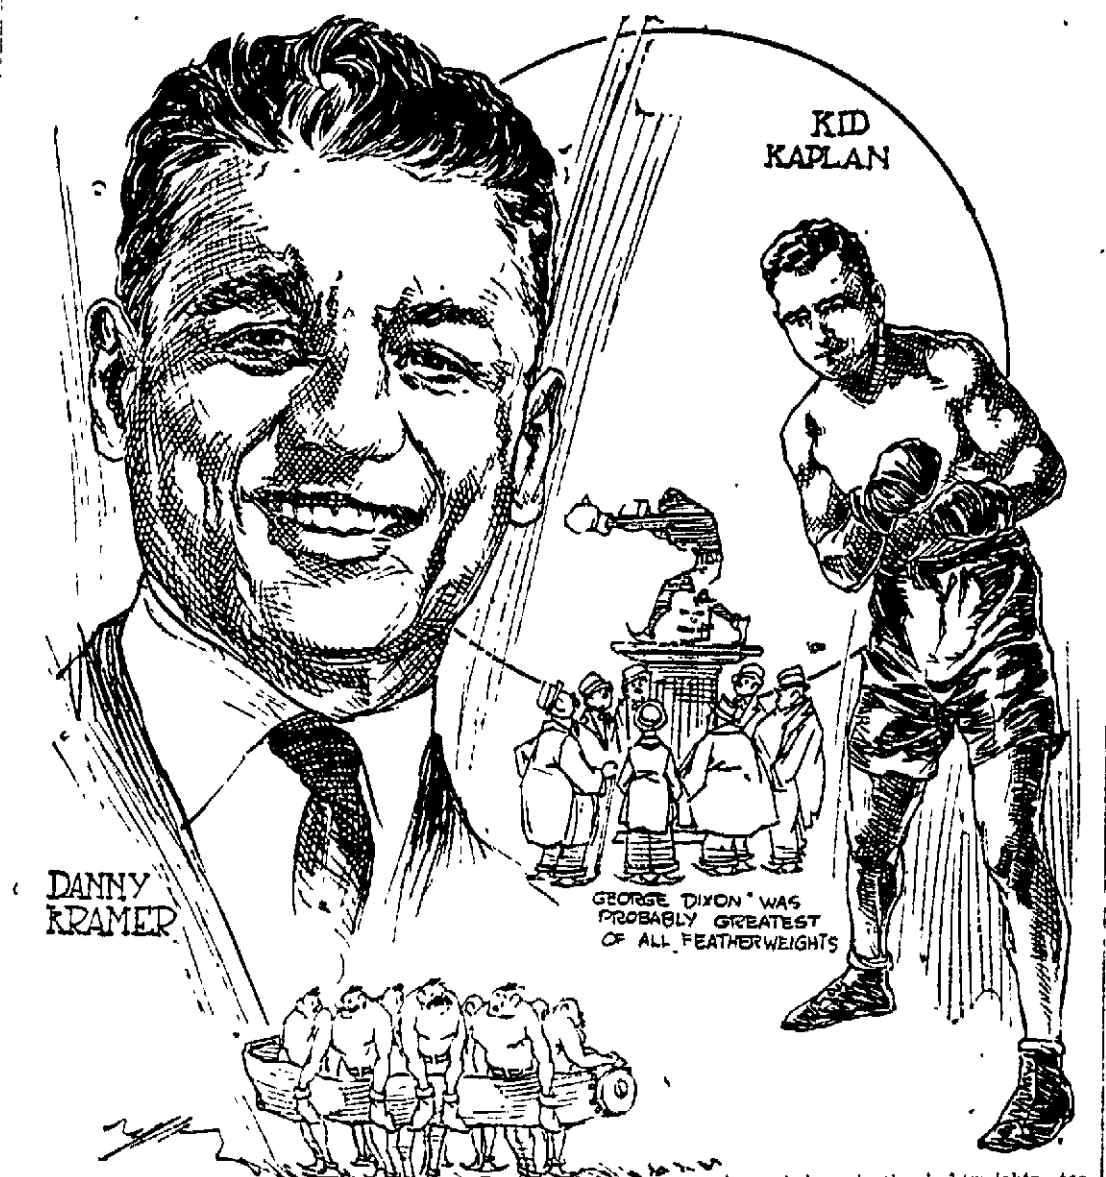

With the use of the ten it was possible to regulate the kick to a certain extent. A high or low ball could be kicked, according to the position of the ball on the tee.

In a recent game I saw at Syracuse with Boston College, not over three good kicks were made in the entire game. Often it was necessary to make a second try.

Without a tee the kicks are inclined to be low and fast, giving the team receiving the ball a decided advantage. It offers a chance for in-

KAPLAN OR KRAMER NEXT CHAMPION

One of These Feathers Seems Certain To Win Dundee's Gift Crown

By Joe Williams

New York, Nov. 4. For the first time since 1914, when Young Corbett and Terry McGovern moved up simultaneously to the lightweight division, the featherweights are with out a digital dictator.

A Jewish boy, one Abraham At-tell, claimed the vacated title then, was matched with Harry Lohr, won by a knockout in five rounds, and was recognized as the champion.

Two Jewish boys are now claiming the title recently outgrown by John-nie Dundee, portly spaghetti addict.

One is Louis Kid Kaplan of New-york, Conn., enderman from Rus-sia, the other is Danny Kramer of Phila-delphia, had-bled product of the Quaker-town street corners.

Mr. Rickard has been crying elo-quently in his conscience because of a dearth of logical opponents. Let him match Kramer with Kaplan, and he will have the next featherweight champion.

McTIGUE ON LONG SHOT AT SPRINGS

By NEA Service

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Miss McTigue, light heavyweight champion, has good reason never to forget Master Charley, sensational "wonder" who is burning up the track these days.

Mike and his summer training at White Sulphur Springs, a few miles from here, together with Jack Brit-ton and B. R. Madden, Mike paid frequent visits to the Saratoga track.

Master Charley was entered in the Hopeful Stakes, one of the feature events of the closing week. Nobody had heard much about him. The field was classed. The opening odds favored Master Charley a 50-to-1 shot.

McTigue had some inside information. A number of fight writers were at White Sulphur Springs at the time watching Luis Firpo train in cham-mock for Harry Wills.

"If you newspaper guys want to get rich get a bet down on Master Charley," advised McTigue.

A checkup revealed a total of $3.00 among seven sports writers, or just enough to buy another bottle of Tum-tum-tum.

Of course the nag won. And Mc-Tigue claimed to be down for $400 worth at opening odds. No wonder he didn't do any fighting last sum-mer!

By NEA Service

Montreal, Nov. 4.—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, who is in line for a fight with Jack Dempsey, de-pends mainly on a left hand.

Renault says he learned the use of this hand from Jack Britton, veteran welterweight.

Renault uses it in much the same way Britton used to shooting it straight to the head and body.

The effect on an opponent is that of being hit by a stick.

It is not a felling punch but a series of them bring total destruc-tion.

Freak Stunts Feature Recent World Series

By NEA Service

Washington, Nov. 4.—No world series ever produced half the un-usual situations that cropped out in the 1924 event. For instance:

Walter Johnson struck out 12 men, yet was beaten 4 to 3 in 12 innings.

Catcher Tate, second string catcher to Muddy Ruel of Washington, was sent to the bat three times as a pinch hitter and drew a walk on each occasion.

Pitcher Marberry of Washington worked in four of the seven games, three of them on successive days. He saved the second game by striking out Jackson for the final out of the contest on three pitched balls.

Pitcher Jonnard of the New York Giants, sent in as a relief pitcher, was allowed to pitch only five balls be-fore being derrieked. He walked the first man to face him on four straight, three one ball to the next batter and then got the gate.

In a pinch in the final game,

English turf followers got their biggest thrill of the season from this sight as Aga Khan's Charley's Mount, paying 100 to 1, romped home first in the Caesars race feature. The favorite in the race was kicked at the post and finished fourth.

ROCKNE'S MASCOT

Notre Dame Coach Isn't Superstitious, But Strong For Terry

Frankie Frisch struck out, Johnson turning the trick. It was his first strikeout in four world series.

Lindstrom, third baseman for the Giants, the youngest player in the series, made four hits in one game off Walter Johnson, the oldest ath-lete.

Goose Goslin, by making three home runs, tied the record that was held by Babe Ruth and made in 1923.

Washington came from behind to win every one of the four games necessary to decide the baseball championship.

With runners on, Walter Johnson in the final game of the series, twice passed Jackson to take a chance on Kelly, striking out the star, first sacker of the Giants each time.

In one game Frankie Frisch robbed Goslin of three hits by making seem-ingly impossible plays on two short fly balls and on grounder.

In only one game did the Giants go through with the pitcher who started. More pitchers were used on both sides than in any other world series clash.

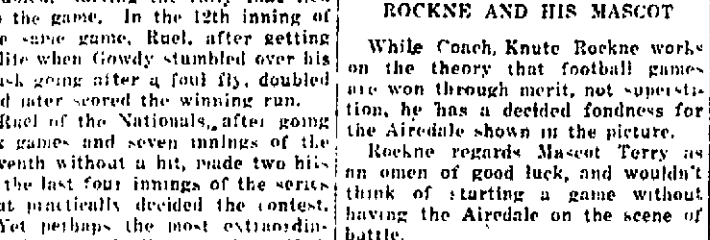

In the final contest two badly bounding balls went over the line, and winning runs for Washington.

Kelly of New York played three positions during the series, first base, center field and second base. He performed in sensational style at each spot.

In the final game a pinch hitter doubled, starting the rally that tied up the game. In the 12th inning of the same game, Ruel, after getting a life when Goslin stumbled over his mask going after a foul fly, doubled and later scored the winning run.

Frisk of the Nationals, after going six games and seven innings of the seventh without a hit, made two hits in the last four innings of the series that practically decided the contest.

Yet perhaps the most extraordi-nary feature of all was that Nick Altrock was serious for the entire series.

ROCKNE AND HIS MASCOT

While Coach Knute Rockne works on the theory that football games are won through merit, not supersti-tion, he has a decided fondness for the Alfrede shown in the picture.

Rockne regards Mascot Terry as an omen of good luck, and wouldn't think of starting a game without having the Alfrede on the scene of battle.

OHIO STATE HAS DEFENSE FOR GRANGE

By NEA Service

Chicago, Nov. 4. While stop-grange is the slogan of every "Hir-Ten" football coach, few have been successful in turning the trick.

Coach Wicks of Ohio State has had more success in building up a de-fense for Grange than any other Western Conference mentor.

In the all-important game at Ohio State last year, which Illinois won by the close score of 9 to 0, the ex-ports of Grange were mighty few and far between.

No doubt Wicks is banking on again

ROCKNE'S MASCOT

Notre Dame Coach Isn't Superstitious, But Strong For Terry

Johnson's home-coming celebration was John J. McGraw.

Whether he realizes it or not, Mr. Rockne of Notre Dame is doing a whole lot to discourage the practice of intersectional football games.

Young Stribling has returned to his book, and we suspect the most important one is his checkbook.

A Mexican heavyweight has arrived in New York. . . . You can tell he is a Mexican heavyweight because his reservation calls for a room without bath.

Returning to France, Epnard is probably convinced the national slogan of this country is, "Excuse my dust."

Gil Doble of Cornell has never had any confidence in his teams and it must please him to know the fans are with him for once.

Dundee is known as the Indian rubber man of the ring. . . . Well, he's managed to stretch his career out longer than most of 'em.

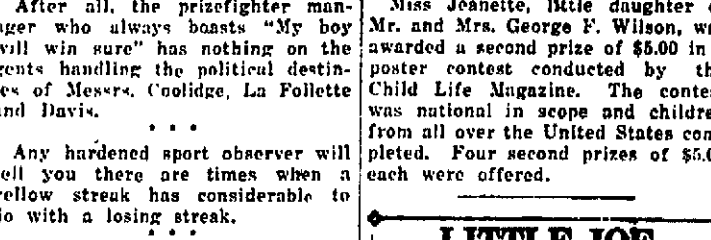

They say no chain is stronger than its weakest link. . . . Mr. O'Goofy wants to know if the same logic applies to country sausage.

After all, the prizefighter manager who always boasts "My boy will win sure" has nothing on the gents handling the political destinies of Messrs. Coolidge, La Follette and Davis.

Any hardened sport observer will tell you there are times when a yellow streak has considerable to do with a losing streak.

Mr. McGraw is sending back post-cards. "Having fine time. Wish you were here." . . . But none of them are going to Rucky Harris or Goose Goslin.

The statistical season can not be considered closed until the official average of the year's fly-swatter champion is announced.
